Special Notices.

A Plea for the Orphans.—The Trustees of the NEW-YORK ORPHAN ASYLUM have not for many years made an appeal to the benevolence of the public through the pulpit or the daily papers; but now they feel constrained to make an earnest application for aid in behalf of nearly two hundred Orphans at this time under their fostering care.

The health and comfort of the little inmates requiring more extended accommodations, it was considered necessary, two years ago, to build an addition to the house. To meet the expense of this undertaking, all the Society's available funds were employed but found insufficient, and a mortgage of $14,000 rest upon the Asylum.

But the burden of this debt is not all that presses upon the Trustees. Very recently the stable, with all its contents, hay, wagons, cow and two horses, were completely consumed by fire, beyond all doubt the work of an incendiary. Though the Asylum itself has always been insured, the out-houses have been overlooked, so that the Society's loss is estimated at not less than $2,000, beside the inconvenience resulting therefrom. It is necessary this loss should be retrieved as soon as possible; but who will supply the means? The income of the Society is entirely inadequate. In addition to this calamity, the Trustees also feel, in common with other Charitable Associations, the pressure occasioned by the exorbitant price of provisions. But their eyes are directed to the Orphan's God, who has ever raised up friends to help them in every emergency.

For more than 50 years, this Institution has been the only Protestant Asylum in this city, designed exclusively for children bereaved of both parents. It has never been sectarian. Its founders (among whom were Mrs. Isabella Graham, Mrs. Gen. Hamilton, Mrs. Hoffman, and the only surviving one, Mrs. Bethune), as well as its Board of Managers ever since, have belonged to different Christian denominations. Since its formation, more than 1,500 Orphans have found within its walls a home; and that the public may judge for themselves what a happy home it is, they are most urgently requested to visit the Institution and its beautiful grounds at Bloomingdale.

But while troubled for the want of funds, the Trustees feel at the same time grateful that everything connected with the internal management of the Asylum is most satisfactory and complete. The schools are under excellent teachers, and the superintendence of the whole household is in the hands of those who have been well tested, and who have the entire confidence and respect of the Board.

Can this simple, unvarnished appeal be in vain? Can the helpless Orphan be forgotten? Their old friends are dropping off—for death is each year removing some cherished name from the subscription list—who will fill their places? Who will step up to this appeal?

Donations and subscriptions will be thankfully received by the following ladies:

Such thanks are especially due to Dr. Townsend for giving the use of his mansion entirely prepared for the Concert, and the munificence shown in every arrangement; to those who so kindly gave their services as performers, and to the Committee of Arrangements.

Nor should Mr. Brown, the always efficient Master of Ceremonies, be forgotten, who generously declines any remuneration.

MADAME D'ANGRI. MADAME JOHANNSEN.
MRS. E. L. DAVENPORT,
MR. JOSEPH BURKE, SIG. ABELLA.
CARD.
The Management has the honor to announce that the contemplated extensive arrangements are now completed, and presents the following outline:
MADAME D'ANGRI,
whose great success at the first series is still fresh in remembrance, will again interpret the best portions from Italian Operas.
THE GERMAN "LIED"
Ever since the advent in London of Jetty Treffz, Tischek, Staudigl, Reichardt and Formes, the German "Lieder" by Schubert, Kucken, Proch and Esser have become a prominent feature in every Concert-room. Fashion, emanating from a partially German Court, introduced it at first; but the intrinsic merit of the "Lied," and its undisputed superiority over the sentimental ballad, gave it a permanent footing, which has stood the test of many years. There is little doubt that the "Lied," without which no programme offered to a German or English audience is considered complete, will prove not less acceptable to the American public. From this motive an engagement has been effected with MADAME JOHANNSEN,
who is reported in Germany one of its best exponents. She will therefore sing in every Concert one or more "Lieder," in addition to a choice selection from standard German Operas.
MR. JOSEPH BURKE,
The eminent Violinist—who, since the departure of Jenny Lind, has not taken part in any concerts except those of the Philharmonic Society—has consented to appear again in public, and to perform at Mr. THALBERG'S Concerts.
READINGS FROM POETS,
(DECLAMATION.)
MRS E. L. DAVENPORT.
It has always been the desire of the management to render Mr. THALBERG'S Concerts not merely varied and entertaining, but likewise instructive and intellectual. In Paris and the capitals of Germany the recital or, as it is called there, the "declamation" of well-selected poems has been frequently introduced into the concert room. The sensation produced in the readings of some of Lamartine's "harmonies religieuses" at Mr. THALBERG'S Concerts in Paris, by graduates from the section de declamation of the Conservatoire, had formed at that time a general topic of remark. In Germany Sophie Schroeder, Madame Haitzinger, Emile Dezrient, Louve and others have acquired additional fame in a similar manner. The management has therefore endeavored to add this interesting feature to its general programme, and has much pleasure in announcing the engagement of
MRS. E. L. DAVENPORT,

IMPORTANT BIBLICAL WORK.
ANALYTICAL CONCORDANCE
OF THE
HOLY SCRIPTURES: OR,
THE BIBLE PRESENTED UNDER DISTINCT AND CLASSIFIED HEADS OR TOPICS.
By JOHN EADIE, D.D., LL.D.,
Author of "Biblical Cyclopedia," "Condensed Concordance," &c., &c.
One volume, octavo, 856 pp., cloth. $3.
The publishers would call the special attention of clergymen and others to some of the peculiar features of this great work:
1. It is a concordance of SUBJECTS, not of WORDS. In this respect it differs entirely from the common concordance; neither is therefore a substitute for the other, and both are indispensable as a part of biblical apparatus.
2. It embraces ALL the topics, secular as well as religious, naturally suggested by the entire contents of the Bible. In this respect it differs from Scripture Manuals and Topical Text-Books, which are confined to theological or doctrinal topics.
3. It contains the ENTIRE CONTENTS OF THE BIBLE UNABRIDGED, differing in nothing from the ordinary Bible, except in arrangement. In this respect it differs from the class of works just alluded to, which contain only a PART of the Bible.
4. Where the same passage of Scripture relates to more than one subject, it is REPEATED under the appropriate head. In this respect the book differs from any other of the kind.
5. It contains a SYNOPSIS of the contents separate from the concordance, presenting in a readable form, and in the compass of a few pages, a birdseye view of the whole. In this also it differs from any other.
6. It contains a table of contents, embracing nearly TWO THOUSAND HEADS in alphabetical order. This is a degree of fullness quite unsurpassed.
7. There is but one other work in the language on the same general plan; and this not only surpasses that in fullness and compactness of detail, but is offered AT MUCH LESS COST.
No student of the Bible would willingly dispense with this work when once possessed. It is adapted to assist all classes—clergymen and theological students, Sabbath School superintendents, teachers and Bible classes, and those engaged in the composition of religious and even secular works; and, in a word, common readers of the Bible, who have no other object in view than their own improvement.
This day published by GOULD & LINCOLN,
No. 59 Washington-st., Boston.
