IMPORTANT TO LADIES—THE GLENFIELD PATENT Double Refined Powder Starch.—The manufacturer of this starch respectfully invites comparison with any other in the market, and he rests assured that laundresses, housekeepers, and others giving it a fair trial, will and that it stands unrivalled for cheapness, strength, and purity of color. It imparts a fine glossy finish to the goods, and retains that transparency and stiffness which it has so pre-eminently attained, longer than any other starch yet introduced. For the dressing of lace, linens, &c., nothing can equal it. It is particularly recommended for the dressing of shirts, as the easy elasticity which it retains even in damp weather, presents to the wearer a pleasing and agreeable contrast to the stiff and uncomfortable appearance assumed by linen when dressed with crystallized, or common starch. It requires no boiling, is perfectly free from all impurities, and is warranted not to adhere to the iron. Sold by the following, and by grocers in general:—John Duncan & Son, 407 Broadway; Chester Dripps, 315 Broadway; W. S. Corson, 674 Broadway; John Cook, 755 Broadway; H. A. Kerr, 746 Broadway; Jas. Craig, corner Grand and East streets, New Haven, Ct. Agent. GEO. WALKER, 24 Pine street.

BIG BUGS AND BED BUGS.
The "big bugs" at the British Fair,
Perhaps, won't know what bed bugs are;
But yet these imps beyond "the pool"
Are known and thought at Livingwood!
And, though it grieves us thus to write,
Like our own blood suckers, they bite.
But Lyon's powder soon will be
Fired in among the enemy;
For at the Fair 'twill be agreed
That 'tis the best of the kind by odd
To things with mandibles, swift poison,
Yet safe to feed o'er little boys on.
When they hear this across the water,
Good Heavens! won't there be a slaughter.
Orders (this prophecy rely on,)
Will come by scores, and by the ton.

LOWMOOR IRON.—CAUTION TO THE PUBLIC AND Managers of Railroads. BOSTON, Oct. 17, 1850.
To Wm. A. Crocker, Esq., Taunton, Massachusetts.—Dear Sir: I received the letter the Lowmoor Company have sent to you, dated Lowmoor Works, 18th September, 1850, for the perusal of which I am much obliged, and join the Lowmoor Company in sincerely thanking you and Mr. Cook for the important information you have given as to the imposition that has, for a considerable time past, been practised upon the United States public, in substituting an inferior and spurious article in the place of real Lowmoor Iron; and we are of opinion that the best means we could adopt to prevent the imposition in future, would be to publish that letter entire in the newspapers, and at the same time caution the American people, that the only certain way of obtaining genuine Lowmoor Iron is by applying direct to John Finch and Sons, Iron Merchants, Liverpool, who are the sole agents of the Lowmoor Company for the United States, or to order it through their only representatives in the States, Messrs. Gilmore, Blake & Ward, bankers, Boston. As we know you are equally desirous as ourselves that this fraud should be stopped at once, we hope, for the guilty parties, we think it almost unnecessary to ask your permission to publish the Lowmoor Co.'s letter, but it is a liberty we must not take without your sanction, requesting which at your earliest convenience. I am, for John Finch & Son, with great respect, dear sir, your obedient servant,
JOHN FINCH, Sen.
TAUNTON, Oct. 23, 1850.
JOHN FINCH, Sen., Esq., Boston—Dear Sir: Your esteemed favor of the 17th instant came duly to hand, and during my absence from home was mislaid, which is my apology for not more promptly giving my assent to your proposition to authorise the publication of the letter referred to. This I now do most cheerfully, and remain yours very truly,
WM. A. CROCKER,
Lowmoor Iron Works.
NEAR BRADFORD, TOWNSHIP, Sept. 18th, 1850.
WM. A. CROCKER, Esq., Taunton, Massachusetts.—Sir: Your name has been kindly introduced to us by J. M. Cooke, Esq., who we have had the pleasure of seeing here, and who expressed himself much pleased with our manufacture. He brought to our knowledge facts that we trust you will consider of sufficient importance to justify us in taking the liberty of addressing you, though a stranger to us. He informed us that you take a lively interest in the working of Railways, with a due regard to economy, and that Tyre Bars of our manufacture have often proved of very excellent quality on the line of Railway under your immediate eye, and that others supposed to be of the same make have turned out far inferior. When Mr. Cooke saw our mode of manufacturing Tyre Bars he expressed considerable astonishment at their being any variation in our quality, and on entering fully upon the subject, we learned from him that two-thirds at least, of all Tyre bars in extensive use, are of Lowmoor quality, they having a cross thus between our mark of Low and Moor, whereas we know of no such thing, and never heard of it before, our mark being as Mr. Cooke saw, a simple Lowmoor. We shall take immediate steps through our agents, Messrs. John Finch & Sons, of Liverpool, that this be made known in the United States, as we feel much injury and pecuniary loss is sustained by the purchasers of such inferior iron, as well as our own character being most unjustly at stake. We fully explained to Mr. Cooke all orders addressed to our agents, Messrs. Finch & Sons, would meet with immediate attention, and through them all parties can rely upon our manufacture. We trust this explanation will be a sufficient apology for the liberty we have taken, and on only express our obligation to Mr. Cooke for having brought this before us. If at any time we can, in any way, be of service to you, or you should visit this neighborhood, it would afford us much pleasure to make your personal acquaintance; in the meantime, do not hesitate employing us as if we can be useful to you. And have the honor to remain, sir, very most obedient humble servant. HIRD, DAWSON & HARDY,
Lowmoor Ironmasters.
