MUSIC—VOCAL AND INSTRUMENTAL.

MR. PEARSALL returns his grateful acknowledgments for the very liberal patronage extended to him in his profession of teacher of music, since his location in Indianapolis.

The increase in the number of pupils obliges him to change his arrangements so far as to give two lessons in each week, instead of three.

He has procured a superior piano for the accommodation of such as wish to make some proficiency, before purchasing one, or persons residing at a distance. This piano will be kept in good tune;—a consideration in the cultivation of a correct taste in music.

A class of young ladies in vocal music will meet at his dwelling at 4 o'clock, P. M., on Mondays and Thursdays; also, a class of young gentlemen on Tuesdays and Fridays, at the same time and place.

One of the objects in the formation of these juvenile classes is, to give a permanent opportunity for acquiring a correct knowledge of the principles of the science of music, as well as to learn to read music.

Particular pains will be taken to form a habit of distinct enunciation, which gives to vocal music its superiority.

No sentiment of a doubtful character will be allowed in the exercises in singing.

A senior class in vocal music will be formed: for terms apply to Mr. A. G. Willard.

A class of young ladies in the French language will meet at St. Mary's Seminary. Apply to the Rev. S. L. Johnson.

TERMS.

For lessons on the Piano per quarter of eleven weeks,	$10 00
For vocal music " " "	2 00
For lessons in French " " "	3 00
For use of Piano to practice " " "	2 00

REFERENCES.—Mr. P. begs leave to refer to his pupils and patrons in this place; also, to Rev. S. L. Johnson, Wm. Sheets, Esq., H. Bassett, Esq., J. B. Mechesney, Esq., A. G. Willard, Esq., B. F. Morris, Esq., and W. H. Talbott, Esq. 65 tf

IT ALWAYS CURES.

SMITH'S Tonic Syrup or Vegetable Febrifuge, for the speedy and radical cure of Fever and Ague, or Chills and Fever. The proprietor in offering this remedy to the public, does so with full confidence that its results will sustain him in pronouncing it one of the most valuable medicines ever offered to the public as a speedy and effectual cure for the Ague and Fever or Chills and Fever.

Its composition is very simple, being entirely of Vegetables, and it does not contain anything which would render its use in the least unsafe as a popular medicine.

Combining with its powerful and general Tonic properties, a Cathartic and Sudorific action, it can be used without a perfect set up without any preparation of the patient in the commencement of the attack. It correct and prevents the febrile excitement which usually attends and so often defeats in its early use, Quinine and the other remedies, in the treatment of Ague and Fever or Chills and Fever. In the proper dose it acts as a mild Laxative, and encourages a natural and healthy action of the bowels, whost at the same time it gives tone to the stomach and promotes a general healthy action of the digestive organs, and thus in morbidly weakened habits restores the system to strength and vigor. In Costive and Bilious habits, it sometimes acts as an Emetic and Cathartic (particularly when given in la ge doses) and thus clanses at the same time both stomach and bowels—and promotes a proper proportion.

In fever, generally, it will be found a most valuable Tonic, for whilst it gives tone to the system, its Diaphoratic and Laxative properties guard the patient from the reproduction of Fever.

HYDRAULIC CEMENT,

For Cisterns, Water Masonry, and general uses, as a SOLID and ENDURING MORTAR. Manufactured and Warranted by the EAGLE CEMENT CO., Madison, Ia.

R. Mayhew, Agent. R. R. Depot.

THE demand for Hydraulic Cement—Water Lime—although confined to the West, almost exclusively to its use as a plaster for Cisterns, is every year increasing; while in the East, where its application to more general purposes is better known, the annual consumption approaches nearly to that of quick lime. It is there employed as a mortar for every kind of masonry; and in all cases where solid and enduring work is required, its use is considered indispensable. It is also moulded into pipes for conveying water underground, and is found to be cheaper and far better than any kind of metalic or wooden pipes—forming in reality a conductor of solid stone, which must endure for ages.

It is considered invaluable as a plaster for damp walls, either basements or cellars; for rough coating either upon brick or stone masonry; and when applied as a coating upon tire walls, is a perfect security against the inconvenience which otherwise attends every rainy season.

The proprietors of the Eagle Cement Works have now completed their preparations for manufacturing the above article on an extensive scale. From an analysis made by Prof. Locke of Cincinnati, and from the numerous tests to which this cement has been rigidly subjected, they feel confidence in offering it to the public as an article equal to any in the United States.

Orders addressed to the undersigned will receive prompt attention.

A manual, containing full instructions for working the Cement in all its various uses, will be issued in a few days, and may be had gratis upon application as above.
