FIRST CLASS STEAM FORGE FOR SALE.—WILL BE sold at public sale, at 2 o'clock P. M., on Tuesday, the 4th day of February, 1862, at the public house of W. L. DeBorbon, in the city of Reading, the property known as the Reading Steam Forge, in said city.
Said Forge is substantially built, and completely equipped with all the modern improvements, including a seven-ton Nasmyth hammer and three Kirk steam hammers, each with heating furnaces and boilers attached. A tyre bending machine and oven, three puddling furnaces, five blacksmith's fires, two thirty-ton cranes, one largest class boring mill, slotting machine, turning lathe, and sixty horse engine. Main building 300 by 100 feet, with sheet iron roof, a carpenter shop and brick office, with fire proof, &c., on the premises, which contain over 2½ acres.
Said Forge is most conveniently located for business, adjoining the Reading Railroad, and so connected therewith that locomotives can take away and deliver cars of iron, coal and other freight, without cost for hauling. Shutes run outside the building, by which coal, scrap iron, &c., can be dumped close to each furnace, without extra cost for hauling or labor. This Forge is capable of executing the heaviest work, having forged and finished the main shafts of the Adriatic, (believed to be the largest ever made), besides complete sets of forgings for numerous steamships for government and others. The city of Reading presents peculiar advantages for the successful operation of such a forge. It is within 58 miles of Philadelphia, connected therewith by the Reading Railroad, and the Schuylkill (160 ton) canal, 128 miles by rail direct from New York, 138 from Baltimore, 54 from Harrisburg, and 34 from the Schuylkill coal region, whence the best anthracite coal can be placed at the furnace doors for about $2 25 per ton. Reading is situated in one of the finest agricultural districts of Pennsylvania, has a population of 23,000, and is noted for its general health and the purity of its water. As Berks county contains more furnaces than any other in the United States, iron of every description can be procured by the forge at the lowest prices. Title clear of all incumbrance. Possession given immediately, and terms made easy to suit purchasers. The Forge is in complete order, and is furnished with every necessary tool and appurtenance to commence work immediately on taking possession. It is a property well worth the attention of those engaged in the above business.
For any further information, apply to H. H. MUHLENBERG, Cashier of the Farmers' Bank of Reading, Penn.

RESTAURANTS.

FULTON COFFEE HOUSE, 145 FULTON STREET.—Having completed our arrangements for cooking oysters by steam, we would respectfully invite the public to call and try just one "steam." All who have tried them agree in pronouncing them far superior to oysters cooked in any other style, as it is the only manner in which the full flavor of the oyster is retained. They still serve "stews," "roasts," "fries," &c., but as "steams" are so far superior we believe that all other methods will be abandoned for this delicious dish. Ladies' Dining Room and Gent's Lunch Counter always supplied with the best the market affords. Ladies will find this one of the best places in the city to procure refreshments, whether "Breakfast," "Dinner" or "Tea."

RECEIVED AT LIBBY'S, NO. 139 FULTON STREET, another fine lot of Chincoteague Oysters. N. B.—The finest Stews, Fries and Roasts in town. Oysters opened without cracking. Try the Fancy Roast and Boston Stews.

THE CAT IS OUT OF THE BAG, AND THE place is now open at 323½ Atlantic street, near Hoyt, Brooklyn. New Lea Shaking Ale in the city, 3 cents a glass, 5 cents a bottle, 8 cents a quart. Call and try it. Massey, Collins & Co.'s Philadelphia Ale, 3 cents a glass. All other Liquors of the best quality.
HENRY C. FRASER, Proprietor.
