America's Great Danger

AN ENGLISH COMMENTARY.

Said an eminent English scientist recently: "The danger that confronts the great American people to-day is not the possible adoption of a wrong financial policy for the nation, or the spread of socialism, or the increase of corruption among public men. All these are bad enough, to be sure, but they are as nothing compared to the terrible national disease—I had almost said national crime—of overwork. The mad rush for wealth is set at a killing pace, and thousands fall by the way every year.

You are likely to be one of the victims!

How do we know? Because it is the exception to find a man or woman of adult age in perfect health. Nervous Disorders are spreading with fearful rapidity. Among the symptoms are—Backache, Biliousness, Cold Hands and Feet, Dizziness, Hot Flashes, Fluttering Sensation, Fainting, Headache, Hysteria, Irritability of the Heart, Melancholy, Failing Memory, Palpitation, Rheumatism, Short Breath, Sleeplessness, Nervous Dyspepsia, Sexual Debility, Fits, etc.

REV. C. A. CARROLL, pastor First Baptist Church, Yellow Springs, O., writes as follows: "I have used Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine for the past six months. I find it acts like a charm on the whole nervous system. I have not found its equal in giving immediate relief. Dr. Miles' little Nerve and Liver Pills only need a trial and they will recommend themselves to be the best pills in the market."

"For five years I have suffered from Nervous Prostration. I was unable to work or sleep. The first dose of Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine gave me relief, and one thousand dollars would not cover the good it has done me."—JOHN MINCHER, Youngstown, Ohio.

Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine is unequalled in CURING Nervous Diseases. It contains no opiates or dangerous drugs. Sold on a positive guarantee by all druggists, or Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind.

Wall Street Was About Dead to Business Yesterday.

MONEY ON CALL WAS ACTIVE

Bank of Commerce Has Applied to the Clearing House for a $1,000,000.

NEW YORK, June 20.—Money on call active, ranging from 6 to 25 per cent; last loan at 8 per cent, and closing offered at 8 per cent.

Prime paper, 4@5 per cent.

Sterling exchange firm, with actual business in bankers' bills at $4.83@4.85 for sixty days and $4.87@4.88 for demand.

Government bonds firm.

State bonds inactive.

Railroad bonds irregular.

Silver certificates, 64@65c.

Bar silver, 64c.

Mexican dollars, 49c.

Specie—Gold coin and bullion, $84,000,000.

Silver coin and bullion, $78,000,000.

Silver certificates, $21,000,000.

Bank of England gained £1,000 during the week.

Speculation at the stock exchange was quiet again today, the sales of stocks footing up only 126,931 shares, while the trading in railway and miscellaneous shares amounted to but 8,850. A further break in sterling exchange and talk of imports of gold at an early date, and this, together with a lot up in the rates for money near the close, when call loans fell to 6@8 per cent, brought about a little rally.

The announcement that the Bank of Commerce had applied to the clearing house loan committee for $1,000,000 in certificates had no influence. Now that the Bank of Commerce has shown the way smaller institutions and others not in as good shape financially will probably follow suit and money in consequence should ease up in mercantile circles. In the loan department active stocks lent at 5@20 per cent for carrying. The market left off weak.

Chicago Markets.

CHICAGO, June 20.—July wheat opened at 66¾c, sold at 66⅝c, fell to 65⅝c and back to 65⅞c. September sold early at 71⅝c, fell to 70⅝c and back to 71⅜c. The difficulty in making loans seems to be the greatest detriment to prices. The close was ¾@1c lower than last night.

Corn opened higher on the report that France and Germany were taking steps to remove the import duty. The market turned very weak during the last hour and July touched 41⅝c and September 43⅝c, but reacted and closed ½@1c lower than yesterday.

Oats were quiet and lower. The market started at 30c for July and firmed up to 30⅜c. Shortly before 1 o'clock it was selling at 30c. The market continued quiet up to the close. June closed ⅛c higher than last night, but July and September were ¼@⅜c lower.

Hog products were generally easier, but very dull for pork at $20.85 for September. Lard was lower at $10.57½@10.62½ for September. Ribs sold to $9.42½. There was dullness and weakness during the last hour, the market closing 5@25c lower all round.

CORN—June, 41⅜c; July, 41⅝c; September, 43⅝c.

LONDON, June 20.—The grain markets opened this morning steady for wheat and firmer for corn. At Liverpool wheat was quiet but steady; corn steady. Londonmargoes of California wheat unchanged. Wheat on passage firm but not active. The French markets were quiet but steady.

LOCAL MARKETS.

TUESDAY, June 20.—The local market for grain continues dull and much depressed, although corn is somewhat stronger at an advance of 1 cent. Oats have also advanced 1 cent and rye has fallen 2 cents. Transactions are light, very little of either kind of grain being offered. Buyers are not anxious to invest very freely just now, preferring to wait until the state of the money market becomes a little more settled and prices rule more steady. However, they take all that is offered at quoted prices. Corn meal has risen from $18 to $19 per ton. New cabbage is in good supply, large crates bringing from $3.25@3.50. Strawberries are plentiful at reduced rates, 16-quart cases being held at $1.25. The warm weather has materially lessened the sale of fresh meats, but poultry and fish are in good demand. The market is well supplied at fair rates. We quote.

WAS SHE?

Doubt Thrown on the Report of Hilda's Engagement.

"I believe that Hilda is engaged," remarked the girl with the ruffles on her skirt.

"Why, did she positively deny it?" queried the girl with the grass green gloves.

"Didn't ask her. I notice, though, that she thinks that every man that looks at her is in love with her."

"Oh! Well, you may be right. I have noticed that there is always a bunch of roses in her window nowadays."

"Yes, and she has begun to speak of Arthur as 'Mr. Smythe.'"

"Come to think of it, she does. He was there when I ran in to borrow her new skirt pattern the other day. I could see that she had been crying."

"Yes? I wonder why a man always looks so supremely foolish when he is first engaged—he always has a kind of an apologetic air."

"Perhaps he means to apologize to the other girls for not having asked them first," suggested the girl with the grass green gloves.

"Maybe. I notice that no one really takes any interest in an engaged man—except perhaps the florist. It is different with a girl though."

"Isn't it? The fact that she is ticketed 'taken' seems to add to a man's interest. Now, there was Julia—you remember Julia?"

"Yes, a plain little thing dressed in black—the men went wild over her."

"Didn't they? and all because she gave out that her heart was buried in the grave of the man she was engaged to."

"I remember the girls used to call her the 'brovet widow.'"

"Did you ever have a widow for a chaperon?" suddenly asked the girl with the ruffles on her skirt.

"No, why do you ask?"

"Because I have, and it is ever so much nicer. It saves you lots of mistakes, and besides she has no husband to confide in, so your little tricks are not in danger of being repeated to the other men before you have perfected them."

The girl with the grass green gloves rubbed her nose thoughtfully. "I believe you are right," she said. "I once had a perfectly lovely flirtation spoiled just because my chaperon's husband told the man that I blondined my hair every Friday morning."

"How perfectly horrid! And you had told him?"

"That golden hair was hereditary in my family and that I always spent Friday morning in the kitchen learning to cook."

"What a shame! Look! Here comes Hilda, and Arthur is with her."

"I see, and they seem to be quarreling desperately. Yes, they are undoubtedly engaged."—Chicago Tribune.

The North Pole and Equator

Are not more widely distinct than the standard tonic stimulant and alterative, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, and the cheap and fiery local bitters which the unscrupulous vendors foist upon the unwary as medicated preparations with remedial properties. The latter are usually composed in the main of half rectified alcoholic excitants, with some wretched drug combined to disguise their real flavor, and are perfectly ruinous to the coats of the stomach. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, on the contrary, has for its basis choice spirits of absolute purity, and this is modified and combined with medicinal extracts of rare excellence and botanic origin, which both invigorate and regulate the bowels, stomach and liver. They effect a radical change in the disordered physical economy, which is manifested by a speedy improvement in the general health.

Mandrake Pills have a value as a household remedy far beyond the power of language to describe. The family can hardly be true to itself that does not keep them on hand for use in emergencies.

MANDRAKE

Is the only vegetable substitute for that dangerous mineral, MERCURY, and while its action as a curative is fully equal, it possesses none of the perilous effects.

In Constipation, Mandrake acts upon the bowels without disposing them to subsequent Costiveness.

No remedy acts so directly on the liver, nothing so speedily cures Sick Headache, Sour Stomach and Biliousness as these PILLS.

For sale by all Druggists. Price 25 cts. per box; 3 boxes for 65 cts; or sent by mail, postage free, on receipt of price. Dr. J. H. Schenck & Son, Philadelphia.

There has been but one book written about MARK TWAIN'S pokey days that has gone beyond his power to charm by wit, and humor by fidelity to nature.

THAT LITERARY SENSATION IS

SAMANTHA at SARATOGA.

BY JOSIAH ALLEN'S WIFE

The book was written under the inspiration of a summer season "with the world of fashion at Saratoga, the greatest pleasure resort of America, where Princes of the old world, with Congressmen, Presidents, Millionaires, Railroad Kings, and Princes of Commerce of our own great nation, with their wives, their beautiful daughters, and all the gayest butterflies of fashion flutter in fairy dances, display their personal charms, vainly parade exquisite apparel, and revel in

ALL THE EXTREMES OF FASHIONABLE DISSIPATION.

"JOSIAH ALLEN'S WIFE" in a vein of sunny sarcasm sees, sees that is pure and innocent as the prattle of a child, keeps the reader constantly enjoying

An Ever Fresh Feast of Fun.

It takes off foibles, flirtations, extravagant dressing, dudes, gay dogs, boboggerying, etc., in the author's inimitable and mirth-provoking style.

The 100 Illustrations by Opper are Just Killing.

"Well, she had her shirts all an inland, sewed in, all a-thumbs' and I thinky, down onto the carpet, a plaintive pile of pink, pinks and white lawn and lawnys. Gorsh, enough for a princess."

"At last Miss Fletcher spoke and says she, as she looked around herself before she spoke, "How do you like my dress?"

"Oh!" says I, wanting to make myself agreeable, "the shirts are beautiful, but I can't judge how the hull dress looks, you know, till you get your waist on."

"My waist?" says she. "Why, here it is," says she.

"Where is it?" says I, a little at her dress giving out my speech. "Where is the waist?"

"Here," says she, a plastin' to a pink lawn affair, with a facing of beads over each shoulder.

Says I, "Miss Fletcher, do you call that a waist?"

Says I, "Do you call me, Miss Fletcher, that you are goin' down into that crowd of promiscuous men and women, with nothin' but them things on to cover you?" Says I, "Do you call me that, and you a professor and a Christian?"

"Yes," says she, "I paid $100 for this dress, and it hasn't likely I am going to miss"—
