STEVENSVILLE MAN TRIES HANGING

CHARLES M'WILLIAMS, ADJUDGED INSANE, ATTEMPTS SUICIDE IN JAIL.

Hamilton, Oct. 21.—Yesterday Charles McWilliams of Stevensville was brought to Hamilton while insane. His condition is thought will be only temporary. After being placed in the county jail he made an attempt to commit suicide by hanging. He stood on the window sill in the corridor of the jail and crowded his head in between the cages and a water pipe and jumped. The space was very small and had he not been rescued immediately would have been dead in a short time.

His actions attracted the attention of Joseph Hunter, who accompanied him from Stevensville and was watching over him at the time. With the assistance of a prisoner in the jail he was taken down and was more closely watched from that time on.

In the absence of Judge Myers, who is at Thompson holding court, Chairman O. C. Cooper of the commissioners of Ravalli county and Drs. George McGrath and R. L. Owens formed an insanity commission to try McWilliams. They soon came to the conclusion that he was insane and committed him to the asylum at Warm Springs. He was taken to that institution this morning by Sheriff Ward.

Mr. McWilliams came to Stevensville from Colorado about three months ago and purchased some land from the Bitter Root Valley Irrigation company and also engaged in the insurance and real estate business in Stevensville. It is understood he has a family in Colorado, from which state he came here, and a sister at Stevensville. It is thought the attack is only temporary, which was no doubt caused by financial reverses of late, and that he will recover by the right kind of treatment at the state institution.

HAMILTON THATCHER TO WED NEXT MONTH

Mr. and Mrs. R. V. McBain have issued invitations to many friends for the wedding of their daughter, Miss Elizabeth Isabel, and Mr. Hamilton Thatcher, which is to be solemnized November 8 at St. Mark's church. A reception at the home of the bride's parents, 302 West Fourth street, follows the ceremony, at 8:30 o'clock.—Anaconda Standard.

This will be interesting news to the residents of Hamilton, as both Miss McBain and Mr. Thatcher are well known among the local society set. The bride-to-be is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. V. McBain, the former being one of the auditors of the Anaconda Copper Mining company. She is a sister of Mrs. J. F. Torrence of Hamilton and has visited at the latter's home on a number of occasions.

ICE COMPANY CASE IS OPENED

PROSECUTION OF CONCERN FOR VIOLATION OF THE LAW BEGINS IN NEW YORK.

New York, Oct. 21.—Prosecution of the American Ice company, the largest dealer in ice in the world, for alleged violation of the state anti-monopoly law, started in the criminal branch of the supreme court today. Deputy Attorney General Roger Clark declared that "everything short of physical violence which the diabolical ingenuity of man could invent was employed by this corporation to build up a monopoly of the ice business." He said the American Ice company had repeatedly refused to harvest ice in its main fields, in order to create a scarcity of ice and to raise prices. The idea for the organization for the combine, he said, originated with Charles W. Morse.

Deputy Attorney General Osborne read to the jury the certificate of incorporation of a company in New Jersey, wherein the capitalization was fixed at $60,000,000, each of the five incorporators subscribing for only 10 shares. The capitalization was later reduced to $40,000,000. John R. Bennett, one of the incorporators, was called as the first witness. He admitted that out of the $40,000,000 capitalization of the American Ice company, $20,000,000 had been exchanged share for share for stock in the Knickerbocker and Consolidated Ice companies and about $19,000,000 for other ice company properties.

MEMORIAL SERVICES TO BE WORLD WIDE

Washington, Oct. 21.—At the fourth day's session of the supreme council of Scottish Rite Masons for the southern jurisdiction which convened today in executive session, nominations for knights commander of the court of honor, were considered. About 300 32nd degree Masons were advanced to this honorary degree, a stepping stone to the highest degree in Scottish Rite Masonry, that of the 33rd degree. Among those elected were O. A. Sjoa of Lewiston, Idaho; J. W. Robinson of Boise; A. Van Corry of Butte; A. Gray, G. W. Mikel of Butte; E. H. Payne of Livingston.

There are 11 vacancies in the supreme council and it is expected that at least two active members, and possibly three may be elected. A resolution was adopted providing for memorial services in commemoration of the 100th anniversary of the birth of Albert Pime, the Scottish Rite "patton saint," on December 29, next. On that day celebrations will be held by fraternities in all parts of the world.

SUSPECT RELEASED.

Los Angeles, Oct. 21.—Mrs. Laura A. Sim, who was arrested following the attack on Mrs. George Staehle, Sunday night, was released today. Careful investigation by the police failed to disclose any evidence connecting Mrs. Sim with the crime. Mrs. Staehle, whose throat was terribly cut by her assailant, is still unable to talk, and the chances of her recovery are slight.

POSTAL BANK DEFEAT IS THREATENED

FRIENDS OF THE CARTER MEASURE ARE URGED TO COMBINE VIGOROUSLY.

Chicago, Oct. 21.—Enactment of a postal savings bank bill at the next session of congress will fail unless its friends combine their efforts, unite in an organized campaign and present as compact a front as the opposing banking interests, declares "Everyday Life," editorially, as a conclusion reached by a canvas vote in congress. The urgent advocacy by President Roosevelt and by President Taft will go for naught unless the friends of the measure rally in force under one banner. Continuing the address to the public it declares:

"For a time it looked as if it might be possible to win the fight with your silent, moral support. But the American Bankers' association is bending every energy to defeat the people's demands for a postal savings system, and unless you get busy and come into the game in a personal way it seems likely that this powerful organization will be able to strangle the bill in congress.

"Here is the situation: There is small reason to doubt that a majority of members of congress, in both houses, are in favor of the bill, as a matter of personal belief and sentiment, but the hostile influence of the bankers is so strong that if a vote were taken today the vote would show against the bill, not for it.

"One able representative put the situation in this light: 'There are a great many bankers in this country; they are respectable; they are dignified; they are plausible; they are powerful, and they are organized. When they speak with one voice they make a very convincing sound that penetrates even to the dullest ears in Washington. On the other hand, the people who want a postal savings bank are right, but they are unorganized. If they would make their voices heard in congress, if they would get together and make a noise at the same time, they would get the support of a good majority in congress and get the legislation they want. In other words, there is enough friendly sentiment in congress to pass the postal savings measure, provided the people will give them the tangible evidences of their strong moral backing.'

"If half a million letters from individual citizens asking for votes for this bill were to be sent to members of congress before the close of the next session the measure would become a law, hands down.

"In other words, the members of congress are in the position in this matter of demure maidens who have been 'asked' by one suitor, but are waiting for a formal proposal by the one they really favor; they cannot consent before they are asked, without loss of influence and self-respect.

"This puts the matter up to you. There is just one way to get half a million letters into the hands of the congressmen. We must extend the membership of the Postal Savings Bank league into every city and town and community of this country. Will you do yourself the distinction of becoming the first member of the league in your community?

"In his recent speeches President Taft has made it plain that he is for a postal savings system—for it good and hard. And we believe congress is with him—only we must give the members such a body of letters, such a tidal wave of public opinion in black and white, that the most timid will not hesitate to vote for the measure."

One applicant for membership in the Postal Savings-Bank league, the manager of a big coal company in Montana, wrote: "I believe that that class of people, now having the savings bank idea (private savings bank) will not be induced to change their deposits from a private to a government postal bank, paying a lesser rate of interest.

"I know of numbers of people that will not deposit in banks of any kind. Some of these very people pay to deposit their savings with the government at this time, doing this in the way of buying money orders, which they carry with them until such time as they have actual need of money. I have no doubt that this class of people would become postal savings bank depositors, and when duly educated to receiving interest money, would, in due time, many of them, become depositors in private savings banks.

"Thrift makes a nation. Thrift is induced by economy. Economy is induced by saving. Get them all saving."

GUGGENHEIM SUIT IS SUDDENLY POSTPONED

Chicago, Oct. 21.—The suit seeking annulment of the divorce granted Grace B. Guggenheim from W. B. Guggenheim, eight years ago in Chicago, closed abruptly here today when Judge Honore indefinitely postponed the hearing. When Judge Dunne in 1901 granted the divorce Mrs. Guggenheim's testimony showed she was a resident of Illinois. Mrs. Guggenheim claims recently to have discovered her testimony was in error on this point. The matter was laid before Mr. Dunne, who is no longer on the bench, and he, declaring that fraud had been practiced, filed a petition for the annulment of the divorce.

Not a precedent was to be found. Arguments continued for three days. Judge Honroe meanwhile observing that they were getting "nowhere," stated that Mrs. Guggenheim's only remaining recourse is to file a bill herself alleging that she obtained her divorce by fraud.

Terrible Torture Inflicted

TORTURED IN CAVE TO FORCE PAYMENT OF ONE MILLION DOLLARS.

Tangier, Oct. 21.—The fate of El Roghi, the rebel pretender to the throne of Morocco, who fell into the hands of the sultan, is still a tragic mystery hidden by the walls of the royal palace. It is generally believed that the unfortunate captive is being subjected to tortures such as only the mind of an African potentate could conceive in an effort to have him disgorge a fortune of more than $1,000,000 banked in Europe before his fate is finally settled.

A few days ago the report was given out from the palace, after El Roghi, in his miserable cage had been taken inside, that he had been executed by the sultan in a fit of anger arising out of the protest of the French consul against the inhuman torture of maiming or burning with boiling oil the captive rebel prisoners and followers of the pretender. The prisoners were released, but El Roghi remained a captive.

Now it is reported from an authoritative source that El Roghi is still alive and undergoing tortures worse than those inflicted upon the other prisoners. He is said to have suffered greatly, without agreeing to give up the secret of his hidden fortune or turn it over to the sultan; that he has been removed secretly to Fez, where he is being treated by a European physician until he can gain strength to permit of fresh tortures.

When El Roghi was captured he was put into a small wooden and iron-barred cage. The cage was strapped to the back of a camel and he was brought to the palace of the sultan. Defiant and cursing his captors, he was put on exhibition in the cage before the gates of the palace, where the furious crowds jeered and tortured him, but without breaking his defiant spirit. It was stated that the sultan had sentenced him to spend the rest of his days in the cage, but El Roghi heard the sentence without apparent concern and refused again and again to turn his fortune over to the sultan.

About a week ago the caged prisoner was moved inside the palace walls and reports filtered out of the desperate measures practiced by the sultan to secure the pretender's wealth. Then came the report of his death, followed now by the later report that he is kept alive for new tortures until he agrees to give over his money to the sultan.
