The Death of Major-Gen. Sumner.

SYRACUSE, Tuesday, March 24, 1863.

The body of Major-Gen. Sumner was removed from his residence to the City Hall at 9½ o'clock this morning, under a military escort from the 51st Regiment, and to the sound of muffled drums, where it remains in state the entire day, and is being visited by thousands of our citizens and many others, coming in from the country.

The body is lying upon a catafalque, under a canopy handsomely decorated with flowers, interspersed with the emblems of mourning, and draped with numerous flags.

The massive burial case is adorned with bouquets of natural flowers, and entwined with the Stars and Stripes.

A military guard is on duty over the remains, and will escort the body back to the house to-night.

The funeral will take place at 11 o'clock tomorrow forenoon, and will be the most imposing affair of the kind ever witnessed in Western or Central New-York.

About 20,000 people visited the remains during the day.

TRENTON, Tuesday, March 24, 1863.

An attempt was made to rob the safe of H. J. Messenger, banker, at Canton, N. Y., on Monday night, but the robbers could not effect an entrance.

Board of Councilmen.

The Councilmen had a short session yesterday. A large number of papers from the Board of Aldermen were disposed of.

The resolutions of the Aldermen to compel the Eighth Avenue Railroad to run their cars to Eighty-second street were referred.

Messrs. Keenan, Sandford, Brandis, Haviland, and McKay were appointed the Special Committee on the part of the Council to go to Albany to endeavor to have the appointments of Commissioners of Deeds legalized.

The resolutions of the Aldermen remonstrating against the passage of a bill by the Legislature to fix the terms of office of Heads of City Departments was referred to the Committee on Law, and resolutions in favor of such bill were adopted, and directed to be sent to the City representatives at Albany. The following are the resolutions of the Councilmen in full:

Whereas, A bill has been introduced into the Legislature of the State, proposing to extend the terms of office of certain of the heads of departments of the City Government, occupying the most important and arduous positions therein, which require on the part of new incumbents great labor and attention, and much time to become familiar with the best mode of conducting the business of the same, and to acquire a knowledge of the most economical and expeditious manner of administering the affairs placed in their hands, to the greatest advantage for the interest of their constituents; and

Whereas, The evils of the very short terms of office now allowed have ever been apparent, not only in the inconvenience and great cost attendant upon frequent elections, but also in the injury and delays caused by the displacing of tried and practiced incumbents, who, by experience, have become thoroughly fitted to fill their positions, to put in their stead others without that acquaintance with the administration of the affairs intrusted to them, which is so necessary and desirable for the general good, not to refer to the absence of incitement to ambition and exertion which must naturally result from an official's consciousness that he is likely to be set aside at the expiration of his present short term, as opposed to a knowledge that his position is fixed one for a period that will allow him to demonstrate his ability and zeal for the public welfare; and

Whereas, Such action by the Legislature as the extending or shortening of the terms of office of heads of departments in this city is no new thing, but has been had in several instances, as for example in the case of the City Chamberlain (for which see Laws of 1861, chapter 186), and the constitutionality of the same has been admitted; and

Whereas, The said bill has been favorably reported by the Committee to whom it was referred, and ordered to be considered in an early Committee of the whole House, thus showing that it is favorably entertained by the Legislature; therefore

Resolved, That the Senators and members of Assembly from this city be requested to make known and press upon the Legislature the favorable feeling of this Board toward said bill, and their desire that the same should be passed at the present session.

Resolved, That the Clerk of this Board be and he hereby is directed to forward forthwith a copy of the foregoing preamble and resolutions to the Governor of the State, and to each of the Senators and Assemblymen from this city.

The resolutions of the Aldermen relative to the death of Comptroller Hawes were concurred in, and Messrs. McConnell, Gross, and Hepper, were appointed the Special Committee on the part of the Board of Councilmen to make arrangements for the Common Council to attend the funeral.

The Board adjourned to Thursday.

WELLER—Fell at the battle of Fredericksburg, on Saturday, Dec. 13, 1862, Lieut. Edwin J. Weller, 20th Regiment, Mass. Vol., son of John and Ann J. Weller, in the 22d year of his age.

OBITUARY.—Lieut. EDWIN J. WELLER, of the 20th Regiment, Mass. Vol., who fell in the desperate charge of the Irish Brigade on the Rebel batteries at the battle of Fredericksburg, merits more than a passing notice.

Firmly believing in the justice of the war, he patriotically volunteered in the 20th Regiment, and was promoted to a Lieutenancy before the battle for the faithful performance of his duties on all occasions. As color guard he was slightly wounded at the battle of Bull Run.

He was endeared to a large circle of friends by his many virtues, his social and literary acquirements, and for his generous and affectionate disposition, who deeply feel and deplore his loss.

He fell in the cause he loved so well, in the flower of his manhood, and sealed his devotion to his country with his blood. "Sweet be the sleep of the dead; low their pillow of dust."

He was the author of many fugitive pieces of poetry, among which, "Corcoran, or the Vow of the 24th," published in the Boston papers, ranks high as a poetical effusion. At the time of his death he had nearly completed an elaborate poem, which he entitled "Arnold's Dream," and which has been pronounced by his friends a work of great merit.

On the march to Fredericksburg the writer of this brief memoir heard him recite some of its canto's with great pleasure and satisfaction; and can yet hardly realize that the warm hearted and talented young author is no more!

His friends here deeply sympathize with his family, who have lost a brave, worthy and generous son and brother, whose many virtues endear him to their memories. Peace to his ashes! WM. MITCHELL, 24th Regt., Mass. Vol.

The Death of Mr. Haws.—REPUBLICAN CENTRAL COMMITTEE OF THE CITY AND COUNTY OF NEW-YORK.—At a special meeting held TUESDAY EVENING, March 24, 1863, the President, Mr. Darling, announced the death of the Hon. ROBERT T. HAWS, whereupon the following preamble and resolutions, presented by E. Delafield Smith, were unanimously adopted:

Whereas, At the call of our President, we have assembled, as the representatives of the Republicans of the City of New-York, to offer a tribute of respect and affection to the memory of Robert T. Haws; therefore,

Resolved, That not in the terms of a cold formality, but in the sorrowing language of the heart, we desire to testify our sense of the purity and nobility which characterized him whose untimely death has just been announced. We would not mourn him as partisans, for his fidelity to principle was as softened by the amenities of his nature as to make the entire community mourners at his bier. Yet as loyal Americans we cannot but grieve that a citizen so useful and a patriot so true could not have been spared in this day of national gloom. When such men are taken, the dependence of our country upon the God of our fathers is brought home to us with new emphasis.

Resolved, That in all his relations, both public and private, as a man and a public officer, ROBERT T. HAWS has few peers and no superior. As a member of the Board of Health, during the ravages of the cholera of 1849 and '50, he displayed a tenderness and fidelity, a courage and humanity which must ever endear his name to the sick and the suffering; while the commanding ability and the unswerving integrity demonstrated by him during a long term as Controller of our city finances placed him in the front rank of our public men. And while we grieve over his death as that of a friend and associate, we sorrow over the loss sustained by the country in the death of one so eminently qualified for exalted public station.

Resolved, That as a testimonial of the sentiments with which this Committee have received the sad tidings of the death of Mr. Haws, the members will attend his funeral, and will cherish with undying fidelity, and as a priceless heritage, his noble example of manliness and truth.

"Tears fell when he was dying
From eyes unused to weep;
And long where he is lying
Shall tears the cold turf steep."

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions, properly authenticated, be transmitted to the family of the deceased, and be published in the public newspapers.
WILLIAM A. DARLING, President.
A. M. PALMER, JOHN J. SHAW, } Secretaries.

NEW-YORK, March 24, 1863.

At a Meeting of the late attaches of the Department of Finance, held at the Astor House, this day, the following preamble and resolutions were adopted:

Whereas, The wisdom of a Divine Providence has suddenly called from among us the Hon. Robert T. Hawes; and whereas, for the past four years we have held positions under his administration of the Finance Department of the city of New-York, where we have had the opportunity becoming fully and intimately acquainted with his virtues and abilities; we, therefore, feel it our sorrowful privilege and duty to place on record our testimony as to his kindness and courtesy in all our relations with him.

Resolved, That in heartfelt sorrow we receive the intelligence of the decease of Robert T. Haws, late Controller of this city who has been taken from our midst in the full vigor of his intellect and usefulness.

Be it fed, That while we bow with humble submission to the decree of a Divine Providence, we deeply deplore the loss of a dearly beloved friend, and we have the satisfaction of recording our testimony to his noble character, high-toned honor, warm and generous heart, and many endearing social qualities.

Resolved, That we sincerely condole with his numerous relatives and friends in the irreparable loss of such a man as Robert T. Haws, who only knew was to honor and esteem.

Resolved, That in respect to his memory as a pure and upright public officer with whom we have been associated for the past four years, we will attend his funeral in a body.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions, properly engrossed and attested by the officers of this meeting, be presented to the family of the deceased.

The meeting then, in compliance with an invitation from the officers of the Finance Department, adjourned, and proceeded in a body to the Controller's Office, and formed a joint meeting, at which the following Resolutions were adopted:

Resolved, That we heartily concur in the preamble and resolutions passed by the former attaches of the Finance Department, under the late Robert T. Haws, at a meeting held at the Astor House this day.

Resolved, That in consideration of the many virtues and eminent ability of the lamented deceased, and concurring in the numerous expressions of public regard and esteem for him, we will meet at the Westchester House, corner of Bowery and Broome-sts., at 2 o'clock p. m., for the purpose of attending the funeral of the Deceased.

At a Meeting of the Commissioners of Taxes and Assessments, Deputies, Assessors and Clerks, held at their office, No. 32 Chambers-st., on Tuesday, the 24th of March, for the purpose of paying the last tribute of respect to the memory of the Hon. ROBERT T. HAWS, late Controller of the City of New-York, Amor J. Williamson was called to the Chair and William P. Powers appointed Secretary. The meeting being organized, the Chairman made some brief and appropriate remarks on the character and virtues of the deceased. On motion of Caspar C. Childs, the following resolutions were unanimously adopted:

Whereas, It has pleased the Great Disposer of events to remove from the scenes of his earthly usefulness the Hon. Robert T. Haws, late Controller, who had endeared himself to his fellow-citizens by his worth of character, kindness of heart and firmness of purpose; whose conduct, whether in the performance of official responsibility, was distinguished by the strictest integrity and animated by the most devoted and enlightened zeal in everything conducive to the public welfare.

Resolved, That we, the Commissioners, Deputies, Assessors and clerks attached to this office, deplore with sincere and heartfelt sorrow, the loss of an estimable citizen and a kind friend, whose actions, ever candid and open, were the reflection of honorable motives and singleness of purpose; whose firmness was tempered with gentleness and good-will to all, and whose career as Controller of our city, has marked him as a counsellor of the worthiest who have adorned that position.

Resolved, That as a token of respect and esteem for the memory of the deceased, a copy of these resolutions be tendered to the family, signed by the officers of this meeting, and that we attend the funeral in a body.

On motion of Joseph W. Brown, esq., the proceedings were ordered to be published.
