☞ Foreign Shawls and Cloaks.—Most important sale of real India, Cameels' Hair and French Cashmere SHAWLS, SCARFS, Canton Crape Do., and superb Paris Embroidered and Plain Velvet CLOAKS, &c., commencing WEDNESDAY, 10th inst., being the entire stock of a highly distinguished and fashionable house in Paris, amounting at cost price to upward of seventy-five thousand dollars.

The proprietor of the PARIS CLOAK EMPORIUM, No. 351 Broadway, respectfully announces that he has just received from his Parisian Agent the above consignment of valuable merchandise, which he is instructed to submit to absolute and unreserved sale; and which, having been purchased at a discount of forty-seven and a half per cent. from the original cost, he is enabled to offer at such EXTRAORDINARY BARGAINS as must effect a total and immediate clearance. The late owners of this valuable property (having lately retired from the mercantile world in consequence of the death of the managing partner) have long been celebrated as Leaders of Fashion in the French metropolis. The articles may therefore be relied upon as being of the very first and most fashionable description, and entirely new. It being impossible to convey, in an advertisement, an idea of the extent and cheapness of this stock, the following brief enumeration must suffice as an index to the whole.

SHAWLS.—500 French Cashmere Long Shawls of the most elaborate designs and richest colorings, from $20 to $30—would cost to import, in the ordinary way, from $40 to $55; 230 very superb do., from $25 to $40; 300 richly embroidered Canton Crape Shawls, from $15 to $25; 480 very rich and heavy do., from $25 to $40; 320 superb do. do., from $30 to $55; several India Camel's Hair Scarfs and Shawls, of great rarity, from $20 to $500.

CLOAKS.—125 very superb embroidered Velvet Cloaks, from $30 to $65; 300 very handsome plain do., with deep, heavy fringes, from $24 to $35; 230 Lyons Velvet Circulars and Talmas, from $20 to $40. With a view to making entire sale of his own stock of Cloaks previous to the 1st of January, the proprietor has also submitted them to a reduction in accordance with the above. Thus: All the fine Saxony Cloth Circulars, former prices $18 to $25, now reduced $14 to $18; all the fine Cloth Pompadours, former price $14 to $20, now reduced $11 to $15; 1 000 French Merino, Cloth and other Fashionable Cloaks, former prices $12 to $36, now $7 to $30. A miscellaneous lot of Cashmeres and Silk Mantillas and Cloaks, (now reduced one-half,) will be sold at from $3 to $8 each, together with Misses' Sacks and Cloaks, Opera Cloaks, &c., at equally reduced prices. Observe, the whole must be sold previous to the 1st of January. GEORGE BULPIN,
