DAILY CRESCENT.

MELANCHOLY.—We learn from the Fayette (Miss.) Watch Tower, that on the 25th ult. George E. Darden, aged twelve years and seven months, son of Mr. B. M. Darden, of that county, was killed by the accidental discharge of a double-barrelled shot gun, charged with buck shot, and another little boy were in conversation near the gate, before Mr. Darden's house, outside of the enclosure. The little boy who was killed, had the gun in his hands, the end resting on the ground, and the muzzle turned towards his face, when by some means the cap exploded, and the whole load passed through his brains, mangling his skull in a most frightful manner, and killing him instantly.

HEALTH OF THE INTERIOR.—The Hinds county (Miss.) Gazette, speaking of the sanitary condition of portions of the State in the interior, says: "While that dire calamity, the small pox, prevails to some extent, in a number of counties to the North, it is useless to attempt to conceal the fact, that an extraordinary amount of sickness has prevailed in this vicinity for a month or two past, with an unusually large number of deaths among both children and adults. No particular disease, however, has prevailed in this locality, unless it be the dysentery running into flux, which has proved quite fatal; and we do not know that we can say that there is any change for the better."

The Knickerbocker says: "How many one can look at the human foot, composed of one hundred and forty-four bones, any quantity of elastic cartilage, a gill and a half of l
