STREAMS OF IOWA WELL STOCKED

Fishermen May Expect Some Good Angling This Year According to Washington Reports.

MILLIONS WERE PLANTED

Congressmen Have Been Active in Procuring Few Kinds of Trout and Bass For Lakes and Streams.

Iowa rivers and lakes were stocked with millions of fish by the government bureau during the last year while other millions were propagated at the Manchester and Bellevue fish culture stations at Iowa and shipped to many parts of the country, write Geo. H. Carter from Washington.

The Manchester station alone produced 4,000,000 pike perch "fry" that is fish up to the time the yolk sac is absorbed and feeding begins. The same station also sent out 30,000 rainbow trout eggs and 60,000 rainbow trout fingerlings yearlings and adults. Of brook trout there were 365,000 raised at Manchester during the year, lake trout 2,000, black spotted trout, 1,000, rock bass, 4,000, small-mouthed black bass, 20,000 fry and 2,000 fingerlings.

The Bellevue station for collection of fishes from overflowed lands along the Mississippi had the following output during the year: Catfish, 45,000; crappie and strawberry bass, 40,000; large-mouthed black bass, 2,000; bream or sunfish, 40,000; buffalo fish, 4,500; yellow perch, 20,000; freshwater drum, 25,000.

Many Streams Stocked.

A large proportion of these fish were used to stock other Iowa waters, but thousands of others also were brought into the state from other culture stations to the delight of the bass Walton of Hawkeyeville. The government bureau of fisheries distributes these fish to the public and private waters on application endorsed by a United States senator or representative. The fish are carried to their destination in railroad cars equipped for the purpose or by messengers who accompany the shipments in baggage cars and are delivered to the applicant free of charge at the railroad station nearest the point of deposit. The annual report of the bureau just issued shows that Iowa congressmen have been especially active in obtaining fish for their constituents. At the present rate every lake and stream in the state ought to be a delightful fishing resort in a few years.

AMUSEMENTS

Another Big Musical Attraction.

Presented by a company of some fifty people, "The Flower of the Ranch," a musical comedy, all the scenes have been laid in the west, will come to the Grand next Wednesday evening.

The work enjoyed an excellent run in New York last season, playing at three different theaters, and was the summer attraction at the Garrick Theater in Chicago, a sufficient guarantee of its worth. Joseph E. Howard, whose music contributed so materially to the success of "The Time, the Place and the Girl," "The Girl Question" "The District Leader" and a half dozen other plays of recent vogue is the author and composer of "The Flower of the Ranch," and it is declared to be his best work.

Of the twenty odd musical numbers at least a dozen are participated in by the big chorus, and as Nat Weyburn has staged the show, it is to be presumed that the young women have much to do and of a decidedly diverting character. Weyburn knows how to get striking stage pictures and his dancing numbers are a delight.

Among the principal members of the company, which is the same as last season with two exceptions, are Frankie Drew, a vivacious comedienne; Frances Cossar, a handsome and statuesque singer; Edward Hume, an eccentric comedian who is considered one of the best dancers on the stage; Frederick Knights, a manly tenor; John McSweeney, Walter Stanley and George Doolittle. A handsome and complete production is carried, and ought to be accorded the same liberal patronage as was the "Three Twins" last Wednesday evening.

My son from New York City was visiting me and gave me a bottle of your medicine. It commenced to restore my strength at once. I use it every day now.

"I can do a good day's work in the blacksmith shop at the age of 83 years, and I attribute this to three tablespoonfuls of Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey a day. I have taken no other medicine. Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey is a wonderful builder for an old man.

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey

is an absolutely pure distillation of malted grain, great care being used to have every kernel thoroughly malted, thus destroying the germ and producing a predigested liquid food in the form of a malt essence, which is the most effective tonic stimulant and invigorator known to science; softened by warmth and moisture its palatability and freedom from injurious substances render it so that it can be retained by the most sensitive stomach. It is invaluable for overworked men, delicate women and sickly children. It strengthens and sustains the system; is a promoter of health and longevity; makes the old young and keeps the young strong.

CAUTION.—When you ask your druggist, grocer or dealer for Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey be sure you get the genuine.
