KNOWLEDGE

Brings comfort and improvement and tends to personal enjoyment when rightly used. The many, who live better than others and enjoy life more, with less expenditure, by more promptly adapting the world's best products to the needs of physical being, will attest the value to health of the pure liquid laxative principles embraced in the remedy, Syrup of Figs.

Its excellence is due to its presenting in the form most acceptable and pleasant to the taste, the refreshing and truly beneficial properties of a perfect laxative; effectually cleansing the system, dispelling colds, headaches and fevers and permanently curing constipation. It has given satisfaction to millions and met with the approval of the medical profession, because it acts on the Kidneys, Liver and Bowels without weakening them and it is perfectly free from every objectionable substance.

Syrup of Figs is for sale by all druggists in 50c and $1 bottles, but it is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only, whose name is printed on every package, also the name, Syrup of Figs, and being well informed, you will not accept any substitute if offered.

DR. SCHENCK'S

Mandrake Pills have a value as a household remedy far beyond the power of language to describe. The family can hardly be true to themselves that does not keep them on hand for use in emergencies.

MANDRAKE

is the only vegetable substitute for that dangerous mineral, MERCURY, and while its action as a curative is fully equal, it possesses none of the perilous effects.

In Constipation, Mandrake acts upon the bowels without disposing them to subsequent Costiveness.

No remedy acts so directly on the liver, nothing so speedily cures Sick Headache, Sour Stomach and Biliousness as these PILLS.

For sale by all Druggists. Price 25 cts. per box; 5 boxes for 25 cts; or sent by mail, postage free, on receipt of price. Dr. J. H. Schenck & Son, Philadelphia.

TOO OFTEN THE CASE.

INTERESTING PROOFS.

A young society lady, after a round of gayety, becomes suddenly conscious of an unusual sensation. She has frequent attacks of dizziness, her back aches, and she feels blue and generally run down.

Mothers, look well to your daughters! Daughters, look well to yourselves!

Let the first symptom denoting the approach of disease receive your instant attention. Healthy women are the hope of the race, and it is well-nigh criminal to neglect anything which promises relief.

There is hope for all sufferers from Nervous Diseases. Read what follows:

Mrs. Jennie C. Davis, a fine artist and an accomplished authoress, of Westfield, Wis., had been subject to headache ever since she could remember. So severe were her attacks as to cause at times temporary delirium. All treatment had failed to relieve her, but after using Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine she writes: "My record is to me, at least, satisfactory. No headache, constantly increasing appetite, and a consequent gain in weight of two and a half pounds in just one week."

Six weeks later she writes: "Have read and sewed immoderately of late, but my headaches do not return."

Mrs. John R. Miller, of Valparaiso, Ind., was attacked three years ago with turn of life in its worst form. It finally went to her head, and all indications were that it would result either in insanity or softening of the brain. Her husband thus writes: "It would be impossible for me to attempt a description of her sufferings during all this time. She was treated by our very best local physicians, with but temporary benefit. She has taken four bottles of Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine, and is cured. She has gained twenty pounds in weight. I tell you, she often blesses you for what you have done for her."

Recollect that for the CURE of all Nervous Diseases there is no remedy which approaches Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine. It is free from dangerous drugs and opiates. Sold by all druggists, on a positive guarantee, or Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind.

IT IS LITTLE READ

But Some Persons Find Congressional Record Funny.

FILLED WITH ORATORICAL WIT

Some Stories Culled From the Silver Debate--Senatorial Yarns Retold to Enforce Arguments.

It is the fashion to sneer at the Congressional Record as the heaviest, dullest and most widely unread publication in the country. I read it regularly and find it a first-class comic story paper, says a writer in the New York Recorder. Allow me to offer you a few samples of the droll stories bound up in the Record.

Senator Mills' Story.

The Hon. Roger Q. Mills was talking on silver the other day and told this one of a pious pastor who had discovered a young sister who was becoming vain and worldly minded. So much had she become addicted to the ways of the world that she wound her rich suit of hair into a knot and wore it as a topknot. It was supposed to be charming to the beaux. This vanity vexed the righteous soul of the pious man of God, and he went to the erring sister and told her she was incurring the divine displeasure by sporting the topknot, and told her she must desist. She was in a strait, but great as was the cross she resolved to bear it if Bible authority could be produced in condemnation of her topknot, and she so informed her minister. He said: "My dear sister, you come to church next Sunday and I will show you the word of the Lord specially pronounced against topknots." When Sunday came she went to church, and after the morning exercises were over the minister took his text from the chapter in which our Saviour was foretelling the destruction of Jerusalem which was to occur by the armies of the Roman emperor. He came to the verse, "Let him which is on the housetop not come down to take anything out of his house," and then took his text from the middle of the verse, "top not come down."

Senator Mills said he heard that story when he was a boy. He told it by way of booming his favorite brand of bimetallism—but that doesn't matter. The story is the thing.

Mr. Grady's Deacon.

Representative Benjamin F. Grady of North Carolina will now favor us with a story. He had not, he said, intended to speak at all, but only to lister to the great men of the house.

"But I soon found myself in the condition that a pious old deacon up in Connecticut once found himself in. He was a very devout old gentleman, and was distinguished for always accepting with sublime resignation whatever ills the Lord saw fit to inflict upon him. He never murmured. One day a tornado came along and tore down his fruit trees, uprooted his yard trees and blew down everything in its path. He took it all with quiet submission and fortitude. After awhile he ran out to the barn and tried to save its contents from the fury of the winds, but as he reached the door a shutter swung violently around, struck him and knocked him down. Picking himself up he remarked: 'I think it is time for me to express my sentiments.'

Pence and the Ant.

One of the very droliest of speeches in the whole debate was that of Mr. Pence of Colorado ridiculing Mr. Bynum of Indiana for his conversion to the new bi-metallism which aims to restore silver coinage by stopping it entirely. Mr. Bynum, in the campaign of 1891, spoke in Denver, Col., and made a red-hot free silver speech. Mr. Pence quoted from this "great effort" of Mr. Bynum and then said that he understood now why Mr. Cleveland so bravely boasted that he could win over the free silver men of his party to his own views. "Brave was he, Mr. Speaker, as the sluggard who was told to go to the ant:

"What! go to the ant," said the sluggard;
"What a waste of time that would be;
To my pienic I'll lie and sit down by my pie,
And there let the ants come to me."

More Sand, O Lord.

Representative Hatch of Missouri has an endless fund of good stories. Here is his contribution to the comicalities of the great silver debate:

"At a recent convention of religious workers among railway men the chairman stated that the proceedings would terminate with prayer by two railway workers, a conductor and an engineer. The conductor led off in an earnest appeal for the divine blessing, and was followed by the engineer, a man of strong convictions and great determination, and possessed of moral courage to an unusual degree. He is as earnest and active in serving the Lord as formerly he was in the service of Satan, and prayed with great fervency after this manner: 'We are here, O Lord to ask thy blessing on this work. The obstacles have been removed. The locomotive is on the track, the water is in the boiler, steam is up, but, O Lord, give us more sand; it is sand we want, sand in going up hill to keep us from slipping; sand in coming down hill to make us hold. What we want is more sand, O Lord!'"

Story of Cow Attorney.

Apropos of the many sarcastic thrusts that have been made at members of congress, who, like Mr. Mills, Mr. Voorhees and Mr. Bynum, have turned from ultra silver champions to unconditional repealers, Representative Cooper of Florida told this good story:

"An acquaintance of mine was cow attorney for a certain railroad. His duties consisted in going around and resisting claims for cattle that were killed on the track, and he did it very artfully. He resorted to all the arts that were known, the usual delays and everything else and he continued in that service for about three years, when the railroad company discharged him, whereupon he become a very active and zealous promoter of like claims upon the other side. One day, as he was addressing the jury in a justice's court, he became very severe, not only upon the company, but upon the attorney on the other side representing the company. Finally the other counsel could not stand it any longer, and he got up and threw his record at him—as sometimes happens to lawyers and statesmen. He said: "Didn't you for three years respect this railroad company and resist just such claims as this, doing what I am doing now, only a good deal more so?" Whereupon the indignant cow attorney replied: "Sir, for three long years I held my conscience in abeyance, but now it has broke loose!"

The Strongest Defence.

Against ill health, debility and nervousness is to promote digestion, activity of the liver and regularity of the bowels with the incomparable alterative and tonic, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, a medicine without a drawback, safe and thorough, and having the highest professional sanction. It promotes an adequate secretion of the gastric juices that act as solvents of the food and insures its conversion into rich, nourishing blood, which never fail to honor the drafts for strength made upon it by the rest of the system. As a laxative of the bowels it is natural and gentle in operation, but at the same time effective. By directing the bile into its proper channel it removes the many and harassing symptoms of liver complaint. Heartburn, nausea, sick headaches, nervousness, rheumatism, malaria and kidney trouble are remedied by it.
