Amusements.

Ford's Atheneum.—Mr. Hackett, the celebrated shakespearian comedian, we perceive by the bills, is announced at the above establishment, to appear on Monday evening next, as Sir John Falstaff, in Shakespeare's great play of King Henry IV.

Canterbury.—We never spent a more delightful evening, or enjoyed a public performance more than that given at this famous temple of amusement last night.

The charming vocalist, Miss Julia Mortimer, together with the fairy Miss Fowler, in her bewitching dances, win the admiration of every beholder. The negro eccentricities of Worrell, Rice, Parker, and others, form an interesting feature. The whole company appears to-night, and this afternoon another of their prize matinees, so popular with the ladies, will be given at 2 o'clock. Miss Mortimer will make her first afternoon appearance.

May Concert.

Childhood is the May of life. Little girls are the mocking birds of humanity, and the boys are the larks. The graces of song and sentiment are the flowers of the school days. And a merry May of music and beauty gathered at Odd Fellows' Hall, last night, from the primary schools of the Third District. The concert was led by Professor J. H. Daniels. It was a perfect jam, and fears were entertained that it might amount to a jelly, so dense was the crowd.

On the stage were scores of little girls, in white dresses and gay habits of every hue, wreathed in smiles and flowers, careless and happy, prattler, we fear, than ever they will be when the troubles of courtship and the cares of life are upon them. Prominent among the sweet things of the occasion was "The Miller's Daughter;" "The Evening Bells" chimed sweetly; "My Grandmother's Lesson" was taught with admirable skill; "I love the merry sunshine" was carolled with the vivacity of blackbirds and the grace of canaries; one little beauty made the admission, "I have a sweetheart," and every little face beamed in sympathy with the tell-tale, while some of the larger girls envied their happiness. It was a delightful affair, and many such may the little folks enjoy.

Slack, 2; Francis S. Walsh, 7; Clement Weedon, 3; Samuel A. H. Marks, 3.

Up to this date, 145 petitioners have filed claims for 538 slaves.

Malicious.

A case has been reported to us illustrative of a statement which appeared in a recent issue. A female slave who had been living with her master's family on excellent terms, found herself, as soon as the emancipation bill was passed, an object of especial hate because she refused to comply with the demand which penurious meanness of her master, prompted and leave the district, so as to escape the operation of the act before it was signed. Out of spite to the poor woman because she preferred freedom to slavery, her late owner determined to defeat her in her hopes for liberty, and so trumped up a story that she had been guilty of theft. She was arrested on the charge, and as the negroes testimony had no weight, the white man had the case all his own way, and the unfortunate woman was sent to jail where she now lies, without any prospect of release. The facts of the case are just these. She is charged with stealing $2 in money and a cradle from her late master. She says that the cradle was given to her long ago by her master, and that he also gave her the $2 some time since for her to purchase some shoes for herself. Instead of buying the shoes, thinking she might want the money more for other purposes, she had retained it, and the foiled, and baffled owner had taken this method of wreaking his savage vengeance on an unoffending woman, because the providence of God had decreed that she should be free.

Sidewalks.

The gap in the sidewalk on Pennsylvania avenue next to Willard's, which has been so long an unsightly annoyance to pedestrians, has at last been filled, and order reigns in that locality. While on this subject, we cannot refrain from complaining of the total indifference which some people manifest in regard to the public inconvenience produced by the block aded sidewalks. Old boxes, rubbish, &c., are allowed to stand for weeks on some of the most frequented walks in the city. And so in the case mentioned above, or that on Pennsylvania avenue, the scene of the late fire, deep excavations are left remaining uncovered for weeks, and no effort is made to re-open the walks, except in the placing of a few "man traps," in the form of planks, over the hole.

Fighting.

Thursday afternoon, about o'clock, J. R. Offutt and John Gray got into a dispute on Four-and-a-half street, near Pennsylvania avenue, on the subject of disloyalty and Unionism, and not satisfied with a war of words, they finally concluded to settle the matter by a hand to hand fight. Soon as they went in real earnest, out popped the officer of the championship was settled, Officer J. F. Kelley walked in, arrested the belligerents, and took them up before Justice Walter, who fined them $1 each, and let them go. Scarcely were they out of the Justice's office before the war of words commenced again, by Gray saying that he wished he was in Dixie now, as he would secede to get that side of the question. This got Offutt's loyal blood up again, and he charged Gray with being a secessionist. The latter being still anxious to settle the question of championship, pitched into Offutt again, and another fight ensued, which ended about the same as the other. Offutt was dismissed, and Gray was put under bonds to keep the peace.

Another Rebel Clergyman.

Under this caption, the Washington correspondent of the New York Post uses the following language in reference to one of our city pastors:

"Dr. Sampson, President of Columbian College, just north of the city, and a very distinguished Baptist divine, preached for Mr. Gurley last Sunday. The President attends Mr. Gurley's church, and Dr. Sampson has had the reputation of sympathizing with the rebellion ever since it broke out. Yet Dr. Gurley asked Sampson to preach to the President, knowing that he had steadily refused to pray for the army and the navy of the United States, and the said Sampson did preach to Mr. Lincoln last Sunday, and refused to pray for the success of the army and navy!"

Lost Child.

Last Thursday night officer Reynolds, of the First ward, found a lost child, about four years of age, on Eighteenth street, between I and K. His name was found to be John McDermont. He was taken to his parents at No. 216 Twenty-second street.

Sworn to Before His Worship, George Hall, Esq., Mayor of Quebec.

Quebec, June 13, 1857.

This is to certify, that I have been blind for ten years of my right eye, and for the last ten months my left eye became totally diseased. Four weeks ago I was led by three members of the St. Patrick's Society into Dr. Tumblety's office almost blind. The Doctor, after examining me, said he could cure me in a short time, notwithstanding most of the Doctors in town gave me up as incurable, namely: Dr. Landry and Dr. Fremont, of the Marine Hospital; they gave me up, after thirteen weeks treatment, and my wife led me home blind from the institution. Then I commenced trying nearly all the Doctors of Quebec without the slightest particle of relief. I have been to work for the last eight or ten days, at my usual occupation, that of a mariner on the St. Lawrence, and thanks to the Almighty God that he has sent the illustrious Dr. Tumblety to cure me May God bless him.

WILLIAM SMITH,
Citizen of Quebec, C. E.

Sworn to and acknowledged by the above mentioned William Smith, who has read aloud in my presence a printed document which he has never seen before GEORGE HALL, may 2 Acting Mayor of Quebec.

Come and see for yourselves, ye lame and suffering,
Oh, ye rheumatic and dying, come and see.
Light shall again the faded eye illume,
And rosy health the pallid cheek resume.
Thousands rescued from disease and death,
Invoke God's blessings on Tumblety.

I desire your prostrate hearts to lift,
Your bleeding wounds to cure,
And with the treasures of nature's gift
Relieve the rich and poor.

The Indian Herb Doctor will describe diseases and tell his patients the nature of their complaints or illness, without receiving any information from them. No charge for consultation or advice.
