Consumption

¶ There is no specific for consumption. Fresh air, exercise, nourishing food and Scott's Emulsion will come pretty near curing it, if there is anything to build on. Millions of people throughout the world are living and in good health on one lung.

¶ From time immemorial the doctors prescribed cod liver oil for consumption. Of course the patient could not take it in its old form, hence it did very little good. They can take and tolerate it for a long time. There is no oil, not excepting butter, so easily digested and absorbed by the system as cod liver oil in the form of Scott's Emulsion, and that is the reason it is so helpful in consumption where its use must be continuous.

¶ We will send you a sample free.

¶ Be sure that this picture in the form of a label is on the wrapper of every bottle of Emulsion you buy.

Singular Accident.

The Jackson Sun relates a singular accident which occurred recently near Franklin Tenn. A poplar tree was cut down on the McGavock farm and a tenant on the place put a stick of the wood on the fire in his house, when a tremendous explosion took place, painfully injuring a little negro. It was found to be a shell which was fired by the Federals at the battle of Franklin forty-one years ago, and which had lodged in the tree without exploding.

Table of Measures.

The following is a table by which persons not having scales and weights at hand may readily measure the articles wanted to form any recipe without weighing. Make some allowance for any extraordinary dryness or moisture of the article weighed or measured: Wheat flour, one quart is one pound; Indian meal, one quart is one pound two ounces; butter, when soft, one quart is one pound; loaf sugar, broken, one quart is one pound; white sugar, powdered, one quart is one pound one ounce; best brown sugar, one quart is one pound two ounces. Ten eggs make one pound. A common tumbler holds half a pint; a tea cup holds one gill or one-fourth of a pint. Sixty drops equal one teaspoonful.

For Medicine—A common tumbler usually contains 10 ounces; a teacup, 6 ounces; a wineglass, 2 ounces; a tablespoon, 4 drachms; a dessert spoon, 2 drachms; teaspoon, 1 drachm. These quantities refer to ordinary sized spoons and vessels. It is well to keep a medicine glass or a measuring cup graduated so as to show exact measures. These glasses can be had at your druggists. A measuring cup can be had at any house furnishing store.

RIPPLEMEAD, VA.

Feb. 7.—Allow me through your columns to say a few words about Ripple mead. We arrived here January 30 at noon and found every thing astir. We went to work January 31 and have los no time save Sunday. There is no whiskey sold within forty miles of this place. The country is thickly settled, and they are civil, church-going people. Our work is just across New river from the N. and W. R. R., and one hundred and ninety-four miles south of Fort Gay. The river is large here and full of fish, some of which are very large. There are lots of small game and lots of wild cats in the cliffs, and now and then a bear is seen. Returning from the post-office the other night I saw a large black bear. I was within thirty steps of him.

Our work is in the river valley. Just a few miles northwest of here is a mountain called Angel's Rest. It is 4,500 feet high and a few miles to the north east is another mountain, 4,250 feet high, on top of which is a large lake. We can see snow at a distance, but the weather is fine and dry. Also have plenty of pure water. I am foreman over a gang of men, most of whom are from Lawrence county. The boys are getting along fine and seem to be well satisfied.

Diving For Salt In Dead Sea.

The awful desolation of the Dead Sea which lies nearly 1,300 feet below the level of the Mediterranean, is broken here and there by the salt divers, whose work is probably as ancient as the human race itself.

From remotest antiquity the salt of the Dead Sea has been collected and brought to the Jerusalem market, where it is used for curing hides and for domestic purposes. Dead Sea water contains over 25 per cent. of solid substances, of which 7 per cent is chloride of sodium, or common salt.

The Dead Sea contains no living creature. Sea fish put into its waters speedily die. Not a single boat navigates it strange waters, nor is there any sign of life, save the isolated parties of salt divers, who scrape and slowly amass their glistening heaps of crystal near the mouth of the Jordan.

When a sufficient cargo is made ready a long string of camels crosses the desert, and the salt is loaded up into panniers, or "shwerries," and taken into Jerusalem where it finds a ready market.

Salt, as is well known, has been used as currency from time immemorial, just as bricks of tea are used to-day in Central Asia, especially in the borderland of China and Siberia.—The Technical World Magazine.

LUCKIEST MAN in ARKANSAS.

"I'm the luckiest man in Arkansas," writes B. L. Stanley, of Bruno, "since the restoration of my wife's health after five years continuous coughing and bleeding from the lungs, and I owe my good fortune to the world's greatest medicine, Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, which I know from experience will cure consumption if taken in time. My wife improved with first bottle and twelve bottles completed cure." Cures the worst coughs and cold or money refunded. At A. M. Hughes', druggist. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

As You Like It

That is about the way The Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York issues policies in these days of varied requirements in business and family life.

The postscript to a letter written by Mr. Ebe Walter, of Clarkesville, Del., enforces this thought:

"The options of the dividend addition of $337, making my policy $1,337, or a total cash value of $337.19 are fully appreciated, but the settlement which I have chosen seems to be the best suited to my present circumstances."

What Mr. Walter did take was a dividend check for $196.98 on the paid-up policy of a $1,000, which cost him all told $448.02. He says:

The feature which I particularly like about my policy is that the longer I live the more I get and that during the last sixth of my life there is nothing more for me to pay.

(From Wilmington (Del.) News, Nov. 27, 1902.)

In writing for terms for a policy of this kind, state what you would like to receive in cash at the end of limited payment period, amount you would like your beneficiary to receive in event of your death, and give your age.

STOMACHS ON STILTS.

The man who puts on stilts does not increase his actual stature. He only feels taller. Stimulants are the stilts of the stomach. They make a man feel better for the time being, but he feels a great deal worse for them afterward.

The need of the man whose stomach is "weak" is not stimulation but strength. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery perfectly answers that need. It contains no alcohol or whisky. It cures the weak, foul stomach with its attendant bad smelling breath, coated tongue, bad taste, poor appetite and dazed symptoms.

"In the year 1896 I had an attack of indigestion and got so bad that my home doctor said he could not do me any good," writes Mr. G. Trent, of Gordonville, Texas. "I wrote to you and you advised me to use Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, so I bought six bottles, and when I commenced using it I was so weak could hardly walk about the house. By the time I had used one bottle my stomach and bowels commenced to heal. There were strips of the lining of my stomach or bowels (I don't know which) as large as a man's two fingers passed and I had a good deal of misery in my stomach and bowels, and also in the rectum especially. I could not eat anything without having much distress afterward, but by the time I had taken eight bottles of the Golden Medical Discovery I was sound and well, and could eat anything I pleased without suffering in the least. Could also do as much work in a day as I ever could. I have not suffered from the trouble since, and it was four years ago that I was so sick."

The sole motive for substitution is to permit the dealer to make a little more profit. He gains; you lose. Accept no substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery."

Constipation causes and aggravates many serious diseases. It is thoroughly cured by Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets.

Expensive Depositories.

The moral of the following true incidents is this:—Place your money on deposit with the Louisa National Bank, "where moths and rust do not corrupt, and where thieves do not break through and steal."

A man in Martin county recently lost his house by fire. He had $700 in hard earned money "deposited" in an organ. The flames beat him to the organ and in his desperate efforts to save the money he was considerably burned. The money and organ were consumed.

Another man, Mr. Alley, down in Boyd county, invested a board on the ceiling on one room in his home and carefully packed away $1,000 in paper money. When he went to get it a few months later, he found that the mice had cut it into small bits and were rolling in wealth. He lost every cent of it.

These cases show the folly and insecurity of trying to keep money at home. Yet there are many people who do it. They feel as safe as those two men did before the unexpected happened to them. Now they probably wonder why they did not deposit their money in a good bank. That is what every citizen should do and thus avoid possibility of loss.

We are at your service and have every modern facility for handling your business. You are invited to open an account with us.

OF INTEREST to Mothers.

Thousands of little ones die every year of croup. Most of them could have been saved by a few doses of Foley's Honey and Tar, and every family with children should keep it in the house. It contains no opiates and is safe and sure. Mrs. George H. Pickel, San Francisco, Cal., writes: "My baby had a dangerous attack of croup and we thought she would choke to death, but one dose of Foley's Honey and Tar relieved her at once after other remedies had failed. We are never a minute without it in the house. Sold by Louisa Drug Company.
