MYSTERIES!

The Nervous System the Seat of Life and Mind. Recent Wonderful Discoveries.

No mystery has ever compared with that of human life. It has been the leading subject of professional research and study in all ages. But notwithstanding this fact it is not generally known that the seat of life is located in the upper part of the spinal cord, near the base of the brain, and so sensitive is this portion of the nervous system that even the prick of a needle will cause instant death.

Recent discoveries have demonstrated that all the organs of the body are under the control of the nerve centers, located in or near the base of the brain, and that when these are deranged the organs which they supply with nerve fluid are also deranged. When it is remembered that a serious injury to the spinal cord will cause paralysis of the body below the injured point, because the nerve force is prevented by the injury from reaching the paralyzed portion, it will be understood how the derangement of the nerve centers will cause the derangement of the various organs which they supply with nerve force.

Two-thirds of chronic diseases are due to the imperfect action of the nerve centers at the base of the brain, not from a derangement primarily originating in the organ itself. The great mistake of physicians in treating these diseases is that they treat the organ rather than the nerve centers which are the cause of the trouble.

DR. FRANKLIN MILES, the celebrated specialist, has profoundly studied this subject for over 20 years, and has made many important discoveries in connection with it, chief among them being the facts contained in the above statement, and that the ordinary methods of treatment are wrong. All headache, dizziness, dullness, confusion, pressure, blues, mania, melancholy, insanity, epilepsy, St. Vitus dance, etc., are nervous diseases no matter how caused. The wonderful success of Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine is due to the fact that it is based on the foregoing principle.

DR. MILES' RESTORATIVE NERVINE is sold by all druggists on a positive guarantee, or sent direct by DR. MILES MEDICAL CO., Elkhart, Ind., on receipt of price, $1 per bottle, six bottles for $5, express prepaid. It contains neither opinion nor dangerous drugs.

STOCKS TOOK A RISE

Effort Made to Get Back Short Contracts.

THE TRADERS WERE CAUGHT

Bears Started in to Depress Prices, But Later a Sharp Advance Produced a Firm Market.

NEW YORK, Sept. 26.—Money on call has been easy, ranging from 2 to 3 per cent; last loan 2 and closing offered at 2.

Posted rates, $4.85@4.87.

Government bonds steady.

Aggressive action by the bears at the opening depressed prices all around at the stock exchange. Their campaign was based on the reports of gold exports, the strength of sterling exchange having created an impression that a resumption of exports of the metal was imminent. London was a seller here for the reason that continental holders were disposing of their Americans in the English market. The prices ranged from 1½ to 5 per cent. Jersey Central fell 5, Manhattan 4, General Electric 4½, Reading and Canada Southern 2, Pullman 4½, United States rubber 2, Cordage preferred 2, rubber common 3 and the remainder of the list ½ to 12¾ per cent. When sterling exchange weakened there was a complete revulsion in sentiment on the part of the professional traders, who started in to get back in their short contracts. Purchases for this account led to a recovery of ½ to 2¼ per cent and in the closing dealings the market was firm. The sales aggregated 286,705 shares, including 47,989 unlisted.

Was a Scalper's Market.

CHICAGO, Sept. 26.—There was nothing of an unusual nature in the news today to affect wheat. In fact scalpers ruled the market and with the exception of some selling by the northwest there was no outside trade. December opened at 69⅝, ranged between 69⅝@69¾ and 69⅝, closing at 69⅝@69¾.

Provisions—Hogs were lower at the yards and a dull and lower provision market was the result. All products closed lower except September pork, which was bid up 5c per barrel by Armour. Packers were sellers of lard and ribs. The close showed a loss of 10c for January pork, 5c for January lard and 7½@10c for January ribs.

HAD I BUT KNOWN.

Had I but known
When I gazed fondly on those four fair queens
And dreamed of untold wealth and brighter scenes
That you would hold
Five little hearts in sequence dread arrayed,
Casting my royal beauties in the shade—
Held pat and cold—
I would not then so prodigal have grown
Had I but known.

When to the dealer you replied,
"Thanks, none for me,"
I watched your marble brow and trembling lip,
And laughed unto myself and thought with glee,
"I've got him dead this trip!"
I thought that you had caught a simple flush,
Bright as a maiden's blush,
Or, quite as sure to lure you to your fate,
A tempting straight,
And laughed to think how I should earn your hate.
I would not now be left to wail and moan
Had I but known.
—New York Sun.

She Flew.

"Yes," said the sorrowful looking man, "I've been through a cyclone and know all about their destructive powers. I was in one of those Mississippi cyclones this last spring and shall have cause to remember it to my dying day."

"Wife and children killed!" asked the woman in the seat opposite as an expression of pity came to her eyes.

"No'm; I'm not a married man."

"Relatives killed?"

"No'm; I had no relatives in the state."

"Then it was the shock of seeing others maimed and killed?" persisted the woman.

"No'm; you see it was this way. I was in love with a widow of about your size and heft. In fact we were engaged. I went over to see her of a Sunday evening as usual, and unknown to us the storm came up. The first thing I knew she was blown off my lap and out of the window and"——

"She was what?" sharply demanded the woman.

"You see, it was this way, ma'am. She was sitting on my lap, and I had my arm around her, and the first I knew"——

"Was the widow blown away?"

"Yes'm."

"Didn't you find her after the storm?"

"No'm."

"Have you any hopes of ever finding her, alive or dead?"

"No'm, not a hope."

"I'm just glad of it!" she said as she moved over to the window and began reading her book.

I thought the sorrowful man winked at me as he got out his pipe and tobacco and started for the smoker, but it may have only been a tear in his eye.—Detroit Free Press.

Presence of Mind.

A good story comes from the Windy City regarding a well known San Francisco, who is now a pilgrim to the "center of the universe." Mrs. Dr. Cool went east a short time since as a delegate to the world's dental congress at Chicago. On arriving at her destination she made an early visit to the fair grounds, and as usual with sojourners in that seductive place, found upon leaving that she had spent all her ready cash. On her way back to her hotel, therefore, she stopped at a bank to have a check cashed. As usual, the clerk informed her that she would have to be identified. As Dr. Cool was a stranger in a strange land, she found herself in a dilemma. She presented her card, but that would not do, when a brilliant idea struck her.

Flashing a beam from the diamond set in her front teeth upon the clerk, she said, "Please look in my mouth."

"Another one gone crazy," thought the clerk, but he complied with the request, looked astonished, smiled and handed the check, for on the crown in the dentist's mouth the clerk read the inscription, "L. Cool, 1866." Identity was thus established beyond a question, and Mrs. Cool went on her way rejoicing.—San Francisco News-Letter.

The Cruiser Sank, Not the Box.

Admiral Tryon's dispatch box, which was found floating after the Victoria had foundered, was specially made to contain the code of signals. Of course it was desired to keep this code a secret, so in order to provide against the risks of accidents the box was lined with lead and perforated with many holes to insure its at once sinking to the bottom of the sea if it happened to come into the water. It would be interesting to know who were the designers of this box, which, being specially constructed to sink, floated safely and is now at the admiralty, a most practical proof of the fallibility of our so called experts.—London Truth.

Chemical Effects of Lightning.

Lightning works chemically. It has the power of developing a peculiar odor, which has been variously compared to that of phosphorus, nitrous gas and most frequently burning sulphur. Wafen mentions a storm on the isthmus of Darien which diffused such a sulphurous stench through the atmosphere that he and his marauding companions could scarcely breathe, particularly when they plunged into the wood.—Chambers' Journal.

An Even Thing.

"Yes," said Mrs. Gummey in reply to her caller's question, "yes, it is a trifle hard on the trousers to let the boys slide down the banisters, but then it saves considerable wear and tear on the stair carpet."—Exchange.

A Young Sport.

Willie was very much interested while the choir sang the anthem in church last Sunday. At its conclusion he turned to his mother and in a stage whisper asked, "Say, mamma, which beat?"—Harper's Bazar.

"Ha! Writes poetry or dabbles in astronomy?"

"No, he saves money."—New York Press.

ON LAKE PLACID.

Above the rocky pine clad hill
I heard the summer moon,
The water lay unrippled still,
Nor shrieked the lonely loon.

She madly clung to George's arm
In fondest ecstasy;
All silent in the moonlight's charm,
No fond word murmured he.

No zephyr moved the airy boat,
All listless lay the oars,
When she, on Rapture's wings afloat
Beside these fairy shores,

Looked in his eyes, that beamed with fun,
And drawing nearer yet
Whispered, "George, may I have—just—one
Puff of your cigarette?" —Truth.

"Speculation."

The time never was more favorable for speculating in grain and stocks than at present. Prices are 40 per cent lower than they ought to be on both grain and stocks.

The recent money panic is the cause of these conditions.

The crops are generally good this year, with the exception of wheat, throughout the country, and the foreign demand is the largest of the year, owing to the damage of their crops. It is but a short time until wheat will sell 40 cents per bushel higher than present quotations.

If you are not posted in speculation write C. F. Van Winkle & Co., 236 La Salle street, Chicago, Ill., for their book on "Speculation" and "How to Trade," sent free on receipt of stamp.

"Royal Ruby" Rye Whisky is free from all foreign flavor and adulterants, naturally ripened and matured by eleven years storage in wood, it is "a Rye as is a Rye," and costs no more than inferior brands. Try it and you will never be satisfied to use any other.

A pure old whisky is always free from fusel oil, which is a poison, and should not be taken into the system. Age eliminates it from the spirit of oxidation, and it is converted into fragrant ethers, which give the bouquet to whisky.

When you want a whisky for medicinal use you want it pure. "Royal Ruby" Rye is guaranteed pure in every particular, and recommended for the invalid and the convalescent. (Bottled at distillery.) $1.25 per quart bottle. ROYAL WINE CO., Chicago. For sale by Scribner & Aldworth, druggists.
