GREAT SUCCESS OF THE SEASON.

ANOTHER EDITION READY TO-DAY.

EDMUND KIRKE'S NEW BOOK,

MY SOUTHERN FRIENDS,

JUST PUBLISHED,

and a very large demand for it already existing.

MY SOUTHERN FRIENDS.

The new Book by the Author of

"AMONG THE PINES."

The following extracts from some of the many notices of this work show how it has been received by the Press. It is universally spoken of as

SUPERIOR TO "AMONG THE PINES."

"These vivid sketches are as interesting as chapters of a novel, and they form an important part of the indirect testimony whereby the future historian will elucidate the present bloody crisis."—[Boston Transcript.

"The author handles his materials with ease and spirit, infusing into his delineations of negro life something very like reality. His pictures of Southern life, abounding as they do in strong lights and shades, are not in the main unfair."—[New-York World.

"Its style is attractive and engrossing; the dialogues running through it captivating to the last degree; and the pictures it daguerreotypes will not soon be forgotten by those who look steadily upon them."—[Boston Banner of Light.

"Mr. Kirke has written a book for which every earnest friend of his country that reads it will thank him."—[Albany Statesman.

"A truthfuller portraiture of the peculiar institution than 'Uncle Tom's Cabin.'"—[N. Y. Examiner.

"It will be a hard task to gainsay the statements of Mr. Kirke."—[Boston Pilot.

"Remarkably well written."—[Sunday Times.

"No more interesting books have come from the press than 'My Southern Friends,' and 'Among the Pines.'"—[Chicago Ch. Times.

"More intensely interesting than 'Among the Pines.'"—[Lewiston Journal.

"None will regret the time spent in its perusal."—[Bath Sentinel.

"We wish every one might read it."—[New-Haven Palladium.

"It wears the appearance of verisimilitude, and keeps the reader awake without undue excitement."—[N. Y. Evening Post.

"Well written, and true to life."—[Worcester Palladium.

"Unquestionably truthful, and drawn with remarkable graphic power."—[Phila. Presbyterian.

"One of the most graphic and truthful delineations of Southern life that have been published."—[Utica Herald.

"The author has written for an honest purpose, from a high point of view, not to please popular taste or influence popular prejudice, but to make known the truth in relation to the South."—[St. Paul Press.

"It enters into the very heart of Southern life, and reveals its most secret mysteries."—[Boston Flag.

"Deeply interesting; marked by simplicity of style, natural dialogue, and true humor and pathos."—[Boston Journal.

"The features of Southern life are sharply and truthfully defined in it."—[Philadelphia Chronicle.

"While not a novel, it is as captivating as 'the last new one.' It is truth dressed in her tastiest and most charming garb."—[Indianapolis Democrat.

"More life-like scenes and narrations were never given, and more intense pictorial interest has been seldom attained in any publication."—[Roxbury Journal.

"It is more interesting than 'Among the Pines,' which has sold to the extent of 40,000 copies."—[Troy Times.

"A close observer of Southern life, and competent to tell well what he sees clearly, the author has written better of slaveholding society than any other person who has attempted to describe it."—[Boston Daily Advertiser.

"Depicted with a vigor, simple naturalness, and pathos which carry irresistible conviction, and create continued and absorbing interest."—[Buffalo Express.

"Life-like and truthful as a photograph. The skill of the author in drawing truthful portraits of the poor whites, and imitating their talk, and that of the negroes, is truly wonderful."—Hartford Press.

"Vivid and truthful."—Taunton Gazette.

"More interesting, if possible, than 'Among the Pines.' It is not the production of a mind pervaded by a fanatical spirit, but of a man who has observed for himself, and who describes what he has seen, in a style that may well be called word-painting."—Cambridge Chronicle.

"In parts it is as pathetic as any of Mrs. Gaskell's or Mrs. Stowe's books. It will be widely read."—Boston Commonwealth.

AMONG THE PINES,
AND

A NEW NOVEL, BY MISS SEWELL.

D. APPLETON & Co.,
Nos. 443 and 445 BROADWAY,
PUBLISH THIS DAY,

A GLIMPSE OF THE WORLD.

By MISS SEWELL,
author of "Amy Herbert."
One vol., 12mo., cloth, $1 25.

From The London Athenæum.

The World of which a glimpse is given in this commendable tale is the world of domestic cares, trials, and affections. The interest of the narrative depends less upon plot and incident than on delineation of character.

From The Press.

Of this authoress's style and language it would be superfluous to speak. The simplicity of a refined nature, the ease of a skilled writer, and the correctness of an industrious one, are conspicuous in every page.

JUST PUBLISHED,

TWO PICTURES;

OR,

WHAT WE THINK OF OURSELVES
AND
WHAT THE WORLD THINKS OF US.

1 Vol. 12 mo., Cloth. $1 50.

From The Commercial Advertiser.

The author of "Two Lives" and of "Charms and Counter Charms" will never lack readers, and in the volume before us she has transcended herself. There are thickly scattered through "Two Pictures" some of the truest touches of human nature and some of the most pointed applications of principles that we have ever met with. Moreover it is a truly American novel in scene and tone, and nearly philanthropic in sentiment. We commend it to our readers with the most perfect confidence that none can peruse it without being charmed and profited.

D. A. & Co., also publish:

EVIDENCE AS TO MAN'S PLACE IN NATURE. By Thomas H. Huxley. One vol., 12mo. Cloth, $1 25.

THE ANNUAL CYCLOPÆDIA AND REGISTER OF IMPORTANT EVENTS OF THE YEAR 1862. One vol., 8vo. Cloth, $3 50; Sheep, $4; half Morocco, $4 50; half Russia, $5.

THE SYMBOLIC CHARACTER OF THE OLD TESTAMENT. By the Rev. Ariel Silver. One vol., 12mo. $1 25.

MADGE; Or, NIGHT AND MORNING. By H. G. B. One vol., 12mo. Cloth, $1 25.

TWO NEW BOOKS.

Messrs. TICKNOR & FIELDS Publish this Day.

I.

OUT-DOOR PAPERS.

By THOMAS WENTWORTH HIGGINSON.

Gymnastics.	The Procession of the Flowers.
A New Counterblast.	Snow.

II.

LILIAN:

A ROMANCE.

1 vol., 16mo. price $1.

"LILIAN.—We have been fortunate enough to see the early sheets of a novel, which we may announce, we believe, as a Boston novel—to be published by Ticknor & Fields. No author's name appears upon the title page, but it is whispered that Lilian is the work of a Bostonian. It is evidently the work of a lady—of one who has traveled much and traveled well—of ready appreciation of the beauties of art and nature—an artist indeed in the mysteries of music.

"The story is singularly exciting in passages and in its denouement; and so varied in its scenes that the actors are led into a variety of surroundings which severely test the author's ability in one of the most difficult lines of her art. The human scenes, and the scaffold life seem to us especially successful.

"Lilian will be published early in June, and we predict for it decided success."—[Boston Daily Advertiser.

Either of the above works for sale by all booksellers, or sent postpaid on receipt of the price.

TICKNOR & FIELDS, Publishers,
No. 135 Washington-st., Boston, Mass.

IN PRESS, and will be Published Saturday, June 13, 1863.

THE CASTLE'S HEIR.

BY MRS. HENRY WOOD.

Embellished with eleven large illustrative Engravings, of the best scenes in the work, engraved from original drawings made expressly for this edition by the first artists in this country, irrespective of cost.

It will be published complete in two large octavo volumes, beautifully illustrated, and neatly done up in paper covers. Price One Dollar a copy; or bound in one volume, cloth, for $1 25.

Address all orders to the Publishers,

T. B. PETERSON & BROTHERS,
No. 306 Chestnut-st., Philadelphia, and they will receive immediate attention.

THE FEMALE POPE
OR SAINT INDIGO.

"This ludicrous character, from the new novel, 'Lulu,' by a son of the Hon. Chancellor Walworth, is creating a sensation. Already thirty towns recognize her in their own midst, and other characters also from the chapters, "Our Set and the other Set," and abounds of laughter ensue."—[Albany Evening Atlas and Argus.

A NEW EDITION READY.

"It beats Widow Bedott all to pieces."

Everybody has heard of the mysterious poisoning cases at the National Hotel in Washington, D. C., which signalized, as it were prophetically, the inauguration of Buchanan. One of the sufferers from this mysterious catastrophe, Mr. Walworth of Saratoga, seems to have been haunted thereby; his experience indeed was "stranger than fiction," and, perhaps partly to disorder his mind so the terrible nightmare, he has written a story based upon those well known and unexplained events, lightening the tragic details thereof by sketches of character, eminent and formative, from their political or social standing. This unique novel of real life in America in the nineteenth century, is entitled "Lulu," and was just appointed with Carleton's imprint.—[Boston Transcript.

This book is sold by all booksellers, and is sent by mail free, on receipt of $1 25, by CARLETON, Publisher,
No. 413 Broadway, New-York,
Corner of Lispenard-street.
