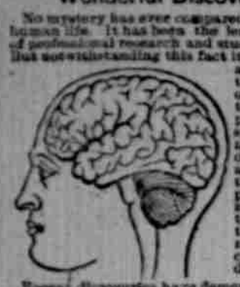
MYSTERIES!

The Nervous System the Seat of Life and Mind. Recent Wonderful Discoveries.

No mystery has ever compared with that of human life. It has been the leading subject of professional research and study in all ages. But notwithstanding this fact it is not generally known that the seat of life is located in the upper part of the spinal cord, near the base of the brain, and so sensitive is this portion of the nervous system that even the prick of a needle will cause instant death.



Recent discoveries have demonstrated that all the organs of the body are under the control of the nerve centers, located in or near the base of the brain, and that when these are deranged the organs which their supply with nerve fluid are also deranged. When it is remembered that a serious injury to the spinal cord will cause paralysis of the body below the injured point, because the nerve force is prevented by the injury from reaching the paralyzed portion, it will be understood how the derangement of the nerve centers will cause the derangement of the various organs which they supply with nerve force.

Two-thirds of chronic diseases are due to the imperfect action of the nerve centers at the base of the brain, not from a derangement primarily originating in the organ itself. The great mistake of physicians in treating these diseases is that they treat the organ rather than the nerve centers which are the cause of the trouble.

DR. FRANKLIN MILES, the celebrated specialist, has profoundly studied this subject for over 20 years, and has made many important discoveries in connection with it, chief among them being the facts contained in the above statement, and that the ordinary methods of treatment are wrong. All headache, dizziness, dullness, confusion, pressure, blues, mania, melancholy, insanity, epilepsy, St. Vitus dance, etc., are nervous diseases no matter how caused. The wonderful success of Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine is due to the fact that it is based on the foregoing principle.

DR. MILES' RESTORATIVE NERVINE is sold by all druggists on a positive guarantee, or sent direct by DR. MILES MEDICAL CO., Elkhart, Ind., on receipt of price, $1 per bottle, six bottles for $5, express prepaid. It contains neither opiates nor dangerous drugs.

STOCKS ON A BOOM

Sharp Advance in All Classes in Wall Street.

BEARS GOT BADLY FRIGHTENED

They Executed Stop Losses and Made Private Settlement in Railway Stocks.—Wheat Advanced.

NEW YORK, Sept. 5.—Money on call has been easy, ranging from 2 to 4, last loan at 2, and closing offered at 2.

Posted rates, $4.82½@4.87.

Government bonds have been dull.

Irregularity marked the course of prices at the stock exchange during the first two hours. The opening was rather ragged, some stocks showing advances. The market, however, proved superior to poor railway earnings and selling by conservative holders and in the afternoon fairly boomed. To the surprise of the bear crowd and those who have been predicting that the upward movement was scarcely warranted by considerations, prices bounded up ½ per cent at a time in some instances. The gain was most pronounced in stocks of properties recently alleged to have been in danger of receiverships. Of these General Electric was a conspicuous case. The stock rose from 42¾ to 47½ with a difference of ¾ per cent between sales. The execution of these stop loss orders was an important element in bringing about the advance. It was also currently reported that one or two of the leading bears made settlements in St. Paul and Burlington & Quincy. The main factor, however, is the great change for the better in the monetary situation which has brought much needed relief to brokers who are accordingly more disposed to take on new arrangements. They were in receipt of orders today from the west where the stringency in money has also abated. The rise led to realizations but in the final transactions the market was firm. The sales were 351,314 shares.

BRAINS NEEDED IN BURGLARY.

Much Time and Labor Expended When the Prospective Booty Is Worth While.

Few people have an idea of the immense amount of labor, forethought and scientific skill brought to bear on a big burglary, says a writer in the New York Recorder. The first thing necessary is to find a house containing sufficient valuables to repay the trouble and risk, and this first step alone may take many weeks. Let it be understood that only the highest class of expert burglars are meant; men with comfortable banking accounts and houses of their own, and who, after reducing the risk to a minimum by elaborate plans, acquire enough in one night to keep them in affluence and eminent respectability for more than a year, although having but a third share, as these burglaries are invariably worked by three.

To illustrate the wonderful resource and leisurely way of proceeding adopted by burglars take a case related by a prominent detective. The principal of the burglars in this instance having fixed on a certain house, was unable to acquire sufficient information concerning it and the owners. This man then went to the local butcher supplying the house and applied for a situation as driver of one of his carts which delivered meat at customers' residences. After producing unquestionable references (how obtained no one ever knew) the man was engaged on the round, which included the house fixed upon. Incredible as it may appear, he stayed with his employer for over seven months, and gave the utmost satisfaction; his only failing being a weakness for chatting with the servants. Five days after his resignation a gigantic burglary was effected at the house selected, and property valued at over $20,000 was stolen. The thieves had smoked several cigars and drank a bottle of port, so that they were in no hurry, and, to crown all, the booty was conveyed to its destination in the owner's pony phaeton, which was duly returned the same night; but no real clew was afforded, and the burglars were never captured.

On another occasion a chambermaid was escorted out, with a view to matrimony (and burglary), for two months before the event came off. A conveyance is always at hand, and generally of stylish appearance; in fact, on one occasion a brougham was used, which the passers-by, and even the policeman on the beat, imagined was the property of one of the residents close by. As regards tools, very few are necessary, owing to the skill and ingenuity of the operator. With a jimmy, spreader, drill, a few pieces of strong bent wire and a little gunpowder, the expert burglar can make his way anywhere. To these are sometimes added a set of "stumblers." These are lengths of fine steel wire, with pointed stakes about a foot long attached to each end, and half a dozen of these make but little bulk. These stumblers are fixed on the lawn or paths about the house in such a way that the wires are raised about six inches from the ground, and prove such a success in case of pursuit that the burglars are compelled to hang pieces of white paper from the wires in order to escape their own traps, as they always run over them.

WITH "MEXICAN PISTOLS."

A Deadly Duel in Arizona in Which Stones Were the Weapons Used.

Up in a canyon in the mountains of Arizona there occurred a novel duel the other afternoon. Part of the affair is the old story, man and woman. The whole of it is Mexican, both as to the participants and their methods. Juan Valencia's wife is the mother of four children, is not attractive, yet she is the woman in the case. Florentino Samaro, a neighbor, is the man in the case, and is not comely himself. In fact, says a correspondent of the St. Joseph News, the duel did not occur in high life. A few days ago the woman went to a constable and wanted Samaro arrested. The officer referred her to her husband. To Valencia she went and the injured husband at once looked up Samaro, who was not surprised, but ugly. "Good," said he, "do me the favor to go up the arroyo with me and we will settle the matter up there." Valencia acquiesced.

In the canyon alone, armed with what the Mexican constable terms "pistoles Mexicanos" (Mexican pistols), they fought. Mexican pistols and pieces of rock. There were no seconds, no interested friends, no doctor. No one cried "ready! aim, fire," or "one, two, three, shoot!" It was for blood only, this duel. How they fought will never be learned. The only showing is a dead man, his head cut open with an ugly gash on the crown, other portions of it bruised, and a wicked cut over one eye. In the canyon may yet be seen one of the "bullets" covered with hair and blood. Its work was as effective as though it was a 44-caliber. The husband was victor. His tale is that he was walking ahead when Samaro opened the affray by casting the first stone from behind. Valencia recovered quickly and ere long killed his man. He left the dead and returned to his wronged family, saying nothing. Next morning the body was found by a neighbor.

Bald Heads!

What is the condition of yours? Is your hair dry, harsh, brittle? Does it split at the ends? Has it a lifeless appearance? Does it fall out when combed or brushed? Is it full of dandruff? Does your scalp itch? Is it dry or in a heated condition? If these are some of your symptoms be warned in time or you will become bald.

Skookum Root Hair Grower

is what you need. Its production is not an experiment, but the result of scientific research. Knowledge of the diseases of the hair and scalp led to the discovery of how to treat them. "Skookum" contains neither sulphur, lead, nitrate of silver nor any poison. It injures a dye, but is delightfully cooling and refreshing. Being free from sediment, it does not gummy the follicles, as other preparations do, but leaves the hair soft, pliable and glossy.

"Royal Ruby" Rye Whisky is free from all foreign flavor and adulterants; naturally ripened and matured by eleven years storage in wood, it is "a Rye as is a Rye," and costs no more than inferior brands. Try it and you will never be satisfied to use any other.

A pure old whisky is always free from fusil oil, which is a poison, and should not be taken into the system. Age eliminates it from the spirit of oxidation, and it is converted into fragrant ethers, which give the bouquet to whisky.

When you want a whisky for medicinal use you want it pure. "Royal Ruby" Rye is guaranteed pure in every particular, and recommended for the invalid and the convalescent. (Bottled at distillery.) $1.25 per quart bottle. ROYAL WINE CO., Chicago. For sale by Scribner & Aldworth, druggists.
