New Publications.

A VALUABLE CHRISTMAS PRESENT.
DR. KANE'S GREAT WORK:
ARCTIC EXPLORATIONS.
Superbly illustrated by upward of 300 Engravings.
More than 110,000 volumes of this work were sold the first year of its publication.
The Hon. EDWARD EVERETT says:
"It does the author equal credit as a man of science, and an energetic, skilful, and courageous adventurer, and a true-hearted philanthropist. In conjunction with his former publications, it will secure him an abiding place on the roll of honest fame among the heroes of humanity. The style of typography and illustration is of superior excellence."
W. H. PRESCOTT, the Historian, says:
"It is one of the most remarkable records I have ever met with, of difficulties and sufferings, and of the power of a brave spirit to overcome them."
WM. C. BRYANT, the Poet, says:
"The merits of Dr. Kane's recent work are so universally acknowledged, that it seems superfluous to praise it."
The Rev. FRANCIS L. HAWKS, L. L. D., says:
"The world has in it few such stories of human suffering and heroic endurance as is presented in Dr. Kane's last work. The book is one which needs not the word of approbation from any man; it carries with it its own recommendation, and I should feel that in me it would be but an act of impertinence should I pretend to indorse its merits. Dr. Kane and his book will, very probably, be remembered long after I am forgotten."
G. P. R. JAMES, the Novelist, says:
"I read the two volumes with deeper interest than I ever felt in any work in my life, and I commenced them with love and admiration for the man who wrote them. I only wish there were a dozen volumes more."
The Hon. GEORGE BANCROFT, the Historian, says:
"His expedition, in view of the small number of his party, the size of his vessel (which had not even one companion), the extent to which he explored the Polar regions, the length of time he remained there, and the marvels of his escape—seem to me without a parallel."
Major-General WINFIELD SCOTT says:
"I have read Dr. Kane's Arctic Explorations (only since his death) with the most poignant interest. So many noble adventurers in the cause of humanity—so many breathless escapes from imminent destruction—so much achieved for science—and all told in spirited yet classical English—which the young hero and scholar, though in haste, had hardly committed to the immortal press when he sank into the grave, the victim of his own enduring labors!"
2 vols., octavo. Price $5.
CHILDS & PETERSON, Publishers, Philadelphia.
And for sale by Booksellers everywhere.

FRANK LESLIE TO THE PUBLIC.

I would call the attention of the public to the fact that the execution of Cook and Coppie did not take place until Friday afternoon, at 1 o'clock. A special train started immediately afterward from Charlestown. The distance from there to New-York is 277 miles, so that it would take 15 hours and 20 minutes, by the quickest possible conveyance, stoppages included, to reach New-York.

I am prepared to prove that no artist reached New-York before 6½ o'clock last Saturday evening; yet one of our imitators had two long engravings finished and on their press at 3 o'clock the previous morning, only fifteen hours and a half before the actual sketches reached New-York. Said pictures were published on Saturday evening as genuine pictures, both of which I pronounce bogus illustrations.

Finding it impossible to compete with me in time, correctness and quality, these IMITATORS have made their pictures up from those representing the hanging of Brown, published some two weeks since.

I publish this morning, in
FRANK LESLIE'S
ILLUSTRATED NEWSPAPER,
the only genuine picture of the hanging of Cook and Coppie, also the attempted escape of those persons from the Jail at Charlestown.

I would call the attention of the public to the following facts:

1. That the field and houses were covered with snow, which my picture represents, and which the bogus does not. This fact alone proves that the picture of my imitators is spurious.

2. That my imitators represent the same military companies and costumes at the Cook and Coppie execution which appeared at the hanging of John Brown, while my picture represents those companies actually present, among which were a new company of Rangers, dressed in red shirts, with rifles slung on their backs, which company took a prominent position in the scene; also another company dressed in a new and peculiar style, consisting of a suit of Scotch plaid, tunic, a cape on their shoulders and continental boots, both of which appear in my engraving, and are not to be found in the bogus picture published by my imitators.

3. That Cook and Coppie were both hanged in cloaks, one shorter than the other, which is so represented in my picture, and which will be found quite different in the bogus illustrations published by my imitators.

But the most important part is yet to come. I publish in my paper to-day the attempted escape of Cook and Coppie from the prison; also a picture of the shackles which bound Cook and Coppie together, and which they filed through.

We put the same on exhibition at Messrs. Ball, Black & Co.'s, corner of Broadway and Park-place, with the certificate of the officer who presented it to my special correspondent, where it can be seen in their window.

In conclusion, I would state that no establishment in this country can possibly possess the advantages and facilities which mine does. After presenting to the public for a series of years trustful pictures of the leading events of the times, I have gained a reputation of which my imitators are envious. No paper which I have published can give better evidence of my enterprise than the present one.

I have truthful pictures from Charlestown, illustrating the latest events up to Friday last: sixteen pictures from Port-au-Prince, Hayti, of the conspirators who shot the President's daughter, from my correspondent there; the portrait of Mr. Helper, the author of the book entitled "The Impending Crisis," &c., which has made such a sensation in Congress; the portrait of Mr. Sherman, the probable Speaker of the House of Representatives, and numerous other pictures, which can be found in no other paper; and I am sorry to state that many illustrations from my numerous correspondents have been left out for want of room.

I consider it my duty to caution the public against being imposed upon by bogus pictures which are sold to the unwary, when I cannot print fast enough to supply the demand, when there is any great excitement. No event of importance occurs in any part of this continent, but I am certain to receive a sketch of it from one of my correspondents, and generally several from different witnesses of the event, while any new paper not having such facilities, must necessarily give illustrations invented by their employees, as was the case of the pounding of the steamship North Star a few weeks ago, of which I gave accurate pictures, representing the steamship ashore, the different tents erected on the island, &c., &c., from sketches made by Mr. Agnew, one of the officers of the ship. The ship was situated a half mile from the shore, which was represented in my picture; while my imitators represented a mammoth ship within a few feet of the shore. Said picture was pronounced by Mr. Arnew, the above named officer, a mere bogus illustration.

I could go on adding to this list of bogus pictures, published by my imitators, but I think I have shown conclusively, that the illustrations of
are the only GENUINE PICTURES published in this country.

The fact is, Leslie's artist had a SLOW HORSE (like his paper) to ride from Charlestown to Harper's Ferry, and this slowness caused him to lose the train. The messenger sent by our artist had a FAST HORSE (like our paper), and this enabled him to be in time. Hence the difference. We were on hand, and he was not.

The Baltimore Clipper of Dec. 17, says:
"Having availed myself of the k'nd attention of Mr. D. C. Hitchcock of the NEW-YORK ILLUSTRATED NEWS to reach home last evening, that enterprising gentleman having made arrangements to run an express locomotive from Charlestown to Harper's Ferry, and thence to Baltimore, last evening. To Mr. Hitchcock a number of gentlemen connected with the press are deeply indebted, not only for their prompt conveyance to Baltimore, but also for his many kind and delicate attentions in Charlestown, where he had rooms at the Carter House, and where, it may be truly said, he kept open house."
Now, one word about our North Elba sketches.
The Vergennes (Vt.) Citizen says:
"Mr. Thomas Nast, artist for the N. Y. ILLUSTRATED NEWS, a large and beautifully embellished weekly, followed the remains of Brown to this city, and Vergennes and vicinity, and North Elba, N. Y., will doubtless occupy a prominent page in The Illustrated News."
Mr. Leslie was not represented there.

THE BEST CHRISTMAS BOOK.
GOODRICH'S ILLUSTRATED
NATURAL HISTORY OF THE ANIMAL KINGDOM.
TWO ROYAL OCTAVO VOLUMES. 1,400 PAGES. 1,500 ENGRAVINGS.
Dedicated, by Permission, to Prof. AGASSIZ,
By S. G. GOODRICH,
Author of "Peter Parley's Tales," "History of all Nations," &c.
This work contains 1,500 engravings, for the most part actual portraits of animals, drawn and engraved by the
FIRST ARTISTS IN EUROPE AND AMERICA,
And constituting a richness, variety and completeness of illustration, altogether beyond any Popular Natural History ever published either in Europe or America.
It is at once scientific and popular—that is, it is arranged in a systematic manner; the scientific names of animals being always given, at the same time the popular names are given, as well as the habits, appearance, form, color, instincts, and location of species, with their relation to Agriculture, Commerce, Manufactures, and the Arts.
The work abounds in curious and interesting anecdotes, sketches, incidents and narratives, gathered from a great variety of sources, illustrative of the WONDERS AND CURIOSITIES OF THE ANIMAL KINGDOM.
It comprises descriptions of
