TREMENDOUS CONFLAGRATION AT CINCINNATI.—On Monday morning, between one and two o'clock, a fire was discovered in the Apollo Buildings, containing Wood's Museum, Hawkins's Daguerrean Gallery, Gundry's Commercial College, several stores, &c., at Cincinnati. The Commercial gives the following as a correct schedule of damages:

The building was owned by J. P. Broadwell, loss $30,000; insured $14,000. The curiosities, fixtures, &c. in the Museum, were owned by J. H. Rice and —— Matson, which were all destroyed, excepting a few. Mr. Rice's loss is $8,500; insured $6,000. Matson's loss $3,000; no insurance. The actors and actresses lost all their most valuable wardrobe, &c., worth near $1,000. E. C. Hawkins, daguerreotypist, immediately under the lecture-room, lost near $1,000; no insurance. Considerable of his stock was saved in a damaged condition. John Grundy, of the Commercial College, lost $500; no insurance. Joseph Cox, Esq., attorney-at-law, had all his books and valuable papers destroyed; loss $300; no insurance. J. B. Nienaber, tailor, on the first floor, loss $15,000; fully insured. Isaac Filley, shirt manufacturer, loss $300; no insurance. M. A. Westcott, boot and shoe dealer, loss $4,000; no insurance. A. U. Hazen, merchant in the corner of the building, loss $10,000; insured for $6,000. George Stackhouse, dealer in china and crockery, loss $7,000; insured for $4,000. Mason & Brothers, hatters, $2,000; fully insured. The store next to Mason's, formerly occupied by Brown & Co., was empty at the time of the fire. Wm. Finley, barber, in the basement, loss $150; no insurance. The building of Moses & Co. was also partially destroyed; loss of building and stock in store, $14,000; insured for $7,000. T. Cella, confectioner, loss $500; fully insured. The building leased by Perry & Hargrave, and occupied by them for the sale of dry goods, was partially destroyed in the rear, which, together with the loss of furniture and some goods, amounted to $500; insured for $100. The Fifth-st. market-house caught fire several times, but was soon extinguished. The total loss will not be far from $100,000. The fire was no doubt the work of an incendiary.

THE BURNING OF TRINITY CHURCH, NEW-ORLEANS.—The Picayune of the 11th, gives the particulars of the destruction of Trinity Church in New-Orleans. The fire, which originated in the church, was undoubtedly the act of an incendiary, and evidences a reckless disregard of consequences, and a daring defiance of the law unsurpassed. It will be remembered that the church property has been lately in dispute between Bishop Blanc and Rev. Mr. Gudiborowsky, and that as to the merits of this dispute the congregation was divided. On the relinquishment of all claim by the priest, Judge Kennedy, a few days ago, decided that the church property belonged to the bishop. It appears that the portion of the congregation favorable to the priest were dissatisfied with this result of the dispute, and met on Wednesday night in the church for the purpose of deliberating on the matter. It was decided by them, and writings were drawn up to that effect, that they would intervene in the suit as parties interested in the church property, and endeavor to appeal to the Supreme Court. Yesterday the opposing portion of the congregation were assembled about the ruins of the church, and considerable excitement prevailed among them. The priest's party contended that the building was fired by those favorable to the bishop, when they saw the determined stand taken by them on Wednesday; while the others maintain that the fire was placed under the altar of the church at the time of the meeting. There were also some who loudly asserted that the grocer, who was of the priest's party, and the priest himself having recently insured the property, indicated something suspicious. We simply give the rumors and mutual crimination current on the ground this morning. Each party contended that their opponents should not be paid the amount of their insurance, and it appears that the priest's intended to contract the bishop's right to the $7,000 for which the church property was insured. Recorder Seuzeneau is actively engaged in investigating the cause of the fire.

FIRE IN WALTHAM.—The mansion house of Philander Ames, Esq., was nearly destroyed yesterday afternoon. The house, with its outbuildings, covered a large space of ground, was of the most thorough and costly structure, and could not have cost less than $10,000. The furniture was nearly all saved, but in a greatly damaged condition. An insurance of $3,500 on the main building had been made a few weeks since at the Charlestown office, and the Worcester office had $1,000 on the adjoining buildings. [Bost. Traveller, 19th.

DREADFUL MURDER IN BURLINGTON COUNTY.—A brutal murder was committed a day or two since near Jobstown, Burlington County, by a man named Stacy Stockton, upon an elderly man named Ridgway, who happened to be passing while Stockton was beating his house-keeper in a violent manner, and who quietly desired him to desist. Upon this, according to an account in the Philadelphia Sun, the enraged man immediately assaulted Mr. Ridgway, knocked him down with his fist, jumped upon him with his feet and beat him in a most shocking manner. He then commenced beating the woman again, and in the meantime Mr. Ridgway had crawled into the road, where he supposed himself secure from further harm. But, no sooner had Stockton satisfied his anger upon upon the woman, than he returned to the assault upon Ridgway with increased vengeance, and seizing a stone or brickbat, he pounded his victim's head until his eyeballs literally protruded from their sockets! The wounded man, unable to help himself, lay weltering in his own blood, until a friend happened to come along and conveyed him home, where he was properly cared for, but he was beyond all human aid, and on Wednesday morning he died from his injuries.

A warrant was issued and Stockton was arrested and committed to the Mount Holly Jail, the prosecuting Attorney, G. S. Cannon, refusing bail; but yesterday, as we learn from the Freeton papers, he was brought before Chief Justice Green who ordered him to be liberated on giving bail in $20,000 for himself, and two sureties each in $10,000, and he was remanded until the bail is procured. It may be inferred from this that the statements as to the unprovoked nature of the outrage may be exaggerated. [Newark Advertiser.

ATTEMPTED MURDER AT WATERTOWN, WIS.—We learn from a gentleman of Watertown, that an attempt at murder was made near that village on Saturday evening last. Mr. Farewell, a money lender from Vermont, while on his way to his boarding house, about ten o'clock on the evening named, was shot by some person to him unknown, the ball entering his forehead directly above one eye, and penetrating the head some two inches. Mr. F. was alive on Sunday evening, but it is thought he cannot recover. He had about $230 in his pocket, which was secured by the assassin. A young man who has been in the village of Watertown a few weeks, a painter by trade, and who has passed by the name of Brown, though that is now ascertained to be an assumed name, was arrested on Sunday evening, but the result of the examination was not known at three o'clock yesterday morning. Circumstances were strongly against the prisoner. [Milwaukee (Wis.) Sentinel, July 15.

LIBERTY OR DEATH.—The Friend of Youth tells this story of a fugitive slave: Many winters since, when the Ohio river above Cincinnati had been for some time closed, a sudden thaw brought down the ice in large quantities, forming a gorge opposite the mouth of the Licking. For some days the ice was so firm as to admit of free passage by pedestrians, but at length it became soft and porous, and in some places disappeared beneath the surface of the stream. The passage was now considered unsafe, and had not been used for several days, when one evening, near twilight, a poor fugitive hard pressed by her pursuers, rushed down the bank of the Kentucky side, and plunged fearlessly into the dark mass of ice and turbid water. A child of two years old, thrown across her shoulders, clung to her neck, leaving both her hands free to aid in the fearful struggle.

For a moment she paused, before her rolled the angry river, chafing against the masses of ice that obstructed its course, every moment sweeping away broken fragments, and rendering the passage more perilous; behind her, close on her track, were her merciless foes, with eager gestures and loud threats, warning her not to proceed. She heeded them not. Better perish in that dark mass of waters than live a slave. Her child, the only tie that bound her to life, clung to her neck, and she felt that it were better to die thus than return to hopeless bondage. On the dauntless woman rushed, each step a struggle for life, sinking to her knees in water, as the frail ice bent beneath her weight, and breaking off as she sprang forward, was swept away by the flood. On, still on, she pressed, leaving at each step an impassable gulf between her and her pursuers. She reaches the shore—she is safe! her enemies were completely foiled. A boat would have been crushed in a moment in the whirling masses of ice, and they stood baffled and irresolute, hoping that some kindred spirit on the opposite side would seize her as soon as she landed. But no! those who under ordinary circumstances have no pity for the slave, were softened at the sight of that weak woman venturing where even the strong heart of man might well quail, and staking life against the hope of freedom. She was protected and sped onward to a land of liberty, where she with her child found a refuge.

SLAVE CASE IN PHILADELPHIA.—A colored woman, named Matilda, was yesterday brought before Judge Kelley on a habeas corpus. The writ was sued out by some of the members of the Anti-Slavery Society of this city. It appeared that the woman came to this city with Mrs. Augustine Swaine, from the State of Louisiana, where she was held in bondage. She belonged to the estate of which Mrs. S. is the representative. There was no denial of the facts alleged by the relators, and the parties were agreeable to whatever action the Court, under the laws of this Commonwealth, would take in the premises. Judge Kelley informed Matilda, that under the law of this State she was free; she could go where she pleased, being no longer under the control of her owners. If she thought proper, she could make any arrangements with her former mistress to render her future service as she might think best for her own welfare. [Phila. Ledger, Sat.

NO MARRYING ALLOWED IN IOWA FOR THIRTY DAYS.—We are informed that under the new code, which went into effect on the 1st inst., marriage licenses can be issued only by the County Judge—and that during the time which must elapse from the taking effect of the law and the electing of a Judge—a month off yet—no provision whatever has been made, authorizing the Clerk of the District Court, as heretofore, to make out the necessary "documents." This is a joke "as is a joke," and one which will probably be felt as a pretty serious one in some quarters. If, however, parties cannot wait, and prefer to have the law on their side, they have the opportunity of crossing over into the State of Missouri, Illinois or Wisconsin, against which privilege, we believe, the new code, in the haste of preparation, neglected to provide. [Burlington Telegraph.

THE FRANCHISE QUESTION AT THE CAPE OF GOOD HOPE.—Notwithstanding the fearful war that is raging at the Cape of Good Hope, party spirit among the Colonists is greatly embittered. Rev. Mr. Renton having by his course become obnoxious to one party, was mobbed in his hotel by a large crowd, who broke in the windows and threatened personal violence. The Franchise question promises trouble. It is proposed that every person who has property to the amount of £25, improved by himself, shall have a vote. If the suffrage was universal, the colored population would have a majority; but by the proposed plan it is thought that there will be 18,000 European and 5,000 colored voters. It is predicted, however, that even with these restrictions, the colored people will soon have the balance of power, and finally the preponderance. [Bost. Trav.

A HORSE FRIGHTENED TO DEATH BY AN ELEPHANT.—A very remarkable case of the effects of frihgt upon a horse occurred in Franklin a short time since. A horse belonging to Mr. Palmer was grazing in the yard near the fence, when the elephants belonging to the menagerie recently in this city, were passing along. The horse did not observe them till they were quite close to him, when, looking up and seeing the huge animals, he started back in a fright, ran to the opposite side of the yard, stood for a moment quivering, and then dropped dead. He was literally frightened to death. [Norwich (Conn.) Aurora, July 18.

EXCHANGE OF BABIES.—The Alleghany (Pa.) Enterprise tells of a singular occurrence which took place a day or two since, at the house of Mr. Collins, on the Franklin Road, about 14 miles out. A young girl of genteel appearance entered the house with an infant in her arms, and asked for a drink, upon which Mrs. C. started to the spring for fresh water, leaving an infant of her own in the cradle.—On her return the stranger had very mysteriously departed, and in about an hour afterwards discovered, to her horror and surprise, that her own child had been taken from the cradle, and a colored one left in its place. Nothing has been heard of them since.

TOBACCO IN ONONDAGA.—The Syracuse Journal states that the cultivation of Tobacco has been undertaken there to considerable extent—a thousand acres being devoted to that plant. It wears at present a very promising appearance, and the weather has been favorable for its growth. The tobacco lands are principally located in the towns of Salina, Clay, Manlius, Pompey, Skaneateles, and Marcellus. There are about 200 acres in the vicinity of Liverpool, where the soil seems to be well calculated to grow this crop—a warm, quick, sandy loam. Heretofore it has been yielding a very handsome profit—about $100 to the acre. The land requires heavy manuring yearly, and the investment for sheds to dry the tobacco in is considerable.

QUAKERS FOR LIBERIA.—The Boston Journal of Friday says: There was quite a gathering at the depôt in New-Bedford this morning, to witness the departure of Eli and Sybel Jones to Liberia. They go out in the capacity of Elders or Preachers, and they intend to pass some time in Liberia, and also in visiting other places on the coast of Africa. They are said to be the first American Quakers who have ever visited Africa for the purpose of preaching peace, love and good will. They go out under the direction and support of the Society called "Friends." They have letters of introduction to President Roberts from Hon. Henry Clay, Bishop Waugh, and other distinguished friends of the cause, and are expected to sail from Baltimore in the Liberia packet on Sunday next.

FORGERIES IN LOUISIANA.—Two forgeries have lately been perpetrated in the Parish of Rapides, La. One purporting to be drawn by Chas. H. Flower, Esq. planter, for $3,650, dated in October last, and payable to C. C. Preston; and the other to have been drawn by Mrs. Coashte Dark, in favor of a Mr. H. D. Robinson, for $498 58, payable on the acceptance of A. Miltenberger, which was successfully passed upon him, and received his acceptance.

CONNECTICUT.—The people of Litchfield County will have a grand Centennial Celebration at Litchfield, on the 13th and 14th of August. An Address is to be delivered by Judge Church, of that County; a Poem by Rev. John Pierpont, and a Sermon by Rev. Dr. Bushnell.

KIDNAPPING.—The Marlboro' Gazette says a white man was arrested at Bladensburg a few days ago, accused of kidnapping a negro man who was in company with him, and who is said to belong to a Mr. Lyons of Charles County. The white man and the negro are both confined in jail.

☞ The crops in New-Hampshire and Vermont are looking finely. The burden of grass very heavy; English grain better than for ten years past; Indian corn backward, but will come in well if the Autumnal frosts hold off; potatoes never looked better. All this, considering the cold June, is far better than was anticipated. [Bost. Traveller.

FEMALE LECTURER.—The Reading (Pa.) Journal speaks quite favorably of Mrs. Buckley, a female lecturer who recently visited that place. She appeared in the new costume, and was greeted by a large and intelligent audience, who were so well pleased with her lecture as to desire its repetition.

☞ W. L. FALMER is our agent in SYRACUSE for the sale of The Tribune.

☞ Messrs. ROWE & Co., PROVIDENCE, will serve The Tribune in that city on the arrival of the morning train of cars.

☞ T. H. PEASE and EDWARD DOWNS supply The Tribune in NEW-HAVEN on the arrival of the morning train of cars from New-York.

The Lockport and Niagara Falls Railroad has finally suspended operations. Workmen are now engaged tearing up the old track, preparatory to grading and laying down the new rails.

The Directors of the Northern Railroad have resolved to put the first two sections of that Road under contract, extending to Cohoes.

The closeness of Money matters in the Boston market is easier. The Traveller says: The balance with New-York is in our favor, and will remain so until specie is returned from thence. A large amount of paper matures in New-York the last of July, and in August, belonging to Boston, greatly exceeding the amount of collection held here on New-York account. This difference will be taken in coin.

The annual meeting of the Sullivan Railroad Company was held in Charlestown, Mass., on Tuesday. The capital stock of the Company paid in is $500,000. The total direct cost of the road is $883,278 54, and the aggregate expenditure, including other sums, is $1,142,126 82, which is charged to the construction of the Road. The total amount of debts and liabilities of the Corporation is $718,127 04. The available means are $46,500 89; leaving the amount of liabilities $671,626 15. The receipts of the Road for the year ending July 1, 1851, were $54,776. The expenditures for the same period were $27,816 60. Hon. Charles Thompson has been re-elected President.

The Philadelphia Money Market continues stringent. The State Treasurer has given notice that the extension of time to the 30th inst. for the payment of the State Tax, with the usual 5 per cent. is only applicable to the City and County of Philadelphia.

The total receipts from freight and passengers on the Cleveland, Columbus and Cincinnati Railroad for the month of June were over $47,000. This is at the rate of near $600,000 per annum, and will give 10 to 12 per cent. net earnings on the Capital Stock.

The Cincinnati Times speaks of an important railroad movement in Ohio, having for its object the construction of a continuous line of railway from Pittsburgh to Cincinnati, without crossing the Ohio River, and on a new route. This object is to be effected by uniting a Company, organized at Mount Vernon, to make a road from the Ohio and Pennsylvania Railroad, at its southern bend near Londonville, to Columbus, via Mount Vernon, and a Company at Springfield, where the Little Miami Railroad terminates, to make a road from that point to the Pittsburgh road. The line will be about 110 miles long, commencing near Londonville, and running by Mount Vernon, Delaware and Marysville to Springfield. At Mount Vernon the road will cross the Columbus and Lake Erie road, at Delaware, the Cleveland and Columbus road, and at Springfield, 80 miles from Cincinnati, the road will connect with two lines leading to that city, giving its passengers a choice of routes by the valleys of Little and Big Miami.
