It is desired that States at a distance, and Counties in this State should each be represented in the pageant by a uniformed delegation, with a Commandant.

J. H. Hobart Ward, in time to have their positions assigned them in the procession, as well as to permit arrangements for their proper reception at the Railroad Depots and Steamboat Landings, to be perfected.
Diagrams of the city and the places of forming the different subdivisions, sixteen in number, will be printed and distributed to the commanders of the visiting companies, showing the exact spot for them to form on.

OR,
THE ELIXIR OF GOLD.
A Romance by a Southern Lady.
Two handsome 12mo volumes. Price $2.
The Publishers have received many letters from leading literary minds, touching the merits of THE HOUSEHOLD OF BOUVERIE. Among others the following
TESTIMONY OF WOMEN:
From Harriet E. Prescott, author of "Sir Rohan's Ghost."
"The 'Household of Bouverie' is unlike anything that I ever read. It has the great merit of arousing curiosity and keeping it alert from the first to the last line. The plot is skillfully conducted, and there is an earnestness in the style that is charming, when put beside the flippant feuilleton-like air of many others."
From Anna Cora Ritchie, author of "Mimic Life."
"The masterly manner in which all the tangled skein is unwound—all the mysteries rationally accounted for—all the improbabilities proved possibilities, and rendered realities to the reader, disarms criticism, and leaves only amazement at the brilliancy and fertility of the author's conception, and admiration for her powers of execution."
From Marion Harland, author of "Nemesis."
"As a piece of imaginative writing, I have seen nothing to equal it since the days of Edgar A. Poe, and I doubt whether he could have sustained himself and reader through a book of half the size of the 'Household of Bouverie.' I was literally hurried through it by my intense sympathy, my devouring curiosity—it was more than interest. I read everywhere, between the courses of the hotel table, on the boat, in the cars, until I had swallowed the last line."

IMPORTANT TO TEACHERS.
Now Ready:
HAND-BOOK OF UNIVERSAL LITERATURE:
From the Best and Latest Authorities. Designed for Popular Reading, and as a Text-Book for Schools and Colleges.
By ANNE C. LYNCH BOTTA.
12mo. $1 25.
From The Evening Post.
"So far as we know this is the first manual of the kind—the first general survey of the literature of all nations and all ages in condensed as a book of reference and for popular reading—that has been produced in our long age. Mrs. Botta has produced a work which is valuable as a panoramic survey of all that the human mind has accomplished in its noblest department of activity. We have universal histories, which are a record of wars and revolutions of changes of government and of the succession of dynasties; this book is the universal history of man's cultivated intellect—a record of triumphs achieved by the reason and the imagination in all lands and all ages of the world."
From The N. Y. Observer.
"It is especially worthy of the attention of teachers, as admirably fitted to be used as a class book in schools. Not so concise as to be dry, nor extended to prolixity, it is instructive and interesting, and will give the scholar an admirable view of general literature. Its merits are of a high order being the fruit of many years' study and great familiarity with the subject so successfully treated."

JUST THE BOOK TO READ BEFORE GOING TO EUROPE.
A RUN THROUGH EUROPE.
1 vol., 12mo., 554 pages. Price $1 25.
SECOND EDITION.
"This book has not a little of the value of a guide book in its copious and accurate details, though its value is immeasurably enhanced to the intelligent traveler by its numerous original and suggestive comments, and its ready appreciation of the quaint and comic objects which everywhere meet the traveler. As a substitute for crossing the ocean, few recent volumes of travel can compare with it."—[Harper's Magazine.
"There is a freshness and seeming novelty in his descriptions of scenery and people, works of art and historical wonders showing that the writer has not attempted to make a mere handbook of travel, but has produced a work replete with instruction and interest."—[Home Journal.
"It has revived our spirits, warmed our blood, refreshed many a dull and fading memory, and, altogether, done us good in spirit."—[Boston Post.
