Nashville Union.

S. C. MERCER, Editor.

FRIDAY MORNING, JUNE 27, 1862.

The National Intelligencer says that President LINCOLN's proposed scheme, that the Federal Government shall aid all States desiring to emancipate their slaves, is substantially the same with a plan of President MONROE.

In its number of June 7th, the Intelligencer quotes some remarkable passages from an address of Ex-President MONROE to the Convention which met at Richmond in 1829–30. Mr. MONROE accepted, even then, the idea of the help of the Union in effecting emancipation, saying: "As to the practice of emancipating them [the slaves,] it can never be done by the State itself, nor without the aid of the Union." . . . "If emancipation be possible, I look to the Union to aid in effecting it." . . . "If we find that this evil has preyed upon the vitals of the Union, and has been prejudicial to all the States where it has existed, and is likewise repugnant to their State Constitutions and Bills of Rights, why may we not expect that they will unite with us in accomplishing its removal?"

There seems to be a strong and rapidly increasing feeling in Maryland for this plan, and also in Delaware and Missouri. Intelligent slaveowners seem to believe that if the war lasts much longer, slaves will be worthless, and hence they had better take what they can get for them while there is a chance to get anything.

The correspondent of the New York Herald at this place says that a considerable share of the city debt of Nashville is due the Phoenix Bank of New York. The city debt is some $600,000, due New York parties principally. This debt was confiscated, we suppose, under the sequestration act of JEFF. DAVIS, the great Repudiator. He pays a deserved compliment to our genial and whole-souled Mayor, saying that he is acting with vigor, discretion and intelligence in the discharge of his duties, and contributing largely to the support of Gov. JOHNSON in the measures he has introduced for the maintenance of the government.

The Herald and many of the leading Northern newspapers publish the Mayor's late message in full.

A banquet has just been given in honor of Sheridan Knowles by the chief citizens of Cork. The veteran dramatist, who is now in his seventy-eighth year, has been staying at an hydropathic establishment in his native city, and is about returning to Scotland. In a speech, in reply to a toast, he narrated the history of his life, his father's departure from Cork, his settlement in England, the generous kindness of his near relative, Richard Brinsley Sheridan, his employment as a teacher of elocution, his turning his attention to dramatic literature and to the stage. In the course of the evening he sang the Irish melody, "I saw from the beach," to his own accompaniment, with a touching earnestness and feeling that caused general emotion especially in the couplet:

"Give me back—give me back the wild freshness of morning,
Her clouds and her tears are worth evening's best light."

The Louisville Journal says: "A gentleman, a pilot on the river, who arrived in this city, from Memphis, brought with him a black flag, which was captured with the rebel steamer Sterling Price, in the late naval engagement at Memphis; The gentleman informs us that all the rebel gunboats were supplied with these terrible emblems, but that they were not hoisted during the engagement at Memphis.

NASHVILLE UNION.

THE NASHVILLE UNION was commenced a few weeks since, for the purpose of opposing the Rebel Southern Confederacy, and of advocating the restoration of Federal authority, without any abatement, over all the States which have attempted to secede. It holds as friends all who support, and as foes all who oppose the Union of the States. It has no watchword but FREEDOM AND NATIONALITY.

With rebels and traitors it has no compromise to make. It contends for the Federal Constitution and the LAWS made in pursuance thereof as the SUPREME LAW OF THE LAND, anything in the Constitution and LAWS of any of the States to the contrary notwithstanding.

It contends for the Union of the States, because without it the preservation of our liberties and institutions and the organization of society itself are wholly impossible. Therefore, whatever stands in the way of crushing out the rebellion and restoring the Union must perish, no matter by what name it be called.

To the people of Tennessee, ever renowned for their devotion to Liberty and Union, until they were betrayed to the rebel despotism at Richmond by a perfidious Governor and corrupt Legislature, and who have felt so heavily the awful curse of treason and anarchy, we appeal for support. Let the names of rebel office-holders, Vigilance Committees, and Minute Men, who have filled our borders with mourning, be gibbetted before the world. Let those ambitious and avaricious men who have plotted our ruin for their own aggrandizement be fastened to the pillory of shame, no matter how high their position in society! Let it be shown how the self-styled defenders of "Southern Rights" are now leading marauding bands of free-booters and moss troopers over our State, kidnapping negroes, stealing horses and cattle, breaking into houses, burning railroad bridges and cars, and murdering unarmed citizens in cold blood. Let the truth, so long excluded by the Southern conspirators, now circulate freely through every neighborhood, and our cause will assuredly triumph. Will not loyal men everywhere aid us in the dissemination of facts and the advocacy of Free Government?
