Those ladies and gentlemen who have not yet signed the Articles of Association, are requested to call and do so forthwith, to avoid further notification. The subscription list, though filling up rapidly, is not yet full—and it would be well for those intending to join this Society, to do so at once, as they will thereby avoid the inconvenience of paying the back dues, which they must do in becoming members after the Association has been in operation. Those who have not yet seen a Prospectus can procure one gratis, and all requisite information, at the office, in the book-store of Adriance, Sherman & Co., No. 2 Astor House. Entrance fee, $1. A. H. The True Principles of Association.—The following outline, embracing some of the principal features of the plan of the CHELSEA MUTUAL LOAN AND INVESTMENT FUND ASSOCIATION, is respectfully submitted:
First: The rate of premium is permanently fixed at $50, on a share of $250.
Second: Members redeeming shares pay an interest of 7 per cent only on the amount loaned, reducing thereby their interest from year to year.
Third: Members can redeem their mortgaged premises at any time by paying all demands against the same.
Fourth: Members can withdraw from the Association, upon giving one month's notice.
Fifth: Applications for loans are placed on file, and taken up and considered in the order as to the time in which they were made.
By the above plan the excitement of the auction system of selling shares, and which makes the premiums so enormously high, is entirely obviated. Another important feature is, that a member can repay his indebtedness as fast as his circumstances will admit, thereby reducing his principal and interest yearly; and when he has paid back the amount he has borrowed, with interest, his papers are canceled. Articles of Association can be obtained by calling at the Office of Association at any time during the day or evening until 10 o'clock, or of either of the undersigned officers.

An Extraordinary Book.
PUBLISHED THIS DAY,
THE APOCRYPHAL NEW TESTAMENT.
Being all the Gospels, Epistles and other pieces now extant; attributed in the first four centuries to
JESUS CHRIST,
His Apostles and their Companions, and not included in the New Testament by its compilers. Translated and collected into one volume, with Prefaces and Tables and various notes and references. Price 50 cents.
This work, as its title denotes, contains all of the Gospels, Epistles and other Pieces, now extant, which were rejected by the Council of Nice, when engaged in the responsible task of compiling the New Testament. It cannot, therefore, fail to prove highly acceptable to every mind interested in the Gospel. No family Bible is considered complete, unless it contains the Apocrypha to the Old Testament. Why should not the Apocrypha to the New Testament be deemed equally important and interesting? That it is so, and that it should be universally read, will be acknowledged by every dispassionate person who calmly and reasonably reflects upon the character of this volume. There is nothing in it contradictory of those truths which have been accepted as revealed; on the contrary, every chapter and verse go to confirm the undoubted writings of the Apostles and Evangelists.

The papers of which these volumes consist are in number nineteen, and in character very miscellaneous. In most of them wit and humor are the prevailing features, but all of them display a keen sense of the ridiculous and a hostility to humbug, a penetrating insight into the wheels by which men and the mixed world around the author are moved, and a thorough dislike to the foibles and vices he hesitates not to lash and expose.
