SCAPPOOSE

John Watson is enjoying a new Dodge car.

Many of the town folks are suffering this week with neuralgia and sore throats.

Mrs. Tertek entertained her neighbors last week and for refreshments served all Bohemian dainties.

Rev. Hibbard has sold his ranch, known as the Watson farm, to a Los Angeles man.

Mrs. B. W. Scott spent the week end as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Holland, at Newberg. She says they have a wonderful place, all conveniences, buildings for everything and electric lights in all the buildings.

Rev. McClure, Mrs. McClure and little daughter Eleanor, were in Albany Monday and Tuesday, to visit Mr. McClure's father and uncle, who has just returned from the Philippine islands. There were 21 in the family reunion.

The Ellison-White chautauqua held in the hall this week, has had excellent attendance. The entertainment furnished has been very pleasing. The guarantee committee were very much encouraged and pleased with the result.

There is a correction on the article handed the correspondent last week regarding Mr. Cibulec's accident. Cibulec was not hunting game nor was it the bull belonging to Mr. Rickert that attack him, but a cow which belonged to Mr. Cibulec. Mr. Rickert's bull is not cross or vicious.

Church Notices

Prof. Coleman will give an address Friday evening, November 21st, in the church. This is an open meeting and every one is invited.

Sunday School, 10:15; Morning Worship, 11:15; C. E., 7 o'clock; Evening Service, 7:30. Dr. Ralph McAfee, secretary of Federation Churches, will occupy the pulpit in the morning and Rev. McClure in the evening.

Wednesday, November 19th, there will be a community supper in the church. Members of the First Congregational church will join us and Dr. McAlveen will give a talk during the evening.

WARREN

A. H. Tarbell is exhibiting Short-horns and C. M. Hyskell of the Oregon Berkshire Co., exhibiting swine at the Portland Livestock show this week.

Sam Dahlgren, our popular merchant, has a special box of cigars that he is passing out to his numerous friends. Occasion, a baby girl. Mother and daughter doing well and Sam is able to tend store.

Mrs. J. Johnson and son, Emil, spent the early part of the week with friends here. They now reside near Astoria and formerly owned the farm now owned by Paul C. Adams.

A. H. Tarbell and A. L. Morris attended the telephone meeting of the public service commission at Portland on Wednesday. No definite verdict regarding the rate increase has been arrived at as yet, but an answer is expected daily. Meantime, the farmers are refusing to pay the increased rate and if it is enforced will build their own line or buy and operate the present one, but absolutely refuse to pay $3.00 per month on eight to twelve party lines.

The congregation of the Swedish Lutheran church gave a rousing welcome to the returned members of that church from service of Uncle Sam. Eleven members answered the call and all but two were present on Tuesday evening. A literary and musical program was carried out and a pleasant time was had. Rev. Nyström of Portland, the pastor, was present and gave a pleasing address of welcome.

A Portland school girl, Stella Elizabeth Hyskell by name, a niece of a Columbia county citizen, was involved with two other school girls in purchasing some dry goods at a store and having them charged to the account of a friend without authority from him. Fortunately for the misguided school girls, the matter was found out the following day and the goods returned. The lesson is one for parents who encourage their girls to dress in finery at school, offering temptation to plainer dressed students to commit a misdemeanor in order to obtain similar fine clothes.

NEHALEM VALLEY

This rainy weather has crippled the potato digging very much.

Mrs. Loupe of Kist has returned from a visit out in the valley. Looks very much as if the winter rains have started in for good.

Miss Lottie Bergerson has just returned from a visit with her sister, Bessie, in Portland.

Mrs. J. Purney visited with her parents at Vernonia a few days last week, returning home Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. John Smith have moved to Portland and will make that their permanent home.

Mr. and Mrs. Wildman have moved into their new house. There were finally Sundays enough to finish it. Miss Maud Higdon, who has been staying with Mrs. Ellen Sheeley, has returned to her home in Portland.

Elder Hartzel of Vernonia, preached at the Pleasant Hill school house last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Thomson are preparing to move to Reedsport, Oregon, for the winter.

Mr. Tom Throsp traded his touring car in on a new Chevrolet truck, and is now doing his own freighting. Selmon are running now and we surely enjoy the fishing, both for sport and food values.

Mrs. Elen Sheeley, who has had a long spell of sickness, is up and around now and we trust will not take another backset.

Scarlet fever broke out in the Vernonia school, causing the school to be closed for awhile. Some of the fever patients have been seriously ill, but are slowly improving at present. No deaths have occurred so far, we are glad to report.

Mrs. McDaniel is slowly recovering from a hard spell of la grippe. She had a slight attack of pneumonia with it. She has been so faithful through all the illness of her children and grandchildren that they all feel her illness very much. We all rejoice with them over her recovery.

YANKTON

Ray Tarbell and wife have moved to the residence of Mr. Tarbell's father, Lawrence Tarbell.

The Yankton school gave a basket dinner on Tuesday of this week and an entertaining program was rendered in the afternoon.

In honor of the birthday of her husband and his brother, William Karth, Mrs. Rudolph Karth gave a birthday party Sunday. The guests present enjoyed a delightful time and nice refreshments were served.

The Yankton grange will hold an open meeting on Saturday evening, November 15th. The teachers of the Yankton school will be present and will meet the patrons of the school.

Indications are that the Yankton people will turn out in force at the special road meeting which will be held on November 22nd. The Yankton people are in favor of good roads, but will use their judgment in the matter of voting taxes in excess of the general road tax.

BACHELOR FLAT

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Hollingsworth were Portland visitors Tuesday.

Miss Belle Conlogue visited with friends in Portland over Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Nils Lindberg were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ole Peterson Tuesday.

Mr. Cleve Fowler of California, was a guest of his sister, Mrs. Guy Lillieh, Saturday and Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Burkhead motored to Portland Thursday and spent the day shopping.

The Higbee children have been guests at the William Skuzie home this week.

The young people are planning an entertainment sometime in the near future. The object is to raise money to finish paying for the new organ.

Rev. Higbee preached a splendid sermon last Sunday afternoon. Mr. Plumlee will preach November 23, following Sunday school.

REUBEN

Mrs. T. C. Watts is visiting and shopping in Portland this week.

Mrs. Minnie Burgess of Rainier, visited over Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Lindsay.

Mrs. Annie Dyer of Lents, Oregon, was a guest of her sister, Mrs. T. C. Watts, over Sunday, returning to her home Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Newton of Seaside visited with Mrs. Newton's mother, Mrs. Jane Zenos, last week and left for California Saturday.

The teachers and scholars of School District No. 20, went out to Beaver Homes Armistice Day and celebrated with the Beavers Homes school.

Private John W. Patrick, who has been stationed at Guam for the past two years, recently received his discharge from the army and arrived home Saturday. He says he would not give one acre of Columbia county land for the whole island of Guam, if he had to live on it.
