Our Christmas Sentiment

"A Christmas greeting to everybody, for Christmas belongs to everybody; to the baby who laughs and claps his hands at the Christmas tree; to the youth and maiden who delight in the high spirits and good cheer of the Christmas festival; to the man and woman in the prime of life, who, putting aside every care and ambition, become young again, hanging up their stockings with the children; to the old people, their minds full of memories of Christmas joys of long ago. It is the universal holiday, observed by all ages, races and conditions. No one is outside of its genial warmth and blessing."
