MADAME SONTAG'S NEW SERIES of CLASSICAL, BRILLIANT, SACRED and CHORAL CONCERTS.
The public are respectfully informed that the Second and Last Series of Madame SONTAG'S New-York Concerts will commence between the 22d and 25th November, at METROPOLITAN HALL.
The most extensive preparations and rehearsals have been proceeding during the last six weeks, to give to these Concerts that character of grandeur and completeness for which the Triennial Musical Festivals of England and Germany are so justly famed; and it is confidently anticipated that great as is has been the satisfaction given by Madame SONTAG'S first series of Concerts, the second, from the excellency of the new engagements made, the selection of the masterpieces to be produced, and the liberality of all the arrangements, will form an era in the musical annals of America. The new series will be divided into CLASSICAL, BRILLIANT, SACRED AND CHORAL CONCERTS, in which all the solos, and even secondary parts, will be performed by the EMINENT ARTISTS of Madame SONTAG'S Company.
The Orchestral, Choral, and Chorus departments will consist of SIX HUNDRED PERFORMERS, And will be led by CARL ECKERT, under whose direction the principal German Festivals have been conducted.
To afford the required accommodation, the orchestral portion of the Hall will be entirely remodelled, on the plan of Exeter Hall, London, forming a spacious amphitheater occupying one-third of Metropolitan Hall, and greatly facilitating the acoustic effect of the music.
The prices of admission will be those of Madame Sontag's first series.
Full particulars in future advertisements.

THE PHILOSOPHY OF HUMAN LIFE: with especial design to Develop the True Idea of Disease, its Nature, Immediate Occasion, and General Remedy. By J. Jennings, M. D. Price 75 cents. For sale by FOWLERS & WELLS, No. 131 Nassau-st., N. Y.
Dr. Jennings is widely known as the advocate of the "orthopathic" plan of treating diseases—a plan whose details mainly consist in placing the patient under organic law, and there leaving him to the vis medicatrix naturæ. From the dawn of creation down to the year of our Lord Eighteen Hundred and Fifty-two, this method of medicating the infirmities of the vital machinery has been "eminently successful;" and the personal experience of the author of the work before us, demonstrates the reasons of its superior efficacy over the drugshop appliances, so widely and so fatally popular. DR. TRALL.

A Series of Forty-eight Drawings, colored after Nature, of the choicest varieties of American Fruits. By C. M. Hovey. With Botanical and popular descriptions. One volume, imperial 8vo., elegantly bound, morocco extra, $12.
"This work is, without doubt, the most beautiful ever published in America. We could hardly have thought that any new work would have obtained our appetation so entirely; but the colored engravings are so elegant, and the descriptions so scientific and correct, that we cannot withhold from it our warmest praise. The work is a perfect bijou, and as valuable as it is elegant."
"This new work on 'American Fruits, by Hovey,' is exquisitely colored, and must rank high among the luxurious publications of the age. Its artistic and scientific excellence is in keeping with its attractive appearance."
