Americans Send a Valuable Cargo to Starving Russians

BREAD FOR CRYING CHILDREN

Over 5,500,000 Pounds of Grain Donated—Abject Condition of German Colonists in Russia.

NEW YORK, March 8.—The steamship Missouri began loading Monday the great cargo of grain given by the American people to the starving Russians. The value, including expenses donated, will be $150,000. The following is the contribution of each state to the free cargo:

Alabama, 400 pounds; Colorado, 5,000; District of Columbia, 37,800; Iowa, 34,160; Indiana, 114,010; Illinois, 180,940; Kansas, 148,000; Kentucky, 11,760; Louisiana, 300; Maryland, 8,280; Michigan, 180,320; Minnesota, 1,350,504; Missouri, 127,100; Nebraska, 69,960; New Mexico, 3,000; New York, 1,691,400; North Dakota, 188,000; Ohio, 100,877; Pennsylvania, 140,704; South Dakota, 89,780; Tennessee, 18,000; Texas, 3,360; Virginia, 1,800; Wisconsin, 91,140; Canada, 3,000. Total amount of flour, 4,000,704 pounds; cornmeal, 1,000,000 pounds. Total, 5,500,704.

In an Abject Condition.

LONDON, March 6.—The special correspondent of Reuter's Telegram Company, who is visiting the famine-stricken portions of Russia, sends the following letter from Saratoff, under date of February 29, descriptive of the German colonists on the Volga: "The German colonists on the Volga number about 300,000. The condition of the colonists is really worse than that of the Russian peasants in other districts, inasmuch as the former have no natural protectors or guardians. The estate owners to whom the Russian peasants formerly belonged still take a sort of patriarchal interest in them and help them in their distress.

No Hand to Save Them.

But the German colonists have no one to whom they can look except a few wealthy employers of labor. The colonists have a feeling that they are left alone to die. No hand is stretched out to save them. Even the government aid, scanty enough in all conscience, has been meted out more grudgingly and in smaller quantities to them than to others. The Red Cross society has passed them by altogether. This is how it comes about that while the inhabitants of the Russian villages in Saratoff are fed the Germans are starving."

For Starving Newfoundlanders.

LONDON, March 8.—Lord Mayor Evans has issued an appeal to the public in behalf of the suffering people of Newfoundland. Owing to the severity of the winter, the storms which have interfered with the fisheries and from other causes there is a widespread destitution on the island and many families are without the necessities of life. Lord Mayor Evans advises that contributions be sent to Sir William Whiteway, premier of the island.
