ITALIAN OPERA AND GOTTSCHALK.—To-night, at Grover's Theatre, Rossini's celebrated opera of "The Barber of Seville" will be produced, with a most powerful cast. Madame D'Angri, the celebrated contralto, will appear in the role of Rosina, a role in which she has no rival; Brignoli, the famous tenor, as Almaviva; Susini, in his world-renowned character of Bartolo; Manusi, as Figaro; Amodio, as Basilio; while Gottschalk, the great pianist, will perform four of his great compositions. This will be the last night but one of the opera. A large and fashionable audience may be expected.

FORD'S ATHENEUM.—This favorite place was crowded last night, to witness the representation of the "Gladiator." The increasing popularity of the Atheneum gives evidence that the efforts of the management to please and instruct the public are appreciated.

To-night the house will, without doubt, be crowded to its at most capacity, to see Forrest in his last night of the present engagement. The "Lady of Lyons" is announced for to-night.

CANTERBURY.—The great dance entitled the "Gipsey's Lay" produces the greatest enthusiasm each night, and our citizens can never grow weary in listening to the sweet strains of Misses Mortimer and Duval, or in witnessing the charming dancing of the fascinating Millie Fowler. Pugilistic

John Howard, who seems to possess none of the amiable qualities of his illustrious namesake, concluded that as a soldier's business is to fight he would try the mettle of a certain soldier he met on the street yesterday afternoon, near the corner of D and Seventh street. Officers Morris and Fess arrested him and took him before Justice Walter, who fined him $2 58.

Fifth Ward.

To the Editors of the National Republican:

Many citizens of the Fifth ward desire to state, through your paper, that there was great injustice manifested (not intentional) in the selection of a chairman for our ward meeting on Wednesday night. All citizens in that ward who sustain the war policy of the Administration, were invited to attend, irrespective of party. A large meeting convened, and many prominent Democrats took part in it, and not a single one was honored with a nomination, though two or three unexceptionable names were presented, and but one Republican was nominated.

The meeting adopted a resolution embodying the very principle suggested in the call, viz: "that we cordially endorse the war policy of the Administration in putting down this infamous rebellion." Democrats and Republicans present heartily sustained the resolution, and Mr. G. F. Gulick spoke against, it and voted against it, and he was placed in nomination by the highest number of votes given for one of the nominees.

Again, all the candidates except the Alderman were taken from the southern portion of the ward, thus giving the cold shoulder to the northern and central portions of the ward. The meeting, we trust and believe, had no intention to thus do wrong, or act unjustly in its deliberations, and we call attention to the facts now, in order that all causes of complaint may be removed at the adjourned meeting on Monday night next.

MANY CITIZENS.

Mt. Pleasant Homeopathic Hospital.

MOUNT PLEASANT HOMOEOPATHIC HOSPITAL,
Washington, May 5, 1862.

In giving notice of the Mount Pleasant Homeopathic Hospital, in the National Republican, of the 26th April last, I used the following language, in reference to the Sanitary Commission:

"And I must not forget to remember with feelings of gratitude the liberality of the Sanitary Commission, in loaning to this humane and arduous enterprise partial supplies from their well-filled warehouses."

At the time this notice was prepared for publication, the Sanitary Commission, through F. N. Knapp, Esq., one of the gentlemen in charge of their office, had prepared a list of furnishing articles they were willing to loan for the use of the Hospital, and agreed to send them up; and not knowing that this determination had been, or would be, revoked by the commission, I expressed my gratitude for this mark of friendship to the enterprise, in the above language. But not feeling justified in saying that humane organization in a position before the public they are not willing to occupy, it is proper that I should state, through the same channel in which that notice was given, that the Commission, after promising and refusing, re-promising and delaying, from the 14th until the 30th of April, positively refused to aid in the establishment or maintainance of the Mount Pleasant Homeopathic Hospital; the only homeopathic hospital, so far as I am informed, ever established in this country, for the relief of the sick and wounded soldiers; and this too when their large stock of hospital supplies is becoming food for mice, vermin and mould, for want of use.

Fathers, mothers, brothers, sisters, wives and friends of the soldiers, whose humanity, patriotism and noble generosity have filled the storehouses of the Sanitary Commission with good and comfortable things, for the gratuitous use of the sick and wounded, in the army, be he alopathic or homeopathic, do you know that your husbands, sons, brothers and friends, who have become prostrated by disease, or wounded on the field of battle, fighting in defence of the Union and the rights of free government, cannot enjoy these good and comfortable things, unless they are willing to take with these gifts—these bounties of your warm sympathies and generous patriotism—alopathic doses, administered by alopathic physicians! Remember, (for it ought to be remembered,) that your husbands, sons, and friends in the army, who put themselves under homeopathic treatment, in private homeopathic hospitals, (and Congress has refused permission to establish public homeopathic hospitals,) are not permitted to enjoy the delicacies you have sent and are sending to the Sanitary Commission for their comfort and convenience, but that the commission hold these good and comfortable things for the sole use of the sick and wounded in alopathic hospitals, although they are independent of the action of Congress, and might, if they would, extend their bounties to homeopathy as well as alopathy.

Friends of homeopathy, how long will you continue to place your gifts in the hands of agents who assume to overrule your humane, patriotic, and noble designs, by dictating upon what terms the sick and wounded—your husbands, your sons, your brothers, and friends in the army—who prefer homeopathy to alopathy, may enjoy your bounties? And when will you awaken to a true sense of the degradation to which you have been reduced by the recent action of Congress? When will you appreciate the vital importance of your reformatory mission, and by independent action prove the superiority of homeopathic science, and force an acknowledgment of the moral truth, that the right of medical opinions and systems of practice is as clearly written in the code of nature as is the right of freedom of religious opinions and modes of worship? It may be difficult to prove that he who denies the former is not as clearly a tyrant as he who abridges the latter.

I have assurances that the Sanitary Commission have done much good to the sick and wounded alopathic portion of the army; but its basis is not broad and liberal enough to include the unfortunate homeopathists who are fighting the battles of our country. Heretofore, this portion of the sick and wounded could only be reached by their friends through alopathic doses; but the establishment of the Mount Pleasant Homeopathic Hospital removes this unpleasant obstacle; and I am now happy to be able to inform the public that all donations, furnishing materials, and hospital stores, directed to Mrs. E. M. Payne, Matron Mount Pleasant Homeopathic Hospital, will be thankfully received and faithfully applied to the uses designed, under the direction of the most eminent homeopathic physicians of this city and the officers and directors of the hospital.

This is intended to be a model hospital, and to this end the enterprise is committed to the generous care of the friends of humanity, patriotism, and the rights of freedom of medical opinions and systems of practice. Give your sympathy, your influence, and substantial aid, and you can have a hospital in which your unfortunate and neglected friends in the army can be treated under that system of medical practice approved by you and their judgments. This right belongs to all mankind, and self-respect demands that it should be assisted and maintained, by the aid of Congress, if possible, but, if not possible, by independent action.

Editors of city and country papers favorable to the enterprise will please copy, and oblige

MRS. L. M. PAYNE.

MEN AND THINGS AT THE CAPITAL.

MISREPRESENTATION.

The pro-slavery zealots finding that they are driven to the wall in an honest argument, resort to misrep resentation, abuse and ridicule to achieve their purpose. In the Washington correspondence of the Baltimore Sun, of yesterday, the following paragraph occurs:

"Contrabands flock to the city daily, much to the annoyance of that class of abolitionists whose zeal in the behalf of negroes is inspired by a desire to turn the matter to account in the way of political loaves and fishes, rather than from disposition to practically serve them. The Northern people relect at the idea of negro immigration among them, and hence the abolitionists in Congress are devising ways to support the contrabands at public charge by putting them into the army of white soldiers."

Doubtless there may be some truth in the above, but the charge that "abolitionists in Congress" urge the employment of negro soldiers to get rid of them, is ridiculous. Those persons who wish to make the same the of the slaves on the right side that the rebels are making of them on the wrong side, desire to save the lives of white men thereby, and close up the war, and put down the rebellion as quick as is possible. The "contrabands" in Washington trouble nobody but the pro-slavery Democrats and secessionists.

CANNOT BE SILENT.

Some of Gen. McClellan's friends in this city, while demanding that no criticism upon him shall be indulged in, find it impossible to keep silent themselves. No doubt the General would like to be delivered from such friends. One of them writes from here as follows:

"The news from General McClellan is much more gratifying to his friends than the intelligence of yesterday. There was evidently more exultation yesterday among the radical Republicans when it was supposed that he had received a check."

Such a charge is impudent as it is unjust. The charge is, that "the radical Republicans" rejoice over the defeat, or the supposed defeat, of the Potomac army. It has but to be fairly stated to show its baseness and dishonesty. The New York Evening Post says of Gen. McClellan's famous dispatch, read in the House on Tuesday:

"Now, that our 'entire force' is 'considerably inferior to that of the rebels,' is such a monstrous error that we are bound to believe McClellan meant something else, or that the dispatch has been falsified—unintentionally, of course—in its transmission over the wires. Without going into any minute particulars, we may say that there are at least three corps d'armee on the peninsula, any two of which would be a match for the enemy.

"Besides, if it is true that our force is inferior to that of the rebels, McClellan is surely too much of a soldier to communicate that fact to his opponents. It would be a strange thing, indeed, if, after the newspapers had been sedulously restrained from giving the least information to the foe, the general commanding should undertake to proclaim his own inferiority of numbers."

It should be stated in the General's defense, that the dispatch was sent to Secretary Stanton, and perhaps was not intended for the public eye.

ARIZONA.

The House did a good work yesterday in passing the Arizona bill and abolishing the slave laws of the Territory. Other measures affecting slavery are to follow. To say the least, Congress, before it adjourns, will prohibit slavery in all the Territories, and wherever it has unquestioned jurisdiction. The refusal of the House to lay Mr. Lovejoy's bill on the table, just before adjournment last night, indicates that it is ready to pass a law of prohibition at once.

DUST AND ECONOMY.

The condition of the Avenue for the last three or four days is a powerful argument in favor of a slight appropriation in Congress to sweep and water it. Now that we are going to have a street railway, let us also have a clean and wholesome Avenue. The clouds of dust yesterday and the day before, rendered our principal streets almost impassable. The proposition of Mr. Delano in the House to give $500 a month, to give us one passable street in Washington, was objected to on the score of economy by certain members. Unfortunately the economical fever is intermittent in Congress. It rages very high when this District is under consideration, and very low when sundry appropriation bills are up. What if the corporators of the proposed railway were required to sweep and water the Avenue? Would it substract too large an amount from the sum alloted to the lobby?

IN publishing the following Testimonials, Dr. Von Moschzisker begs to state that he is only induced to do so as they proceed from sources so high and reliable as to render it a matter of gratification for him not only to possess, but to publish them:

TREASURY DEPARTMENT, May 8 1862.

In attestation of the skill of Dr. Von Moschzisker as an Aurist, I would state that I have been afflicted with deafness, which required a very loud voice to enable me to hear. Under the treatment of Dr. Von Moschzisker, in the course of three months, I have so far recovered that I can now hear conversation in ordinary tone of voice, and all the disagreeable feelings which accompanied the deafness, such as noises in the head, and discharges from the ear, have nearly, and I trust will very soon cease entirely.

W. H COOKE.

From the Hon. Senator J. F. Simmons.

Mr. Cooke's case of deafness has been long known to me, as I found much difficulty in making him hear, requiring a great elevation of voice. It gives me pleasure to add my testimonial to the professional skill of Dr. Moschzisker, as I am now able to converse with my friend, Mr. Cooke, as with other persons in my usual tone

J. F. SIMMONS, U. S. S.

WASHINGTON, April 19, 1862.

This is to certify that the hearing of my son, a boy of thirteen years of age, has been greatly impaired for some years. I am proud to state that his hearing is now restored by the treatment of Dr. F. A. Von Moschzisker to whom I would recommend all who are afflicted in that way.

MAYOR'S OFFICE,
Georgetown, April 19, 1862.

This is to certify that my hearing having been much impaired for some time past, I placed myself under the professional treatment of Dr. Von Moschzisker. After a few weeks of his care, I experienced a very perceptible improvement, and at this time my hearing is as good as it has been at any time within my recollection.

H. ADDISON, Mayor.

Persons wishing to be treated by Dr. Von Moschzisker for any malady of the EYE or EAR should not delay calling on him in order to have the full benefit of his attention during his stay in Washington. my 9-1m
