DEMOCRATIC PRINCIPLES and Measures.

A strict construction of the Constitution, and no assumption of doubtful powers.

A Diplomacy, asking for nothing but what is clearly right and submitting to nothing wrong.

No connexion between the government and banks.

An ad valorem revenue tariff.

No public debt, either by the General Government or by the States, except for objects of urgent necessity.

No assumption by the General Government of the debts of the States, either directly or indirectly, by a distribution of the proceeds of the public lands.

No extensive system of internal improvement by the General Government, or by the States.

A constitutional barrier against improvident State loans.

The honest payment of our debts and the sacred preservation of the public faith.

A gradual return from a paper credit system.

No grants of exclusive charters and privileges by special legislation, to banks.

No swindling corporations.

No connexion between Church and State.

A preference for democrats over whigs for every office.

Acquiescence in the rule of the majority in all cases of party discipline.

No proscription for honest opinions.

Fostering aid to public education.

A "progressive" reformation of all abuses.

NEVER DESPAIR.—'Never despair' is the advice of the portly millionaire, buttoning up his pockets, and addressing a shivering mendicant. 'Never despair,' says the prosperous banker, through his buttery cheeks, to the ruined bankrupt merchant. 'Never despair,' says the flourishing man to his less fortunate neighbor. It is a golden battle-cry in the struggle with life: but while all appreciate, few have the courage to shout it. 'I will not despair, is a declaration easier made than verified. We remember of one instance of two unfortunates, kicking care and despondency to their progenitor, the evil one, and doing so with success. As thus:

Two decayed young men of spirit, who had been chased into a gallop, all the way from the Mississippi to the Hudson river, arrived in New York one rainy Sunday morning in December. They were landed from a boat in which they had worked their passage, and sat down upon the end of the wharf.

'What shall we do for lodging?' inquired one.

'Don't know—do you?'

Shabby and dirty, they strolled along Broadway until they reached a mean looking drinking shop. Here they entered, imbibed their last sixpence in beer, and commenced reading the papers.

'Ah!' exclaimed one, as his eye glanced over the advertisements, 'twenty-five dollars are offered for the best New Year's address for the carriers of this paper; all the competitors to hand their effusions in by to-morrow.'

'Well!' said the other listlessly.

'I'll try for the prize.'

'You!'

'Even I. Landlord can you lend me a few sheets of paper, and pen and ink?'

The required articles were furnished, and the scrivener worked in silence four long hours: at the end of which time he shouted 'It's done!'

'Read it,' said his companion.

The matter was read and approved. It was carried to the office. The couple walked the streets all night, and a greater portion of next day, until the time for the decision affecting the award of the prize. The needy man entered the sanctum of the great committee, and emerged into the street the possessor of $25. Twenty were saved, while five were devoted to the payment of a week's very common board. The balance was invested in a very humble business—the book business—on a slender scale. It was prosperous; the light-hearted, but thinly clad couple were permitted to reap the reward of unflagging industry and unconquerable perseverance. It is seven years since the event we have narrated occurred, and now the firm is as well known as can be.

A despairing man it unfitted for successful intercourse with the world. He who cannot overthrow difficulties, nor combat with dangers which 'retreat when boldly they're confronted.' When reverses engender despair, and beget the gnawings of despondency, the victim is fit for criminal depredations, suicide. Every one's motto should be—if constitutional peculiarities will permit—'Never despair!'—Noah's Sunday Times.

CURIOSITIES.—Some smoke from a heated imagination. Piece of rope from a news (noose) boy. Rod for a bad headache. A hair from a melancholy tale. Chair in which the sun sets. A garment for the naked eye. Brass nails from an elephant's trunk. Gravy from the stake which the man doubled. Cab in which the scholar parsed. Penknife used by the pig to mend his pen. Hammer which broke up the meeting. Hair from the mane point. Hoofs from a horse chesnut tree. Sheet of paper from a church quire. Sugar for the whine of a dog. Buckle to fasten laughing stock. Whip with which the man lash time. Grimace made by the boy when he plays the organ. The animal that drew the inference. Great coat for a cold reception. Gravy from a meat-eor. Horse from the human race. Needle to mend your manners. Leaves from a hat-tree. Flags from a nest of thieves.

"Shopkeepers is not enough thought of," said Mrs. Partington, after having been out making some purchases. "How they do toil and how they suffer! one dear pretty young man, with a nice black coat on and a gold chain and a starched collar with a carrivan on his neck, told me with tears in his eyes that he was selling to me less than he gave for it, and I bought it out of pity, though I knowed I could get it for five cents a yard cheaper next door. Talk about Moses being executed on one string, indeed! These poor creturs are Rogerses, every one of 'em by the yard stick, and are all the time a dying." There's a constant flow of the milk of compassion in her breast—inexhaustible—like the purse of the gentleman in the story, the more that is taken from it the more remains.—Boston Post.

Horace Greely says: "The time is not far distant when the city merchant whose rent costs him more than his advertising, will be universally regarded as one who don't understand his business, and will not long have any business to understand."

☞"One thing I have noticed in all great surgical operations," says Doctor Peale, "they are always followed by a post mortem examination."

IT ALWAYS CURES.

SMITH'S Tonic Syrup or Vegetable Febrifuge, for the speedy and radical cure of Fever and Ague, or Chills and Fever. The proprietor in offering this remedy to the public, does so with full confidence that its results will sustain him in pronouncing it one of the most valuable medicines ever offered to the public as a speedy and effectual cure for the Ague and Fever or Chills and Fever.

Its composition is very simple, being entirely of Vegetables, and it does not contain anything which would render its use in the least unsuitable as a popular medicine.

Combining with its powerful and general tonic properties, a Cathartic and Sudorific action, it can be used with perfect safety without any preparation of the patient in the commencement of the attack. It corrects and prevents the bilious excitement which usually attends and so often secrets in the early use of quinine and the other remedies, in the treatment of Ague and Fever or Chills and Fever. In the proper dose it acts as a mild laxative, and encourages a natural and healthy action of the bowels, whilst at the same time it gives tone to the stomach and promotes a general healthy action of the digestive organs, and thus in medically weakened habits restores the system to strength and vigor. In Costive and Bilious habits, it sometimes acts as an Emetic and Cathartic (particularly when given in large doses) and thus clears at the same time both stomach and bowels—and promotes a profuse perspiration.

In fever, generally, it will be found a most valuable Tonic, for whilst it gives tone to the system, its Diaphoretic and Laxative properties guard the patient from the production of Fever.

To all whom it may concern.

Dr. M'Lane's Liver Pills.

Messrs. J. Kidd & Co.—This is to certify that my wife has been afflicted for several years, with the following pains at periods more or less:—Pain in the right side, about the edge of the ribs, extending to the right shoulder; pain in the back part of the head and above the right eye, accompanied by weakness, loss of appetite, and almost constantly confined to her bed. Since August she has used three boxes of "M'Lane's Liver Pills," and I have now to state, that by the use of these Pills, she has been benefitted in no ordinary degree. Under the Providence of God she now enjoys good health, and is now able to attend to the domestic concerns of my family. JAMES STEWART.

DR. M'LANE'S VERMIFUGE!

Paris, Ky., March 3, 1847.

Messrs. J. Kidd & Co.—Gents.—In the month of July last, a Mr. F. Merryweather, of Cincinnati, appointed me agent for this place, for selling Dr. M'Lane's highly improved Medicine, and the motive that prompts me, an entire stranger, to write this letter to your house, is to inform you, that the inhabitants of this town and county, generally, have given the Vermifuge of Dr. M'Lane a fair trial in their families, and pronounce it to be, without an exception, the very best Worm Medicine ever offered to those afflicted with worms.

The high estimation in which the Vermifuge is held in this community has induced me to purchase it in future from you, or your Agent, and you will oblige me greatly by writing, by return mail, your cash price for the Vermifuge by the gross.

Very respectfully yours, J. C. SNYDER.

HOWE'S HYGEAN HOARHOUND AND LIVERWORT COUGH CANDY.

THIS celebrated Candy is now the most popular of all remedies for the cure of Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, Bronchitis, Sore Throat, Phthisic, and general affections of the Chest and Lungs. In all the above cases it is known to have afforded decided and permanent relief, which accounts for the rapid sales of the COUGH CANDY. We are now selling two thousand packages per week in the Western States. This is enough to convince the public, that it is just the article it is represented to be for curing. We do not say it will ever cure all diseases, but no person that has ever used the Candy for diseases of the Chest and Lungs, will say it done them no good. Circulars containing certificates and opinions of the press concerning the Candy have been issued, which we respectfully request all persons to read.

We warrant a cure for the above diseases in all cases, and challenge any person in the United States to produce a better, cheaper, and more effective remedy.

A liberal discount will be allowed to country purchasers and others who purchase for cash to sell it on commission.

Sold by the principal Druggists in every city in the United States, and by the proprietors HOWE & CO.,

Death from a Slight Cold.

By neglecting those salutary precautions which common sense dictates, many, very many, fall victims to their impudence. We have seen the young bride, blooming as it were, as the bird of Paradise and the fair flower of hope, the pride of her father and the joy of her mother—her cheek flushed with anticipation, and her eye beaming with the soft expression of love—the gay dreams of life dancing on her fancy with, the rich and variegated tint of the rainbow's promise. We have seen all this changed—aye, the wedding garment for a shroud and the bridal chamber for this sepulchre of the dead; and all this from neglecting a common COLD. Now, before it is too late, use DR. ROGERS'S LIVERWORT AND TAR, which gives immediate relief as thousands of our most intelligent families now admit of its most extraordinary cures. The gay, the young and the beautiful, and the young speak forth its praise, and will so long as it makes positive cures, and cheers the despairing family fireside.

Those afflicted with diseased lungs should call on Owsley & Co., and see the certificates of such men as Dr. Wm. J. Richards, Judge William Burse, and Dr. Hiram Cox, late Professor in Cincinnati Eclectic Medical College. 45 tch

New Hat and Cap Warehouse.

16 East Fourth street, between Sycamore and Main,

CINCINNATI, OHIO.

GEORGE SMYTH,

PROPRIETOR, begs leave to inform the public, that he will open his fashionable Hat and Cap Warehouse, at 16, East 4th street, on Wednesday the 1st of September, and respectfully invites Gentlemen to examine his Fall style of Hats and Caps. Being a practical Hatter, with many years experience in some of the best and most fashionable metropolitan houses in the country, he relies with confidence on his ability in the production of a class of goods, which for taste and elegance cannot be surpassed by any similar establishment in the United States.

His prices are far lower than anything of the kind that has ever been offered in the West, and his claims to public patronage he is willing to rest on the superiority of his goods.

The following are his standard prices, from which there will be no abatement:

First quality superfine Mole skin Hat, the very best made, $4 00
Second, do. - - - - - 3 50
First quality Nutria Furor Beaver Hat, - - - 4 00
Second, do. - - - - - 3 50

In his stock will always be found a large assortment of low priced hats which will be sold very cheap. A great variety of Ladies' riding hats.

Gentlemen's, Youth's, and Boy's Caps of the most fashionable style and richest material. Carpet Bags, Umbrellas, Life Preservers, &c.

N. B. Country Merchants will find it advantageous to examine this stock, for the proprietor is concerned he can sell at lower prices than the same class of goods can be purchased in the West.

BOOK AND JOB PRINTING.

Douglass & Elder.

WOULD respectfully inform their friends and the public, that they have purchased the office formerly occupied by E. Chamberlain, and more recently by the Indiana Democrat, for the purpose of carrying on the above business. Having a large assortment of Job type, to which are being added all the new and fashionable types now in use in the cities, they are prepared to execute all kinds of Plain and Fancy Jobs with neatness and dispatch.

They take the liberty of saying to individuals and societies who intend publishing original or other works, that in no city in the West can they be better accommodated. In addition to their own extensive preparations for Book work, they feel warranted in assuring the public of the excellent style in which binding is executed and paper manufactured, and also the skill and enterprise which marks the bookselling in our growing city.

They hope that by prompt attention to business, and the accurate, neat and faithful execution of all work which may be committed to their hands, to receive a liberal share of the public patronage.

Their office is on Washington street, in Blake's Building, opposite Browning's Hotel.
