Fishing Banks—Extraordinary Haul.—The passengers on board the steamer Hero caught, yesterday, six thousand porgies. Those who are fond of the sport should embrace the present opportunity. She runs every day. See advertisement.

Illustrated News.—Sundry interested parties are puffing another pictorial, at the expense of the News, by intimating that the News has reduced its engravings and that I have sold out, which is all false. The Illustrated News has excluded its advertising pages, but the same number of excellent engravings are continued as heretofore, for the beauty and improvement of which no pains or expense will be spared. A magnificent Crystal Palace supplement will be issued next week, and presented gratuitously to subscribers. It will contain full descriptions and illustrations of that celebrated structure. Another magnificent presentation engraving, the largest ever issued in America, will shortly be published, and presented gratuitously to subscribers Never has greater enterprise been used to improve the paper, and never has its subscription list stood higher. Subscribers will receive, in real merit of engravings, and in supplements and otherwise, fourfold the value of any other pictorial paper issued in this country. My interest in the News cannot be bought for any price. The means, abilities and enterprise of its publishers will eventually produce a paper unrivalled in the world for its mechanical and artistical beauty; confidently awaiting which, the attacks of these interested parties count but little, either with the public or myself. P. T. BARNUM.

Sewing Machines—Now justly Admitted to be superior to all others, making with a facility hitherto unknown, the only fast and fair stitch made by machinery. Price $60 to $150. Descriptive pamphlets forwarded on request. GROVER, BAKER & CO., 94 Chambers street.

Sewing Machines.—The Best Possible Seam, as all intelligent persons know, is that made by the saddler and shoemaker with two threads, leaving a fair stitch on both sides This seam has just the right quantity of thread in it, and is the same as that made by Singer's sewing machines. The machines that form a seam with a fair stitch on one side, and a three strand braided cord tied into knots on the other, are imperfect, and can answer no good purpose. The genuine and perfect machines are freely exhibited, and are for sale at the office No. 323 Broadway.
I. M. SINGER & CO.

The Crystal Palace.—This great Exhibition will soon open; but would you see a great curiosity shop, which even that place will scarcely equal, go to TUTTLE'S, 245 Broadway. It is an Acknowledged Fact of all the most eminent physicians of Philadelphia, that Hobensack's Worm Syrup and Liver Pills, are two of the greatest discoveries of the age. Read the following:—
WILMINGTON, Del., June 1, 1850.
Mr. J. N. Hobensack:—You will please send me one gross of your Liver Pills. I have sold the three dozen you left with me on agency; they have performed the most astonishing cures. They cured one man of the ague in three days, and a Mrs. Haines, of this place, who had been ailing for the last five years, and, after trying all the most fashionable physicians thought there was no use of trying any longer. I gave her two boxes of your pills, and told her if they did her no good, she should not pay for them; in two weeks, and before taking two boxes, she began to improve. It is now about six weeks since she commenced taking them; she is almost entirely restored to health. Respectfully yours
J. N. HOBENSACK, Proprietor, Philadelphia. T. CLICKENER & CO., No. 81 Barclay street, New York; Wholesale Agent for Eastern States.
