Police Notes

William Morris, colored, was arrested in a lumber yard by Captain Baker Saturday. Morris is believed to have played a prominent part in several holdups occurring here lately.

Penal summons have been issued for the appearance of Samuel Ferreira, who, at the instance of Special Officers Chilton and Ferry, is charged with fracturing all speed records in returning to town by way of Kalakaua avenue on New Year's eve. In auto No. 137, Ferreira is alleged to have proceeded at a pace dangerous to other travelers along this highway.

Mrs. Mary Mendoza, after crying an alarm when a burglar entered her room, was found early Sunday morning by Officer Hao in a half-conscious condition. After crying out when she saw the intruder enter her room, the woman says he flung himself at her, catching her by the throat and choking and beating her. Later in the morning L. W. Kinolau was arrested as a suspect. He has been identified by Mrs. Mendoza as the man who entered her home.

A $4.00 pair of shoes proved a bargain to a Chinese peddler, when offered by Daniel Dolehan, who claimed a residence at the Salvation Army home. The vending of the footwear caused Dolehan to receive a transfer to Hotel Asch, there to remain for 60 days. Charged with entering the premises of another and making away with the shoes, the defendant failed to prove his innocence when he was arraigned before District Magistrate Monsarrat this morning.

Mrs. H. Hattori, the talented wife of the assistant editor of the Hawaii Shinpo, though only recently come to this country, knows how to handle burglars. At least she demonstrated that she knows how to handle and get the best of a burglar who entered her home Thursday evening, demanding that she surrender her valuables. While the intruder was demanding her money and jewelry, she leaned out the window, and, making-believe she was talking to her husband, ordered him to come up to her room at once. The burglar became frightened and fled. Hence Mrs. Hattori is a heroine.

A. L. C. ATKINSON KEEPS APPOINTMENT WITH THE GOVERNOR—APOLOGIZES

After a lengthy delay of court proceedings that resulted in the court's demand of an apology from Attorney A. L. C. Atkinson, counsel for the defendant, T. S. Choy entered a plea of guilty this morning before Federal Judge C. F. Clemons to a charge of opium smuggling. Sentence was suspended for one week.

Attorney Atkinson had an appointment shortly after 10 o'clock this morning with Governor Pinkham, and rather than miss the engagement he incurred the court's wrath. At 10 o'clock he appeared before Assistant U. S. District Attorney C. C. Bitting with a request that Choy's case, which was set for disposition at that hour, be continued. Bitting refused to grant the request. Atkinson hurried away anyhow, and when court convened a few minutes later, with a full panel of jurors present, proceedings were held in suspense until nearly 11 o'clock, awaiting the attorney's return.

He appeared eventually and when the court demanded it, cheerfully apologized, at the same time explaining the urgent business that had detained him.

T.K.K. PLAN NEW LINERS FOR THIS SERVICE

In every way equal in tonnage and equipment to the Chiyo, Tenyo and Shinyo Maru, plans are now being considered in Japan for a new turbiner, the vessel to be operated in a service between Hongkong, Japan ports, Honolulu and San Francisco, according to a report brought to this city today with the arrival of the Pacific Mail steamer Sibiruthhrechr Pacific Mail steamer Siberia. At the time the Siberia called at Yokohama, the new vessel was practically decided upon by the directors of the Toyo Kisen Kaisha at a meeting held at Tokyo. The story was current that the new vessel would contain a number of improvements over the three large steamers now in the trans-Pacific service.

Nagasaki, Japan, will be the spot selected for the construction of the latest addition to the Japanese fleet. The shipyards at that place are said to be well equipped for the building of large vessels.

It was the opinion of shipping men in the Far East that the need for another vessel by the Japanese company was accentuated because of the proposed opening of the Panama canal. At a meeting of the T. K. K. directorate in March, the letting of the contract for the new vessel is predicted to take place.

VISITORS MEET NEW GOVERNOR IN STEADY STREAM

The stream of visitors flowing in and out of the territorial executive office showed scarcely any diminution this morning, the governor receiving about 27 callers in the three hours up to noon. At that hour a number were turned away with the advice to return at 1:30, and promptly at the appointed hour the business of receiving callers was resumed, continuing almost without interruption until 3 o'clock, when the governor held his conference with 40 representative Democrats of the city and islands.

Among those who called this morning were High Sheriff William Henry, J. F. Durao, A. E. Lloyd, W. H. Hoogs, R. A. Cooke and George P. Cooke, A. L. C. Atkinson, F. Boyer, R. Brown, Fred Sackwitz, Mr. Fernandez, C. G. Ballentyne, R. B. Anderson, James Wakefield, F. B. McStocker, Miss Awana, Dr. W. A. Schwallie, A. C. Silva, C. R. Hemenway, Attorney-general W. W. Thayer, F. D. Klamp, C. C. von Hamm and A. A. Young, M. F. Prosser, Dr. J. S. B. Pratt, C. E. Wright, J. W. Caldwell and F. J. Lowrey.

'DID NOT VISIT THE BARRACKS SUNDAY,' SAYS JEFF M'CARN

"I did not visit Schofield Barracks yesterday," said United States District Attorney Jeff McCarn this morning, "and I had no knowledge of officers' clubs on the military reservation at which intoxicating liquors are alleged to be sold, until I saw the statement in the paper.

"I was on my way to visit Schofield with a number of friends, but a rain came up just as we arrived in front of the barracks and we turned back to the city. I intended visiting and inspecting the reservation merely as an interested citizen, not with any view to discovering infringements of the liquor or other federal statutes.

"However, since it has been called to my attention, I undoubtedly will make some investigation of the liquor traffic alleged to be conducted on the military reservations. Just what I can do and how far I can go in the matter remains to be determined.

"I have been told also that a certain man is erecting a beer saloon near the reservation and that he is having a tunnel dug under the railway crossing leading to his place, by way of catering to his expected trade. Whether the tunnel is intended for the protection from passing trains of patrons who leave his saloon rather the worse for partaking of his goods I cannot say. But I am told he is verging upon federal property in his operations and will investigate it."

KOREAN 'Y' IS CONSIDERED FOR CITY OF HONOLULU

Notwithstanding the scarcity for funds, the need for Y. M. C. A. work among the Koreans of Honolulu is becoming so pressing that the local central association is considering its establishment, and the preliminary plans were discussed by General Secretary Paul Super and his associates at a conference this morning.

During Friday and Saturday of last week, Dr. Syngman Rhee of the Korean boarding school, Frank C. Atherton, treasurer of the central association, and Secretaries Paul Super and Lloyd Killam went over the ground in conference and now believe that they have found a way to finance the proposed project. These plans will be submitted to the board of directors of the association at its meeting Thursday noon and, if they meet with the approval of that body, steps will at once be taken to carry out the details, which will mean a speedy and early establishment of the work.

The plan would be launched through organization work among the boys and young men of the Korean boarding school, the majority of whom range in age from 18 to 23 years. Glenn E. Jackson, extension work secretary of the central association, has been teaching a Bible class of some 20 members at the school and has been leading in the boys' athletics and physical work. His enthusiastic reports as to the interest and possibilities of the Koreans has been a factor in leading the association to undertake the project. When Dr. Rhee was in the Orient recently, he served for some time as a secretary at the Y. M. C. A. at Seoul, Korea, doing special work among the students. While thus engaged, he met a Mr. Choi, who was formerly a secretary of student work in the Korean capital and who now has charge of all the Y. M. C. A. work among the Korean students in Tokio, Japan. Dr. Rhee understands that this man is available for work in Honolulu. If the directors of the association favor the organization of work among the Koreans at the Thursday meeting, Dr. John R. Mott, head of the student Y. M. C. A. work of the world, will be asked to appoint Mr. Choi to this city.

The work for the Koreans would be inaugurated by placing Mr. Choi in the Korean school to develop a student association, and work from the students out into the hundreds of Koreans in Honolulu, and then gradually start a Korean city association. A subscription covering nearly one-half of the necessary budget already has been received and it is believed that the remaining funds may be secured from the members of the central association in subscriptions of from $1 to $5. It is thought that those who enjoy the privileges of the splendid Honolulu Y. M. C. A. building will be more than glad to contribute to the fund to establish similar work among the local Koreans.

E. E. BATTELLE SAYS REPORT IS VERY RIDICULOUS

"To say that the so-called Gordon process infringes on my patents is to say that a bullfrog infringes on the patents of a flying-machine," said E. E. Battelle this morning, referring to the statement given publication that his process was endangered by the Gordon scheme for the extraction of sugar from the cane without the aid of refiners.

According to the article published, the Gordon process is encroaching on the rights of the Battelle process and serious consequences were about to arise. As a matter of fact, about the only similarity between the two processes is that they both aim to secure sugar from cane.

"The Gordon process simply uses the Java or cold carbonization with the usual treatment used in Hawaii," said Battelle this morning.

"If the Battelle company, through some charitable act, allowed the Gordon process the Steffens rights, it would be unable to take advantage of it. At the best the Gordon process can only produce from 5 to 15 per cent less per pound than the Battelle.

"It is ridiculous to consider the two processes alike in an essential."

REPORT SAYS NEW CHINESE MINISTER NAMED

News has been received in the local Chinese community that Shah Kai-Fu, formerly Chinese consul at New York, has been named minister from the new republic to Washington.

The news has caused great surprise among local Chinese, as the appointment of Dr. Wu Ting Fang was confidently expected.

Shah Kai-Fu was Chinese consul at New York from 1904 to 1908. He was appointed minister on December 20. He is expected to come through Honolulu on his way to his new post and will be welcomed by prominent Chinese here.

GOVERNOR TO FOLLOW OUT WILSON PLAN

ditions, it is ready to point out and advocate specific remedies.

So far not only has his own party, but members of other parties have joined, in progressively enacting imperatively necessary legislation as recommended by the president.

Government has become a vast business organization requiring the highest experience, character, capacity and efficiency in those charged with conducting its details.

Any change in the masters of these details must proceed in a natural order that there may be no untoward disturbance in the organized business of the government.

This has been recognized by previous administrations and correspondingly by the present.

It has been believed by the chief executive and his cabinet heads that personal suggestion, and personal endorsement, and personal responsibility therefor, are the best methods of securing the highest qualified executive officials.

Your governor believes the course above indicated will be productive of the most satisfactory results to the Democratic party and the citizens and people of the territory of Hawaii.

Excepting no Democrat however high, or however humble, he invites and will listen to and carefully consider their individual suggestions, recommendations, applications and petitions.

The governor will reserve to himself the decisions pertinent to his office and responsibility, and his loyalty to the national administration in carrying out its policies.

I desire to urge all Democrats to bear in mind that the strength of the party is in what it accomplishes for the good of all the people.

I have endeavored to open an unimpeded way between all Democrats for party counsels and all the people for public counsels with the governor.

Your governor will stand unmoved for principles and policies he believes sound and imperatively fundamental.

Those who opposed him may be assured he has no resentments and will weigh carefully all their suggestions and consider their desires.

We are at best a small community, depending on our location and strategic importance for our place and reputation in the union and world.

Your governor prefers at present personal consultations, as he has had no experience in party discussions and asks they may be deferred until he has had the opportunity to become fully acquainted with its personnel.

The limitations of the executive office and lack of time may have caused some omissions in invitations that I may regret, but it has no significance, as this memorandum will have full publicity.

Several Democrats wishing for an invitation but lacking one, and believing the list to be what the governor declared it not to be—inclusive—expressed keen disappointment at not receiving a bidding to the meeting. This morning several of them agreed to "remain aloof," adopting a phrase of Supervisor Wolter's, who felt slighted at not receiving an invitation. Others of the party, however, look at it in a different light and realize that it would be next to impossible for an invitation list carrying the names of all active Democrats to be made up for the occasion.

The supervisors—three of whom are invited to the meeting, Supervisor Pacheco, Petrie and McClellan—and Mayor J. J. Fern had agreed to call on the governor in a body this morning to discuss several matters of territorial and county interest, such as the transfer of the water and sewer systems, a bond issue for a city and county hall, etc. But on account of the meeting, it was decided to put off their call until later in the week.

Following is the list of the Democrats invited to the governor's meeting:

W. H. McClellan, J. J. Fern, Lester Petrie, C. W. Ashford, L. L. McCandless, E. M. Watson, Gilbert J. Waller, W. W. Thayer, Chas. T. Wilder, A. A. Wilder, J. L. Coke, A. J. Wirtz, S. M. Damon, D. E. Metzger, Albert Horner, Harry Irwin, Jeff McCarn, E. A. McInerny, J. Lightfoot, M. C. Pacheco, S. S. Paxson, Julius W. Asch, A. S. Robertson, C. H. Rose, Charles Barron, Palmer Woods, J. Frank Woods, Judge W. S. Edings, Curtis P. Iaukea, C. J. McCarthy, W. A. Bryan, R. H. Trent, J. H. Raymond, J. K. Farley, Robert Hind, W. C. McGonagle, T. J. Fitzpatrick, John Effinger, Sheriff Jarrett.

SOLDIERS MAY NOT TAKE STAND IN OWN DEFENSE

After the jury had viewed the scene at Iwilei where the Japanese hackman was murdered on the night of August 11, the actual hearing of the case against George James Joseph Lyons and Ray C. Smith, the two soldiers accused of the crime, was taken up in Judge Robinson's court this morning. Five witnesses for the prosecution were called, the examination of four being completed by 12:30 p. m., when the trial was continued to 8:30 o'clock tomorrow morning.

City and County Attorney J. W. Cathcart reviewed briefly the evidence which the prosecution will offer in its attempt to fasten guilt upon both prisoners. He called attention to the fact that the indictment charges each of the men with the actual attack, and that it also accuses each of being an accessory before the fact. He traced the soldiers' movements on the fateful evening from the hour they entered a room of a hotel on Beretania street carrying a flask of whiskey down to the time Chief of Detectives McDuffie, hurrying to Iwilei on the report of the murder, found Smith lying in a comatose condition beside the road, and the apprehension of Lyons some days later as Smith's partner of that night.

He said the evidence would tend to prove these two had "chartered a sea-going hack" after leaving the Beretania rooming house, and then enroute to Iwilei they had paused half an hour at a saloon, where numerous drinks were imbibed and another flask obtained. At Iwilei, he said, he would prove one man had entered the house of one "Black Annie," and engaged in a row with her, returning to the hack a few moments later. He will seek to prove these were the same men who were seen to leap from the same vehicle five minutes later and disappear, only a few instants before the driver's body was discovered lying across the left front wheel with the throat cut and life extinct.

It seems likely the real story of that night's affair will never be told publicly. Attorney L. M. Straus, who with S. F. Chillingworth is defending the prisoners, indicated in his queries to the prospective jurors last week that one or possibly both men will decline to take the witness stand in their own behalf.

The witnesses examined today were A. Auraya, Dr. William Moore, Henry Walker, T. Ida and Police Officer Joseph Kaui.

UNDESIRABLES WILL BE DEPORTED IN THE P. M. LINER SIBERIA

Undesirable French women to the number of six will be deported tomorrow morning on the Pacific Mail liner Siberia unless action is taken by them through the medium of a writ of habeas corpus. This information was given out this morning by Richard L. Halsey, inspector in charge of the federal immigration station.

These women, said Mr. Halsey, are the last of the lot placed under arrest during the recent clean-up of the Iwilei district. Several of the women have already applied for habeas corpus and, according to Mr. Halsey, those who have taken no action of this kind will be sent from the territory to the mainland.

The man for our money is the one who never acts "abused" no matter how much he is confused!
