WHARF AND WAVE.

Nippon Maru from San Francisco today.

The schooner Concord is being overhauled on the marine railway.

The bark McNear sailed for Leysan Island for guano on Saturday.

The French schooner Tahitienne sailed for Marquesas Islands yesterday.

Nine thousand bags of sugar at Honokaa and 4700 bags of sugar at Kukuihaele awaiting shipment.

Harry Hoolaea, a returning Tahitian, was the only passenger on the schooner Tahitienne for the South Seas yesterday.

The American schooner Charles Hansen in ballast for Hana sailed yesterday. She will load sugar there for San Francisco.

The American ship Geo. R. Skolfield cleared at the Custom house yesterday for New York with 41,055 boxes of sugar valued at $197,467.

Coal from the wreck of the Edward O'Brien is piling up at the boat landing and along the wharves toward the Kwa end of the harbor. The boat boys are offering same at $6.00 per ton.

The steamer Iwalani will take the W. G. Hall's route to Kauai while that steamer is taking the Kona-Kau run in place of the Mauna Loa. The W. G. Hall sails for Kona on Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock.

A temporary stop has been put to the indiscriminate taking of coal from the wreck of the Edward O'Brien. The owners of the wreck are having a dispute with the boat boys and others who have been carrying the coal which will probably be adjusted today.

The ship Henry B. Hyde will clear for her voyage round the Horn early next week from Hilo. Up to this date she has shipped 4959 tons from the following plantations: Honomu, 5856 bags; Hakalau, 8787; Hilo Sugar Co., 8880; Waiakea, 12,300; Pepeekeo, 12,480; Onomea, 16,320.

Island steamers sailing today are the stmr. Noeau, Pederson, for Honokaa and Kukuihaele at 4 p. m.; stmr. Kinau, Clarke, for Maui and Hawaii ports at 12 m.; stmr. Iwalani, Gregory, for Nawiliwili, Hanamaulu, Koloa, Eleele and Hanapepe at 5 p. m.; stmr. Claudine, Cameron, for Maui ports at 5 p. m.

Coal is coming in fast from the wreck of the Edward O'Brien. The boat boys are charging $6 a load and making money. The high surf has been casting the coal on the reef in big quantities and all the wreckers have to do is to stand knee high in water and scoop in the black diamonds, diving the breakers as they come rolling in.

A Steel Beauty

The four-masted steel bark Erskine M. Phelps, the first sailing vessel ever built in the United States of American steel, arrived from San Francisco yesterday on her maiden voyage. The Phelps is American from keel to truck, jibboom to spanker boom, and a more handsome craft never sailed into Honolulu harbor. She made a perfect picture as she sailed up to the harbor entrance with her snow white canvas and black hull showing up in bold relief against the horizon.

The Erskine M. Phelps was built by Arthur Sewall of Bath, Maine, and brings some hay to Special Agent H. M. Sewall as cargo. She loads sugar for New York.

REAR ADMIRAL BEAUMONT.

Sketch of Career of New Commander of Pacific Naval Station.

In the British Navy and Army Illustrated of March 4 appears the following biographical sketch of Rear-Admiral Beaumont, who is to succeed Rear-Admiral Palliser in command of the Pacific fleet:

"Rear Admiral Lewis Anthony Beaumont, F. R. G. S., will on the 29th of this month hoist his flag on board the Warspite and sail on her to assume the command on the China station. This is Admiral Beaumont's first flag command, but he has plenty of time before him yet for many opportunities, as he is only a little over 50 years of age, having been born in May, 1847, and will have been barely eighteen months a flag officer when he assumes command. His promotion, in fact, has been rapid. He was only 11 months a sub-lieutenant, and he obtained his post rank in less than six years from becoming a commander, and his flag just 15 years later; and his promotion has been well earned, for though he has no history of war service to record, he has seen one of those campaigns against the elements which try men more than actual fighting, and has ably filled several administrative posts. As a lieutenant he served with the Arctic expedition under Sir George Nares in 1875-76, and his services therein gained him his promotion to commander, and for it he wears the Arctic medal, with its snow-white ribbon. Upon his promotion to captain he was appointed naval attache for Europe, but was soon selected by Lord Northbrook, the then First Lord of the Admiralty, for the post of private secretary, and in that capacity accompanied His Lordship on his special mission to Egypt in August, 1884. As a captain also he hoisted his pennant as a commodore of the second class in command of the training squadron. Finally he has just vacated the important post of director of naval intelligence, held since 1894. In 895 he was appointed aide-de-camp to the Queen, an appointment he of course vacated on attaining flag rank."

WINDY NIGHTS.

Whenever the moon and stars are set,
Whenever the wind is high,
All night long in the dark and wet,
A man goes riding by.
Late in the night when the fires are out,
Why does he gallop and gallop about?

Whenever the trees are crying aloud,
And ships are tossed at sea,
By, on the highway, low and loud,
By at the gallop goes he.
By at the gallop he goes, and then
By he comes back at the gallop again.

—Robert Louis Stevenson.

The schooner Jennie Wand, Christianson, sails for the Coast today.
