Two native lads, aged five and seven years respectively, were brought on Friday from Hanalei, Kauai, by the schooner Mary, being afflicted with leprosy, and were sent to the branch hospital at Kakaako for treatment. The parents of these youthful lepers claim that the disease was due to vaccination, for it started exactly from the place where they had been vaccinated.

Mrs. Williams' lecture on Bainai Tuesday night at Harmony Hall was fairly well attended, in spite of the threatening weather, and was thoroughly enjoyed. The lecture was devoted chiefly to an analysis of the principal scenes and characters in some of the author's leading novels, and to a splendid account of his life. The next lecture, on George Eliot, will be given Tuesday evening, July 26.

The lease of thirty-six acres of land, opposite Mr. Wood's ranch in Nuuanu Valley, for five years, offered at an upset price of $120 per annum, was sold by the Government at auction on Thursday, falling to John Quintal Bapticto for $133. At the same time the lease of Alewa, 174½ acres, on the ridge north side of the valley, for eight years, upset price $75, was sold to the Enterprise Ranch Company for $165.

The expedition of the Legislative Committee to Molokai left Saturday evening at 5 o'clock, returning Sunday evening at about the same hour. It comprised Hons. Kapaehuole, Richardson, Foster, Baldwin, Lahiau, Heleluhi, Daniels and Kinney, of the Assembly, and two surgeons of the U. S. F. S. Vandalia, Dr. Kimball, Mr. Rowell (Superintendent of Public Works), Mr. W. C. Brash of Wilder's S. S. Co., Mr. Webster of I. I. S. N. Co., Mr. J. Smith of Wilder's Co., Mr. W. H. Cummings, and representatives of the native press.

An office boy to whom Honolulu life became monotonous, came to a sudden determination to know a little of the big world over the sea. A prominent professional gentleman came down to his office and found no boy to answer the bell call. He found instead a piece of original correspondence, to wit: "Honolulu, June 15.—Mr. ———. Dear Sir, I left on the S. G. Wilder. Here are two keys, one for my house, the other is Mr. ———'s key for the Postoffice. Good-bye. Aloha. Mr. ———. Yours. ———. I want to see America."

Kawaiahao Sunday School Exhibition.

Sunday last the quarterly exhibition of the branch Sunday Schools connected with Rev. H. H. Parker's parish, was held at Kawaiahao church. The exercises commenced at 10 o'clock a. m., under the supervision of Hon. W. R. Castle, and included recitations and singing by the scholars from ten branch suburban schools, each school appearing on the platform separately. Some of them, notably those from Moiliili and Maunakiekie, showed excellent training, and some of the singing and recitations could hardly be excelled in the best foreign schools. A Sunday School, comprising a portion of Berger's band, gave some fine music, vocal, accompanied with four instruments. It is gratifying to know that these young men to whom the citizens of Honolulu owe so much in the way of musical entertainment, maintain a bible class among themselves. Quite a novelty was a bible class of aged Hawaiians from the Lunalilo Home, who stood up, spelled and recited verses in the same quaint manner as they were taught by the pioneer missionaries, sixty or seventy years ago. Several of them are said to be octogenarians. Before these old people sat down, a finely dressed native woman, connected with the same institute, stepped out and sang a solo—as sweetly and artistically executed, as though she had been a pupil of one of our best music teachers. Altogether it was the most novel and gratifying of the numerous exhibitions that have lately been given here, and was attended by a good audience. Had public notice been given of it, the large church would have been overcrowded, for there are no public exhibitions given here which show more vividly the progress made from year to year by the natives, than these Sunday School gatherings. Although the exercises lasted three hours, the interest in them was so great, that scarcely a person left the room till the close at 1 p. m.

Police Court.

FRIDAY, June 22.

Seven Chinese are sentenced to pay fines and costs as follows for conducting a lottery game: Ah Tang, Ah Cheang 2d, Ah You, Ah Lin and Ah Sun, $21 each; Ah Cheang 1st, $51; Ah Chun $31.

Four native boys, from 12 to 15 years of age, plead guilty to larceny of a guitar from August Dias. Hale, 15, a Maui boy, is fined $6 with imprisonment at hard labor four months. Kama, 13, Luhia, 12, and Kepano, 14 (whose father is a leper at Molokai), are committed to the Reformatory School during their minority.

Haleakala pleads not guilty to larceny of a silver watch and three gold rings from C. Hustace. Defendant was sentenced on the 9th of April last to imprisonment one year for larceny. Evidence is that he left the prison gang on the 18th inst. and was away some time, and on being accused of this robbery went under escort and obtained the articles from an acquaintance with whom he had left them. He is sentenced to pay a fine of $25 with $1.30 costs, and to be imprisoned 18 months at hard labor, to begin term at the expiration of former sentence.

Henry Puaniwi, who surrendered the articles stolen by Haleakala, was tried for the same offense as above. Haleakala swore he did not give the things to defendant. The latter gave testimony of receiving them from Haleakala, and of telling him that if they proved to be stolen goods he would show them up. Defendant is discharged.

J. M. Monsarrat, trustee for S. A. Monsarrat, vs. Mikasobe. A. Rosa for defendant withdraws and defendant is called and defaulted. Judgment for amount claimed on note, $100, with expenses making $149.80.

An Unknown Foreigner Drowned at Kona.

On the last trip of the W. G. Hall a man, who appeared to be of German decent and was neatly dressed, took a deck passage for Kona. His name is unknown, but he appeared to be a stranger from the numerous questions he asked concerning his destination. He said he was going to the second landing on Kona and accordingly he went ashore at Keauhou.

He was last seen alive by some natives on the same day he landed (Saturday), walking along the road in the direction of Kailua. He asked some questions of the natives whom he met. They could not understand what he said but by his pointing to the water they supposed he wanted a place to bathe, so they said yes. On Monday evening just before dusk a native found some clothes on a rock near the water, not far from where he was seen. The next day a search was made, resulting in the finding of the body of the deceased in the water near by, with his head jammed in a hole in the rocks, where it is supposed he was washed by the waves.

An inquest was held on the body, Mr. Muller of Hoinalou acting as coroner. The evidence brought forth went to show that the deceased had some money when he landed, as he made a purchase after coming ashore, but as no money was found on his clothes it is supposed it had been taken by some person unknown. His watch and ring were not touched. The case will be investigated further, and more may be heard about it next steamer. Nothing was found among his effects which would tend to establish his identity.

How to Stamp a Letter.

"Out of the millions of persons who stamp letters daily but few know the way to do the 'licking,'" remarked Mr. Alf. Oldham, the stamp purveyor at the postoffice, yesterday. "What is the right way, Alf.?" queried a listener. "Why, the envelope ought to be licked, not the stamp. If you lick the envelope and then apply the stamp it will stick, sure. If you lick the stamp you are liable to carry away all the mucilage on your tongue, or so much that the stamp will fall off. Many a letter has reached the Dead Letter Office because the sender licked the stamp instead of the envelope.—[Louisville Courier-Journal.
