MARRIED A JAP.

DETROIT, Mich., Nov. 19.—Kullatoeo Fukushima was a Japanese nobleman and the central figure of a colony of his countrymen at Michigan university, Ann Arbor. He fell in love with a sparkling-eyed country girl who lived with her parents in a cosey, picturesque home near by, and her dowry was naught. The nobleman was rich, and had thousands in his own name, and was dazzling in attire. He wooed the country lass, but the stern father objected to the wedding, and the Occident taught the Orient how lovers here surmount such obstacles, and the two eloped. They have been in hiding for a week, but last night they drove to Farmer Fullerton's house. The man of courtly mien presented the daughter, Edith, as Mrs. Fuksuhima, and announced that they would start for Tokio, Japan, next morning. The two left Ann Arbor this morning for a two-months' tour west and south before sailing for their eastern home. The new bride is only 18. The nobleman belongs to one of the best families in his country.

THE TRANSPORTATION ASSOCIATION

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 19.—The National Transportation association, composed of delegates from various boards of trade throughout the country, met here today. The car service of railroads was discussed, and a plan was adopted providing that the government should fix the time to be consumed in transporting freight from one point to another, and compelling railroads to pay shippers or consignees a demurrage of at least $1 per day for time in excess of the specified transit. This was deemed no more than fair to the shipper, inasmuch as the railroads exact demurrage at that rate per day for failure of consignees to remove their freight within forty-eight hours after its receipt. The plan was submitted to the executive committee of the association with the instruction to submit it to the proper congressional committee at as early a date as possible. The association will hold its next meeting February, 1891, in Cincinnati.
