The Human Electrical Forces!

How They Control the Organs of the Body.

The electrical force of the human body, as the nerve fluid may be termed, is an especially attractive department of science, as it exerts so marked an influence on the health of the organs of the body. Nerve force is produced by the brain and conveyed by means of the nerves to the various organs of the body, thus supplying the latter with the vitality necessary to insure their health. The pneumogastric nerve, as shown here, may be said to be the most important of the entire nerve system, as it supplies the heart, lungs, stomach, bowels, etc., with the nerve force necessary to keep them active and healthy. As will be seen by the cut the long nerve descending from the base of the brain and terminating in the bowels is the pneumogastric, while the numerous branches supply the heart, lungs and stomach with necessary vitality. When the brain becomes in any way deadened by a irritability or exhaustion, the nerve force which it supplies is lessened, and the organs receiving the diminished supply are consequently weakened.

Physicians generally fail to recognize the importance of this fact, but treat the organ itself instead of the cause of the trouble. The latest specialist, Franklin Miles, M. D., LL. B., has given the greater part of his life to the study of this subject, and the remarkable discoveries concerning it are due to his efforts.

Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine, the marvelous brain and nerve food, is prepared on the principle that all nervous and many other difficulties originate from disorders of the nerve centers. Its wonderful success in curing these disorders is testified to by thousands in every part of the land.

Restorative Nervine cures sleeplessness, nervous prostration, dizziness, hysteria, neuralgia, debility, St. Vitus dance, epilepsy, etc. It is free from opiates or dangerous drugs. It is sold on a positive guarantee by all druggists, or sent direct by the Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind., on receipt of price, $1 per bottle, six bottles for $5, express prepaid.

LOCAL MARKETS.

The looked for rise of half a cent per pound in the price of refined sugar had not taken place here up to a late hour yesterday afternoon, but is bound to come at any moment. Such is the prediction of a leading wholesale grocer here, based upon the late rise on the raw material in New York, and the purchase of all raw sugar in the market there by the refiners at an advanced figure. Teas and coffees remain firm with fair sales. The same can be said of canned goods, etc. Butter and eggs are in fair supply and are firm at quoted prices. Meats and fish are firmly held with limited supply. Hay is freely offered, the supply increasing daily. A drop of $1 per ton is liable to take place in a day or two, $12@13 per ton being the highest market price today for timothy. Clover hay brings $11 per ton. Cured and green hides are firm at prices quoted. Corn, oats, millstuffs and ground feed are firmly held and meet with ready sale at the following revised quotations:

THE MATCH FAILED.

Nellie Grant's Romance While Visiting at West Point.

It was the closing week of commencement exercises at the military academy in June, 1869, and historic West Point had never appeared more brilliant. Distinguished guests from all over the country were assembled to witness the ceremonies, and the wealth and fashion of New York, Brooklyn, Boston, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Washington and other cities crowded Roe's and Cozzen's hotels and the private cottages to their fullest capacities. First and foremost of all those there was the newly inaugurated president of the United States, Ulysses S. Grant, then in the splendor of his fame. Then there was General William T. Sherman, his successor in command of the army; General Rufus Ingalls, General Quincy Gillmore and a host of lesser military chieftains and also the officers of the academy respondent in uniform, besides many civic dignitaries.

Mrs. John A. Dix and Mrs. John Bigelow occupied cottages at Cozzen's, and the Rev. Henry Ward Beecher was present to deliver the sermon to the graduates. The glories and the chivalry of West Point still clung to it and made it an attraction to the fair sex. Benny Haven's, with its many legends of clandestine cadet revelries, yet remained at the river's edge. The faculty were all noted gray haired professors who had been engaged in tutoring future military heroes for half a century, some of them. Their dean was Dents Mahan, professor of mathematics, who was afterward to seek a suicide's death in the Hudson river.

President Grant was accompanied to the academy by Mrs. Grant and their daughter, Nellie Grant. The president's son, Frederick Dent Grant, was a cadet in the third class, and for that reason the exercises had a special attraction for the members of the Grant family. General Thomas G. Pitcher, the superintendent of the academy; Colonel Henry M. Black, the commandant of the cadet corps; Lieutenant Colonel John M. Hildt, who was wooing at the time Miss Jerome, a daughter of Leonard Jerome, and whom he afterward married; Edward C. Boynton, the adjutant of the post, and the rest of the officers had prepared an elaborate and interesting programme for the commencement, and during the week or longer that President Grant and his family were at the Point there was mortar practice, signal service movements, the building of pontoon bridges, cavalry maneuvers and other object lessons in the art of war, with parades every afternoon on the plateau by the battalion of cadets, and a concert afterward by the government band.

Among the junior officers of the superintendent's staff was John E. Hosmer, a lieutenant of infantry, who was assigned as escort to the president and his family during their stay at West Point. He was a native of Massachusetts, of good family and attractive personal appearance. The daughter of the White House, Miss Nellie Grant, was new to society in the east, and the young lieutenant devoted much time to her entertainment. He was her daily chaperon over the military grounds and explained to her the many points of historic interest there. He arranged private entertainments and parties in her honor at the houses of the professors, while old dowagers, with little else to do than watch passing events, noted the growing intimacy of the daughter of the White House and the junior lieutenant, looked on the young couple approvingly and said to each other, "A match, sure."

The commencement of the academy terminated on the evening of Saturday, June 14, with the ball of the graduating class at Roe's hotel. It was a brilliant gathering, and in the opening quadrille there was a conspicuous set composed of President Grant and Miss Strother of Washington, General Sherman and Mrs. Grant, Lieutenant Hosmer and Miss Nellie Grant and Colonel Audendried, chief of General Sherman's staff, and Miss Kinzey, a southern belle. The grizzled hero of the march to the sea had his eyes open to what was going on, and in one of the pauses of the dance said to his partner, Mrs. Grant, in his quick, abrupt way, what the dowagers had previously remarked, "Looks like a match," nodding with his head toward Miss Grant and her lieutenant escort. Mrs. Grant had her eyes opened.

The next day (Sunday) Nellie Grant remained in seclusion in the hotel, and bright and early on the following Monday morning was hurried away by her mother to Washington, while the president departed for the east in response to public invitations. Lieutenant Hosmer quitted West Point a few days later and went to his home in Massachusetts, where he died in a few months. Afterward the president's daughter was married to the Englishman, Algernon Sartoris, who died in Italy.—Brooklyn Eagle.

Entirely Satisfactory.

W. J. Arkell, publisher of Judge and Frank Leslie's Illustrated Newspaper, writes:

"JUDGE BUILDING, Cor. Fifth Ave. and Sixteenth St., NEW YORK, January 14, 1891.

"About three weeks since, while suffering from a severe cold which had settled on my chest, I applied an ALLCOCK'S POROUS PLASTER, and in a short time obtained relief.

"In my opinion, these plasters should be in every household, for use in case of coughs, colds, sprains, bruises, or pains of any kind. I know that in my case the results have been entirely satisfactory and beneficial."

There is nothing I have ever used for muscular rheumatism that gives me as much relief as Chamberlain's Pain Balm does. I have been using it for about two years—four bottles in all—as occasion required, and always keep a bottle of it in my home. I believe I know a good thing when I get hold of it, and Pain Balm is the best liniment I have ever met with. W. B. Denny, dairyman, New Lexington, Ohio. 50 cent bottles for sale by F. J. Wurzburg, druggist, No. 58 Monroe street.

A Wonderful Statement.

Proprietors of Dullam's Great German Remedies:

GENTLEMEN—I have for the past two years been troubled with a serious and very severe Liver and Stomach difficulty. Have had advice and medicine from our very best physicians and only to be temporarily relieved. Some of my friends persuaded me to try your Great German Remedy for the Blood, Stomach and Kidneys, and to my surprise, after using three bottles, I feel like a new man. If you desire you can use my name in print or by reference in any of the Grand Rapids, Michigan, papers, or any other papers in the states, to convince the afflicted that it is the best Blood, Liver and Kidney medicine on earth. I feel like a new man. Have lived here for over forty years.

J. M. LIVINGSTON, Grand Rapids, Mich.

For sale at Scribner & Aldworth's drug store, No. 73 Monroe street.

The most painful cases of rheumatism may be relieved by a few applications of Chamberlain's Pain Balm; its continued use will cure any case, no matter of how long standing. It is equally beneficial for lame back, pain in the side, pain in the chest, lameness, and in all affections requiring an external remedy. A piece of flannel saturated with Pain Balm and bound on over the seat of pain is superior to any plaster. For sale by F. J. Wurzburg, druggist, No. 58 Monroe street.

Physicians Outdone.

My wife has been suffering with female trouble of the severest kind for over three years. I have paid $25 during the last three months and she had no relief. She had doctored continually with the best of physicians.

I bought three bottles each of Dullam's Great German Female Uterine Tonic and Dullam's Great German Blood, Liver, Stomach and Kidney Cure and can say today that she is entirely cured. W. H. DROWLEY.

Going to Buy a Watch?

If so, buy one that cannot be stolen. The only thief-proof Watches are those with Non-pull-out BOWS.

Here's the Idea: The bow has a groove on each end. A collar runs down inside the pendent (stem) and fits into the grooves, firmly locking the bow to the pendent, so that it cannot be pulled or twisted off.

To be sure of getting a Non-pull-out, see that the case is stamped with this trade mark. It cannot be had with any other kind.
