NEW-YORK, May 31, 1853.

☞ The Directors of the Association for the Exhibition of the Industry of all Nations give notice that the Exhibition will be opened on the 15th day of July.

In making this announcement, the Directors avail themselves of the opportunity to state that the Building, which they have erected, and the Exhibition which they have prepared, will, they believe, fully meet the just expectations of the Public.

It is proper that it should be known that, in order to afford ample scope for the inventive talent and skill of our Countrymen in machinery and useful implements, we have increased the size of the Building by adding nearly one-fourth to its area, beyond what was originally contemplated, so that we have now for the purposes of Exhibition, two hundred thousand square feet, or nearly five acres.

Not limiting their plans to a display merely curious or attractive, the Directors have organized a Department of Mineralogy and Geology in which some of the best scientific talent of this country has been employed; and the foundation is thus laid of a most valuable national collection of the mineral resources of the Country.

The Directors had hoped to open the Exhibition at an earlier period, but the novelty and intricacy of the style of construction and the high standard of architectural beauty, which it has been the object of the Association to attain, have produced delay, and it has been impracticable for the Directors, notwithstanding their untiring diligence, and their most earnest desire, to announce the opening at an earlier day.

In regard to the general character of the Exhibition, the result promises to be most gratifying and not unworthy of the confidence manifester toward it by the Government of the United States, a confidence which has elicited a cordial response from the Governments of foreign countries. It will, unquestionably, be the most attractive and interesting collection of the works of art, the results of science and the productions of industry that has ever yet been made in this country, and will tend to increase the active emulation of the age in every branch of intellectual development.

The sole charge of the interior of the building, its division, arrangements, classification and police, has been confided to two officers of the Navy of the United States, Captains S. F. Dupont and C. H. Davis; and the sanction of the Government given to the appointment of these gentlemen, who have so much distinguished themselves in the special services in which they have been employed, affords proof of the confidence reposed and the interest felt, by the highest authorities of the country, in the general objects of the enterprise.

These gentlemen have organized their Department as follows:
J. M. BATCHELDER—Secretary of the Superintendent;
SAMUEL WEBBER—Arrangement of Space and Classification;
Prof. R. SILLIMAN, Jr.—Mineralogy and Chemistry;
B. F. JOHNSON—Agricultural implements;
JOSEPH E. HOLMES—Machinery;
EDWARD VINCENT—Textile Fabrics;
FELIX PIATTI—Sculpture.

The Official Catalogues and the Illustrated Weekly Record of the Exhibition are to be published in the Building, by Messrs. G. P. Putnam & Co., under the supervision of the Association.

The Directors have sensibly felt the confidence reposed in them by their fellow-citizens, in all parts of the country, and they will continue to make every effort to satisfy their just expectations.

This Day Published,

LONG'S COMPLETE EDITION, Unaltered and Unabridged, of G. W. M. Reynold's Great Work,
THE SOLDIER'S WIFE, OR SCENES IN CANTEEN AND ON THE BATTLE FIELD. Beautifully Illustrated. Price 50 cents.

NOTICES OF THE PRESS.

Another stirring work from the unflagging pen of Reynolds. G. W. Reynolds has a rich and racy style, essentially his own, and nimitable by any other writer. The interest of his story never or a moment flags, and in the "Soldier's Wife" he tells a tale and points a moral which will strike every reader. A more melo-dramatic subject could not have been selected, and no writer could have done it so much credit as has Reynolds. [Manchester Examiner.

The "Soldier's Wife" is one of the most originally conceived works by the most original, racy and piquant novelists of the day. The descriptive and imaginative powers of Reynolds are unsurpassed by any modern writer of fiction. As we read he carries us back to the days of Fielding and Smollett. He reveals in luxurious description haunts the imagination with scenes of thrilling horror, or paints wit and mirth with the pen of a practical and most incomparable artist. In his walk of literature Reynolds stands alone on the topmost round of the ladder of fame, and the Soldier's Wife is one of the best of his numerous thrilling stories [Dispatch.

Read the following notices of the Press:

"This production bears evidence of being written by a person well acquainted with the upper circles of life, is spirited, and an agreeable production for the lovers of romance. It contains many hints that ought not to be thrown away." [Albany Argus.

"For touches of genuine pathos, simplicity and most highly-wrought interest, we make question if any thing of the kind ever took precedency of the stories of this writer; and their effect must be to raise their young author high in the rank of illustrious names, now securely established in the records of literature, and highest of all in the annals of precocious genius." [Examiner.

"—Written with great vigor and purity of style, highly interesting in the development of the stories, and abounding with fine and graphic descriptions of character, as well as of external objects." [New-York Mirror.

"This novel is one of the most intelligent and interesting that the season has produced." [Court Journal.

"This is a very clever novel. The author is one from whom we expect much entertainment." [Athenæum.

"We cannot help saying that we consider these tales as among the most deeply interesting of cotemporary romances." [London Times.

"This is the production of a man of vigorous and healthy understanding, good sense, shrewd observation, and much practical knowledge of the world and its fashions. His descriptions of rural scenery are peculiarly graphic, vivid and poetical, and his conception of character, particularly female character, beautiful. In this item of authorship our Republican is superior to Cooper." [London Times.

ESOTERIC ANTHROPOLOGY—A Comprehensive and Confidential Treatise on the Structure, Functions, Passional Attractions, and Perversions, True and False Physical and Social Conditions, and the most Intimate Relations of Men and Women.
BY T. L. NICHOLS, M. D.

"I recommend this book as containing more of the philosophy of life and health, more of our true relations to God and each other, and more practical rules for the enjoyment of health and recovery from disease, than any other work that I have ever read." [Mary S. Gove Nichols.

"I look upon it, utter a careful perusal, as the most wonderful book ever written. It marks a new era in literature and social life." [Dr. Stephens, of Forest City.

"This book contains more that is weighty in fact, and sound in philosophy; more that is useful in medical science, and effective in medical art; more that is purificative and elevating in tone, than any one work in the world for forty or many that has every graced the Labrarie Medicale of civilization." [Dr. Dodge, of Owego.

"My judgment is, that this is not only the best book on the subject on which it treats, but the only true and satisfactory one over written." [Alonzo Lewis, of Lynn.

"Your Esoteric Anthropology is truly an inspired work, vital in every part, refreshing every man's and woman's soul that reads it with a most grateful sense of its truth and importance. I know of no work in the world like it, or comparable with it." [Dr. J. Sarrar, Portland.

ONE YEAR of MARRIED LIFE.—CHARLES SCRIBNER, No. 145 Nassau-st, New-York, has published
ONE YEAR: A Tale of Wedlock. By Emilie F. Carlen. Translated from the Swedish. By Albert Perce, and A. L. Krause. 1 vol., 12mo. Cloth, 75 cents; Paper, 50 cents.

"At home Mrs. Carlen is more celebrated than Miss Bremer. Her pictures of domestic life, her portraitures of character in the more secluded walks of life—her delicacy of sensibilities, pure thoughts, and lofty emotions of the human heart, and her descriptions of the scenery of her native land—its misty mountains, its green valleys its winter storms, its radiant summer skies—has won her, deservedly, the high fame she enjoys." [Albany Argus.

"A story of peculiar interest. It enters within the halo that surrounds the Family Circle, and discloses the trials and treasures, sorrows and joys that make up a domestic life." [New-York Evening Post.

"The subject of this volume is in some respects a very difficult one, but she has treated it with much good taste and delicacy, weaving a great variety of incidents into a beautiful and striking story." [Puritan Recorder.

"It is characterized with healthy sentiments, and a happy art in delineating home life." [Christian Intelligencer.

"A deeply interesting domestic tale." [Springfield Republican.

"A pleasing and instructive story, from the incidents of one year of married life. She treats of home—its pleasures and its pains—and shows how happiness may be increased and miseries ameliorated." [New-Haven Palladium.

CHARLES SCRIBNER will publish early in July
THE BRIDE OF OMBERG. By Emilie F. Carlen. 1 vol.
