Cork Water-Coolers.—A plain and cheap article, that will save more ice than any other, as is well known through all the Southern States, as also by those who have tried them in this city. Having a spigot for inside makes them preferable to those lined with metal. For sale by the sole agents, PICOT & SHOTWELL,
No. 47 Maiden-lane, up stairs.

Diarrhea should be Checked at once at this Critical Season.—The delay of an hour may bring on attack of the Cholera. Dr. McCLINTOCK'S DIARRHEA CORDIAL and CHOLERA PREVENTIVE will check Diarrhea or Dysentery in all stages, and leave the bowels perfectly healthy, not costive. No person should fail to provide themselves with it. Price 25 cts. and 50 cts. per bottle. For sale by Druggists generally, and by A. CUSHMAN & Co., Proprietors, No. 122 Fulton-st.

A Public Meeting of the Newtown Village Association will be held at their rooms, No. 195 Bowery, (next door above Military Hall,) on TUESDAY EVENING, July 11. The officers will be in attendance at 6½ o'clock for the purpose of receiving the dues of members who desire to settle. The balance of the reserved Lots, situated on Junction and Clinton ave., together with several choice Sites on the Plank-road, opposite the new National Race-Course, will be sold at auction on the same evening at 8 o'clock. The property to be sold comprises about 100 of the most beautiful Building Sites in the vicinity of Newtown or Flushing, in a thickly settled and rapidly improving neighborhood, and within 100 yards of the Depôt of the New-York and Flushing Railroad, now in successful operation, making this property as cheap and easy of access as the upper part of this city. The streets are all opened and graded in the best manner. A number of the members of the Association contemplate building during the present summer. The terms of sale are unusually favorable, and made to comport with the means and convenience of workingmen. Members of the Association who desire to obtain additional Lots, and persons seeking for a healthful suburban residence, will find in this sale an opportunity seldom to be met with, as every Lot must positively be sold without reserve. The terms of sale, lithographic maps of the property and every information may be obtained at the meeting, or by applying to MARK A. WILKES, No. 212 Broadway, corner of Fulton-st., Room No. 18.
E. V. DAVIS, Secretary. E. W. KETCHAM, President.

"A most captivating tale, that ought to be read by the entire generation of novel readers."
LEITCH RITCHIE'S NEW NOVEL.—Published this morning,
WEARYFOOT COMMON.
By LEITCH RITCHIE,
Author of "Robber of the Rhine," &c., &c. Price 37½ cents.
"This favorite writer has once more appeared before the reading public, to place them under still further obligations. Wearyfoot Common is a work of the highest merit, strikingly imaginative in conception, vigorous in execution, and rich in profound thought and noble sentiment. It exhibits the experience and the wisdom of one who has studied human nature with a determination to penetrate its mysteries, and with the earnest truth-seeking gaze of the philosopher and the artist. The work fascinates us from the first page to the last; it is crowded with incident and contrast, while we are entertained with many a shrewd and eloquent thought, to illustrate the useful practical moral inculcated, which is so peculiar to this author. It possesses the rare quality of novelty, and forces us to admire the writer's unsurpassed skill in the weaving of a plot, and masterly power in drawing natural characters, while we still find the same inexpressible charm of style which is so characteristic of this delightful writer. The work will be read with avidity by the author's numerous admirers, and most prove the most striking and attractive novel of the season."
CONTENTS.
Chapter I. How the Hero Forces Himself into the Story; II. Life in Simple Lodge; III. A Wearyfoot Emeute and its Consequences; IV. The House Thrown Out at Window; V. In which the Scene Changes; VI. Life of the Studio; VII. Fortunes of a Portrait Painter; VIII. Grand Doings at Wearyfoot; IX. Being a Chapter of Documents; X. Theory and Practice; XI. Another Offer of Marriage; XII. An Important Project; XIII. A Surprise; XIV. The Play Before the Curtain; XV. Secrets of the Study; XVI. The Old Love and the New; XVII. A Conspiracy; XVIII. Travels of Discovery; XIX. A Double Separation; XX. Doughty Deeds; XXI. The Result of the Letter; XXII. In which the Denouement Comes at Last.

A Great Book by a Great Author.
THE PILGRIMS OF WALSINGHAM
A ROMANCE OF THE MIDDLE AGES.
From the accomplished pen of AGNES STRICKLAND.
Large 12mo., pp. 400. Price $1.
Hear what the press says of this great work:
"We know no writer who gets up what may be termed the mise en scene of history with greater effect than Miss Strickland. In reading her descriptions it seems as if there were passing actually before our eyes the gorgeous processions, the splendid costumes and the brilliant tournaments of the olden times. Her profound acquaintance with every branch of historical literature, from the earliest English records down to the quaint chronicles of Froissart and Monstrelet, and the facilities of access that she has had to all the rare manuscripts existing in European libraries, enable her to give to the characters of her fictions, as well as to her biographies, a life-like aspect, which render the former, as portraits, almost as truthful and valuable as the latter. With these double attractions, it is impossible that Miss Strickland should produce a dull historical novel, although we know that great efforts were at one time made to dissuade her from attempting works of this sort. No better proof can be desired of the erroneousness of the opinion that would have deterred her from a task so congenial to her powers than the romance presented to us under the above title. It abounds in incidents of the most stirring interest, and perhaps gives a more faithful reflection of the ideas and manners of the period which the story was laid than any modern work of a similar character." [N. Y. Herald.
The above extract was taken from a most elaborate review in The Herald of the 9th inst.:
"The writings of this lady remind us of those bouquets in which ripe ears of corn and other grains are blended with the most beautiful flowers; so happily does she mingle instruction with amusement. Truth is the very best of her many charming works. As a story it is replete with captivating interest, while it instructs the reader with one of the most interesting episodes of the history of Europe—the visit of the great Emperor, Charles V, to the court of the VIIIth Henry. Quaint humor, and sly, grave satire sparkle on almost every page, rendering us heartily sorry when the merry party conclude their pilgrimage." [British Whig.
"Truly a charming book! Full of the profoundest interest, yet not one improbable incident—not one prurient idea. You will sooner find spots upon the leaves of the silvery lily than an impure sentence in a book by this author." [Buffalo Courier.
Miss Strickland's style is easy, graceful and sparkling; and her sentiments are always chaste and pure. This is a perfectly unexceptionable novel to place in the hands of the young." [Hartford Courant.
"Miss Strickland has made a deeply interesting and highly instructive book, which we commend earnestly to such as would be entertained, and at the same time profited by their reading. [Savannah Georgian.
But we cannot multiply extracts. The voice of the periodical press is unanimous.

THE NEW-YORK TRIBUNE—WEEKLY ENLARGED.—On the 11th of April, 1853, THE DAILY TRIBUNE, having completed its twelfth year, was enlarged more than one-fourth, or to the size of The London Times, making it considerably larger than any other cheap Daily published in this country, or in the world. No change in price was made in consequence of this Enlargement—the paper being still afforded to Mail Subscribers at $5 per annum, delivered by carriers to its patrons in this and the adjacent cities at 12½ cents per week, and sold to Venders and to Agents ordering it by Express or Mail, for distant sale, at $1 50 for one hundred copies, or $15 per thousand copies, payable in advance. At these prices, our aggregate receipts for our entire Daily edition, do not exceed the sums we pay for paper and ink, leaving all other expenses to be defrayed from our receipts for Advertising. In other words, we return to each purchaser of our paper from us, his money's worth in the naked sheet we send him, looking for the reward of our own labor and the heavy expenses of Telegraphing, Correspondence, Reporting, Composition, Printing, Mailing, Book-keeping, Rent, &c., to our Advertisers alone. We do not think it now possible to cheapen newspapers beyond this point; if it ever shall be hereafter, we intend to be even with the foremost in demonstrating the fact.
Our SEMI-WEEKLY, EUROPEAN and CALIFORNIA editions were enlarged simultaneously and equally with the Daily, and also without any increase of price. We respectfully solicit a comparison of our Semi-Weekly at $5 per annum, (two copies sent a full year for $5, and five copies for $11 25,) with any $4 or $5 Semi-Weekly, and will cheerfully send copies for this purpose upon direct or postpaid application.
THE NEW-YORK WEEKLY TRIBUNE entered on its thirteenth year on the 4th of September, when it was in like manner enlarged to the size of the Semi-Weekly and Daily, adding more than one-fourth to its capacity—also without increase of price. This enlargement adds at least $20,000 per annum to our expenses, in addition to the previous cost of our Daily enlargement already effected.
THE TRIBUNE has not now its character to make or to proclaim. It has not been and never can be a mere party organ. It has supported the Whig party because the distinctive principles of that party appeared to favor the great ends which it has kept in view, and it has never advocated measures which it has deemed injurious to the Whig party. It holds itself at all times free to condemn unsound principle, unwise measures or corrupt acts, should the two former be propounded or the latter perpetrated by Whigs as though they had emanated from the hostile camp. In so far as Peace, Liberty, Education, Temperance, Internal Improvement, and Industrial Development may be subversed by acting with the Whig party, it must continue to be, as it has been, Whig.
Though never acting with any Abolition or other one-idea party, THE TRIBUNE is and must be the relentless foe of Human Slavery, as of whatever else tends to degrade Labor and obstruct the intellectual and social development of any portion of mankind. Were it able to perceive that a vote in New-York could abolish Slavery in Carolina, it might attach little weight to some one of the expressly Anti-Slavery parties; looking that light, it declines to abandon the substance for the shadow of political good. But, while it does not see its way clear to any effective Political action against Slavery in the States which now cherish it, it regards the defeat of whatever effort to extend the giant wrong under the Flag of our Union, or to obstruct by its power the progress of Abolition in other lands as among the most urgent and sacred of public duties, not to be subordinated to any party consideration whatever. And, while it does not propose to make Anti-Slavery the basis of Political action, other than defensive, it will neglect no opportunity, remit no effort, so to diffuse Light and Truth as to render the continuance of Slavery impossible in a land irradiated by the sun of Christianity and boasting itself the great exemplar of Political Justice and law-guarded Freedom.
For Temperance in all things, but especially the disease of Intoxicating Beverages and the direful oppression of the Liquor Traffic, we shall struggle, as we have struggled, unflinchingly and untiringly. We regard the Maine Law as essentially the most beneficent statute of our day, and confidently hope to see it soon prevail universally.
The Congressional Reports and Washington Correspondence will, as heretofore, be both reliable and satisfactory.
The Markets for Grain, Cattle, Cotton and other products of the country, will receive proper attention and be reliably reported in THE TRIBUNE.
On our Correspondence with the most important points throughout the world we need not here dilate. Briefly—we shall spare no expense to keep our readers well advised on every subject of interest, and doubt not that the same generous measure of patronage hitherto accorded to us will continue to repay all our exertions.
We rarely employ Traveling Agents, as so many impostors are habitually prowling in the assumed capacity of solicitors for journals. We prefer that our subscribers shall pay their money to persons they know and of whose integrity they are assured. Any friend who believes he will do good by increasing the circulation of the THE TRIBUNE is authorized to solicit and receive subscriptions; and, on the proof that money has been mailed and post-paid to our address, we take the responsibility of its safe transmission. Specimen Copies will promptly be sent without charge to those requiring them, and we trust many friends will be moved to ask their neighbors and acquaintances to join, in making up a Club to commence with the new year.
A limited amount of space in THE WEEKLY TRIBUNE will be appropriated to Advertising.

TERMS OF THE WEEKLY TRIBUNE.

Single copy, one year	$2 00
Three copies, one year	5 00
Five copies, one year	8 00
Ten copies, one year	12 00

The extremely low price at which THE WEEKLY TRIBUNE is now furnished to Club subscribers, absolutely precludes our allowing any commissions either in money or by an extra copy.
Orders may commence at any time. Payment in advance is required in all cases, and the paper is invariably discontinued at the expiration of the advance payment.
THE WEEKLY TRIBUNE is furnished to clergymen at $1 per annum.
Money may be remitted for subscriptions in letters at our risk, but the Postmaster at the place where the letter is mailed should be made acquainted with its contents and keep a description of the bills.
Bills of any specie-paying bank in the United States or Canadas received at par for subscriptions.
We have no Traveling Agents. Any one wishing to receive THE TRIBUNE need not wait to be called on for his subscription. All that is necessary for him to do is to write a letter in as few words as possible, inclose the money and write the name of the subscriber, with the Post Office, County and State, and direct the letter to us.
GREELEY & McELRATH, Tribune Office, New-York.

NANETTE AND HER LOVERS;
A TALE OF NORMANDY.
By Talbot Gwynne. Cloth, 12mo. $1.
"Nanette is a story pure in sentiment, beautiful in conception, and illustrating some new phases of French life."
Published by RIKER, THORNE & Co.,
No. 129 Fulton-st., New-York.
NOTICES OF THE PRESS.
"The delicate beauty of the style, with a certain fineness of sentiment, indicates a feminine pen, while the truthful perception of character and vigor of description which mark the volume, would do no discredit to a writer of either sex." [N. Y. Tribune.
"A tale our young people may read without imbibing any of the unwholesome views it is now so much the fashion to give in works of the French school. [N. Y. Day Book.
"Talbot Gwynne is the nom de plume of an English lady whose real name is unknown to the public, but whose works have excited marked attention. Her style is polished and delicate, though vigorous, and her novels possess great interest for the lovers of the true and beautiful, rather than the startling and horrible." [Evening Mirror.
"* * * A very cleverly written book. * * The tale is naturally told, and is very interesting. * * We can scarce rid ourselves of the idea that it must be adapted from some French production of merit." [Boston Post.
"* * * It is brimfull of sentiment, taste, novelty, adventure, incident and wit." [Philadelphia City Item.
"This is a very delightful story. The style is flowing and agreeable, easy to the reader, sparkling and exhilarating, and the story is a charming, though partly a sad one." [Boston Commonwealth.
"Talbot Gwynne * * writes here a chaste and interesting novel, fully worthy of his reputation." [N. Y. Daily Times.
"* * * A simple and beautiful tale, pleasantly told." [Pittsburgh Saturday Visitor.
OPINIONS OF THE ENGLISH PRESS.
"We do not remember to have met with so perfect a work of literary art as 'Nanette' for many a long day, or one in which every character is so thoroughly worked out in so short a space, and the interest concentrated with so much effect and truthfulness." [Britannia.
"A story worth reading." [Athenæum.
"It would be difficult to suppose a more pleasing sketch, or a more interesting heroine than Nanette." [Sun.
"In Nanette's simple faith, affectionate nature, and honest, earnest conduct, there is a very striking and pleasing delineation of character." [Literary Gazette.
