THE DAILY REBEL.

Office on Market Street, over the Bank of Tennessee.

CHATTANOOGA:

FRIDAY MORNING, JAN. 2, 1863.

THE SITUATION.

The news from the front indicates a signal victory.

The fight Tuesday afternoon was conducted principally by our artillery. Rosecrans threw a large force of reconnoissance upon our position, which was repulsed after several hours of heavy skirmishing.—The 154th Tennessee completely demolished an Illinois regiment, which attempted to capture a battery. We took several hundred prisoners, two hundred and fifty of whom have arrived at Chattanooga, up to the present writing.

On Tuesday, afternoon, Gen. Wheeler, (from the rear,) attacked and destroyed a large train near Lavergne, making prisoners of the entire escort.

On yesterday morning at dawn, the call of a general engagement opened with great spirit. It continued all day along the line of our front, which extends up and down Stone's river for several miles.

It is understood that Gen. Morgan—having completed the work he set out do do in Kentucky—has returned and united with Wheeler in the enemy's rear. Gen. Forrest is also reported to have formed the same junction; which increases our cavalry force between Rosecrans and Nashville to 15,000.

To the hour of going to press we have no no details.

The Yankee incursion into East Tennessee is doubtless a branch of a simultaneous assault, and will depend for its results entirely on the Murfreesboro fight.

☞ The editor of the Telescope recently entered the sanctum of a Richmond cotemporary and found the wife of his professional confrere occupying the chair editorial, with pen and scissors in hand. He sets it down as fair, that the best editorials in that paper came from the better-half of the editor. We concur in the opinion—but think she would do better as a news editor. The women know so well how to "cut up" the mails.

☞ A party of amateur warriors "nameless here for evermore," were seen yesterday, near the battle field at Murfreesboro, making decided "tracks" towards the rear. A cavalry officer yelled out to them, "where the devil are you running."

One of the amateurs replied as he ran:—"We don't belong here, General—we've only been out to see the fun!"

MUNICIPAL ELECTION.—At the charter election held in this city on the 25th ult., the following gentlemen were elected Mayor and Aldermen for the present corporate year:—

Mayor.—Dr. MILO SMITH.

Aldermen.—1st Ward—RICHARD HENDERSON, JOHN MITCHELL.—2d Ward—WM. L. DUNGER, JNO. S. BREWER.—3rd Ward—D. P. SWICK, JAS. R. ALLISON.—4th Ward—D. KAYLOR, JOHN R. TAYLOR.

☞ A corpulent old "soaker," about three feet in diameter, laboring under a "depression of spirits" was perigrinating Market Street yesterday, with a paper pinned to his back, bearing the inscription:—"No news from the front." We imagine if there had been—the news would have been of a "belly-gerent" character.

☞ We are pleased to learn from the Richmond papers, that our old young friend and quondam "companion in arms," Col. J. Shelby Williams, of Nashville, has been appointed Judge Advocate of the Court of Lt. Gen. E. Kirby Smith's Army. Col. Williams, is at present sojourning in this city.

☞ The President has issued a Proclamation, that the writ of habeas corpus is suspended in Vicksburg and surrounding country, to the distance of ten miles, on account of the city being threatened with invasion.

☞ We learn from the Jackson (Miss.) Appeal, that John P. Pryor, a well known citizen and editor, of Memphis, was severely, if not mortally wounded, by a shot fired by one of the guards at Grenada.

☞ We learn that the Secretary of War has now under advisement the claims of the Southern Express Company to have their employees released from the present exactions of the Conscription Law.

☞ The field of battle in front of Murfreesboro is a dead level. We know our boys have done their "level best" to make it emphatically a dead level, so far as the Yankees are concerned.

BY GRAPE-VINE AND OTHERWISE.

ON DITS OF THE DAY.

CHATTANOOGA.....Wednesday Evening, 8 P. M.

Fighting at Murfreesboro! What will be the result? Who will be hurt? It is the key to Middle Tennessee; the troops engaged are the chosen of our heart's blood; our very soul hangs upon the issue. No wonder that we poor devils in the rear are nervous, excited, eager, anxious!

I have just come in from the busy street below stairs. It is crowded with men who speak rapidly, and sometimes altogether a hundred voices buzz upon my ear, as I look out upon the frosty night and try to coaxen the latest news out of a too, too dignified moon! The stars twinkle, but are dumb as fire-flies, and the click of types in the room adjoining this, rattles on my sense even worse than a certain skeleton, which hangs on the wall of my lodging place (a doctor's office with a most unearthly smell) and which sometimes awakes me, with a shiver, and as I now and then fancy, a groan. I turn me to my grape-vine which curls like the ringlets of Jennie somebody, who is sixty miles or more from here, and I question it. Grape-vine tell us of the night? And the vine (why not?) replies:—

"I am just from Murfreesboro. There was bloody work begun there this day. I left at twelve o'clock a field full of smoke and carnage The men of Tennessee were doing their duty. Gov. Harris went upon the field at sun-up, and my last sight of him was through a cloud, which rolled up in a mighty column against the sun. Frank Cheatham with his coat off sat in his saddle like ——, like to what? To nothing I have ever seen except a brave man in battle. He plied from post to post; cheering, encouraging and leading. I left the work going brazely on!"

Excellent grape-vine! Pray God the end may realize the hope and promise of the beginning! But nothing else?

"Yes, faith! One of the main branches has extended its coiling length into the heart of New Orleans, and brings back the tidings that defalcations of such a character are proved upon Butler the Beast as will cashier him inevitably. Banks has arrived and began to look into the matter. Between Banks and Butler is an old grudge and the former is resolved to pay it now with interest. As for Butler, he will hardly be able to pay the interest on his enormous thefts!"

Apropos of New Orleans. I must insert the following prophecy. I find it in the Charleston Courier. Cassendre of old was a true prophetess, though nobody believed her. What of the following prophecy of a modern Cassendre?

"Let not your readers be startled or even surprised if before the first day of March next, you will have to publish to them a proclamation as follows:

The Emperor of the French takes possession of the mouth of the Mississippi river and the city of New Orleans by conquest. The great fertile valley of the Mississippi is the inheritance of France; for it was first discovered, explored and occupied by Frenchmen. Many of its cities, towns, parishes and streams have French names, and even now the French language is the language of no small proportion of the population. In religion it is largely Catholic.

The political and military exigencies of Europe and America have occasioned frequent transfers of it for slight remuneration. At length it fell into the hands of the United States of America. That nationality being thoroughly demoralized, split up and fallen into utter anarchy and savage internecine war, in which French subjects residing in the old French Province of Louisiana have been grossly insulted, severely maltreated and subject to great losses;

France assumes by force, sanctioned by the civilization of the age, by humanity, in the interest of all the nations, her ancient possessions on both banks of the Mississippi.

France does this, subject to treaty stipulations with any organized and stable Government in which the residents of the Valley, from the 41st degree North latitude to the Gulf, shall be fully and fairly represented.

Ox dit, that Gen. Pillow has been made Major General. It should be so. Is it?

Thackeray is coming South.

☞ The most unwelcome dawn that ever dawned upon the Mississippi invaders—Van Dorn!

☞ Butler the Beast, believed in confiscation; but his brother, it seems, was rather inclined to defalcation.

☞ The Independent Belge says that Garibaldi is coming to America.

BUTLER AND FARRAGUT.—It seems that the Beast who lords it over New Orleans is growing unpopular with his officers. Butler is a true type of the New England Yankee. No other race of men have even dared to wage a relentless warfare against women and children. In this the Massachusetts foundling is a fit representative of the Lincoln government. Capt. Farragut, however, is not a Yankee, although a Lincolnite, and an officer in the Yankee Navy. He is a Tennesseean, and like many others from that State who have unfortunately espoused the cause of Lincoln, he seems not to have forgotton that he was reared in a land of civilization and refinement, where the character of women is respected. He at last retains a show of gallantry. Hence he and the Beast have quarreled, in which he expressed a desire to give Butler a "thrashing." At least, such is the account given us by the telegraph.—Columbus Sun.

☞ Lieut. T. J. Paine has captured and brought to this city thirty-nine renegades, fleeing conscript (deserters,) &c. They have been lodged in the city Prison.—Knoxville Register.

☞ Morgan has taken him a bride. His recent movements in Kentucky indicate that the event did not prevent his once more taking the bridle.

☞ Lincoln has justly won the appellation of the "Chief Executive of the Nation." He has "executed" more of the "Chiefs" of the Yankee nation than any of his predecessors.

NEWS FROM NASHVILLE.

LETTERS FROM BRAGG TO GEN. ROSECRANS—HIS IMPUDENCE AND INCONSISTENCY—DISMISSAL—ACQUITTAL—ALL QUIET.

Special Dispatch to the Cincinnati Gazette.]

NASHVILLE, Dec. 22.

A lot of communications were received today from Bragg. In one of them he endeavors to excuse himself for his violation of the cartel of exchange in sending the Hartsville prisoners to our lines without previous notice, and to Nashville instead of to Vicksburg. His explanations are very insufficient. In another he demands the return of A. J. Marshbrands, arrested in Van Buren county by order of General Dumont, and sent to Camp Chase. He says the arrest was in violation of an agreement between himself and Gen. Rosecrans; but in another communication, in which he replies to a remonstrance from Gen. Rosecrans, with regard to the arrest of Mrs. Cliff, he declares he will do as he pleases with respect to her and all other citizens of Tennessee.

In still another note he says that Col. Moore, of the 104th Illinois, and his aid, Lt. Donald, were left at Murfreesboro by mistake, and await Gen. Rosecrans' decision as to whether they shall be sent to Nashville or Vicksburg. The entire correspondence on the part of the rebel leader is characterized by much braggadocio and insolence.

Captain Richard Bladen, First Middle Tennessee infantry, has been dismissed the service.

Col. George Ryan, 75th Illinois, tried by court martial for neglect of duty and disobedience of orders, has been honorably acquitted.

All is quiet to-day as far as heard from.

The weather is warm and cloudy, with indications of rain.

HEADQUARTERS ARMY OF TENNESSEE,
Murfreesboro, Dec. 15, 1862.

General Orders No. 12.

Recognizing our dependence on the Providence of Almighty God, and mindful of our obligations for His mercies and grace to us individually and as a people, it is our bounden duty on all suitable occasions to bow with reverence before His throne; to acknowledge our submission to His moral government, "to confess our sins unto Him, to render thanks for the great benefits we have received at His hands, to set forth His most worthy praise, to hear His most holy word, and to ask those things which are requisite and necessary as well for the body as the soul."

To encourage and cultivate the affections appropriate to the due performance of these reasonable duties He has set apart one day in seven, and although it is not at all times practicable to dispense with military duty on the Sabbath, there is an extent to which these may be curtailed. Commanding officers of all grades, we, therefore, earnestly exhorted to so shape their orders so as to give to all officers and soldiers an opportunity to attend Divine service that day.

Experience supports the teachings of the Divine law, that one day in seven is required, as a day of rest, for man and beast. Policy, therefore, as well as religious duty, calls upon us to observe this Divine appointment.

All military duty not required for discipline and defence, or the necessary collection and preservation of supplies, will be dispensed with on the Sabbath, while the enemy is stationary, and every facility and convenience practicable, will be afforded chaplains for the celebration of Divine service, and officers and men will be encouraged to attend.

Official. Signed BRAXTON BRAGG,
Gen. Commanding.

ASSISTANT AND INSPECTOR GENERAL'S OFFICE,
Richmond, Nov. 26th, 1862.

General Orders No. 96.

Commandants of conscripts will cause the following order to be published for at least seven times in a sufficient number of newspapers in each State of the Confederacy to insure its reaching every part of the country:

I. All commissioned officers and enlisted men who are now absent from their commands from any other cause than actual disability, or duty under orders from the Secretary of War, from their Department commanders, will return to their commands without delay.

II. Commissioned officers failing to comply with the provisions of the foregoing paragraph within a reasonable length of time, in no case to exceed twenty days after the publication of this order, shall be dropped from the rolls of the army at discretion, and their names will be furnished by the commandant of conscripts for enrollment in the ranks.

III. All enlisted men who shall fail to comply with the provisions of paragraph I. of this order, within a reasonable length of time, shall be considered as deserters and treated accordingly; their names to be furnished to the commandant of conscripts in their State, for publication, or such other action as may be deemed most efficacious.

IV. In order to ensure the efficient co-operation of all concerned to carry this order into immediate effect, Department commanders will require from the commanding officer of each separate command in their Department a prompt report of the names of all commissioned officers and enlisted men now absent from their commands. These reports must state in each case the cause of absence, and any regimental, battalion or company commander who shall neglect to furnish such a report, or who shall knowingly be guilty of concealing any case of unauthorized absence, shall, on conviction thereof, be summarily dismissed.

V. Under the provisions of the 2d clause of paragraph I of General Orders No. 82, commissioned officers and privates who are incapable of bearing arms in consequence of wounds received in battle, but who are otherwise fit for service, are required, if not otherwise assigned, to report to the nearest commandant of conscripts in their respective States, who will, if they are fitted for such duty, assign them to the collection of stragglers and the enforcement of the provisions of this order, with full power to call upon the nearest military authority for such assistance as may be necessary thereto

VI. Officers of the Quartermaster's Department, charged with payment of troops, are hereby directed not to pay any commissioned officer or private who does not furnish satisfactory evidence that he is not liable to the penalties described in the foregoing order. Any disbursing officer who shall make payment in violation of this order, shall be liable on his bond for the amount of such payment.

By order,
S. COOPER,
Adjt. and Inspec. General.
