A BOGALUSA BANK CLOSED.

Bogalusa, May 29.—State Bank Examiner Young arrived in Bogalusa last night, and early this morning closed the Commercial Bank here. He also telephoned the Bank of Mt. Herman, La., and the Bank of Angie, La., not to open or receive any deposits, but to hold intact until the examiner reached those places.

It is learned that William Sebastian, assistant bank examiner, has been making an examination of the Commercial Bank here, and is said to have found a good many loans in the bank assets which were not there at the previous examination.

Examiner Takes Charge.

As the information furnished by Mr. Bickham was not satisfactory Mr. Young took charge and closed the bank, basing his action on Act 30 of the status of Louisiana governing matters of this nature.

The Bank of Mount Herman and the Bank of Angie were ordered closed pending further investigation as they are controlled by President Bickham and are lcosely affiliated with the Commercial Bank of Bogalusa.

St. Paul's fair was a grand success bringing the largest receipts of almost anything of the kind held here.

THE CEMETERY WORK.

The work of cleaning up and beautifying the Covington cemetery by the Womens Progressive Union has begun. For the past three days six men have been employed, with several ladies supervising, and one of the largest undertakings of the Union was launched.

Old graves with a hundred years growth of bushes and brambles are being uncovered, old tombs crumbled and fallen with large trees growing out of their base, show a neglect that is appaling. The work of cleaning up and communicating with parties owning these places is a large undertaking but the ladies of the Union are determined in all to see the Covington cemetery a place of beauty. We shall feel grateful indeed to hear from any party or parties having a plot or tomb, or knows another party who has same in this graveyard. Any information that will help us in this work can be sent to Mrs. Preston burns, Chairman.

PROF. A. J. PARK.

Prof. A. J. Park left Covington last week for the home of his parents in Winder, Pa., where he will spend a while with them before he takes up his duties as principal of the high school at Boyce, La.

Few teachers have become as popular in a short time as Prof. Park has in his single term in Covington and it is to be regretted that he could not have been induced to remain with us. His acceptance of an increase in salary at Boyce, La., was due to the necessity of a hasty decision, pending the meeting of the school board.

While principal of the high school at Covington, Prof. Park's school work was excellent, both as a disciplinarian and instructor. He became especially popular through his activity in athletic sports, baseball etc., and the manner in which he kept up the pupil's interest in the school and school work. He was always organizing something that brought interest to the school, and he assisted the school league in making a success of their social undertakings.

Prof. and Mrs. Park will be greatly missed in Covington.
