BOGLE'S HYPERION FLUID!
For Restoring, Preserving and Adorning
THE HAIR!
THE GREAT PRESERVATIVE OF THE AGE!
NO HOME in the Tropics should be without Bogle's Hyperion Fluid.
Prof. Anderson, in 1855,
Pronounced it to be the Saver of his Hair!

ROYAL LYCEUM THEATER, STRAND, LONDON, Saturday, Aug. 25th. 1855.

It affords me very great pleasure to bear witness to the surprising efficacy of "Bogle's Hyperion Fluid." I had occasion to resort to it after losing so much of my hair as to be almost bald, owing to the influence of the climate, during my tour in the United States. Various much vaunted Hair Restoratives which I had already tried having entirely failed, I was advised to test the value of Mr. Bogle's preparation. I used it diligently for some time, when to my great gratification my hair assumed more than its former luxuriance. Hence I can—both from my own experience and that of my friends to whom I have recommended its use—most confidently advise the use of the "Hyperion Fluid" to all who need the use of that which shall restore, nourish, and beautify their hair. For these purposes, I am certain that it is unsurpassed and unsurpassable.
JOHN HENRY ANDERSON,

To the Public of Honolulu.
The Agent of Bogle's Hyperion Fluid having called on me when I arrived here, I was delighted to find my old friend had preceded me (I mean Bogle's Fluid.) My hair was falling off in thousands per day; a short interview with my friend has stoped the fall; a few smart rubbing operations, performed by "VOELKER," has made every hair as fast as the Hawaiian on my Magic Chair. I, in 1859, in Honolulu, recommend it to the world as the Great Hair Preserver.

BEST HAIR DYE
In the World!
THIS IS RATHER STRONG LANGUAGE, yet Bogle's Electric Hair Dye (recently improved) was proven to be so by the judges at the late Mechanics' Fair, held in Boston (among whom was Dr. Hayes, the eminent chemist and State assayer), who awarded it the Prize Medal and Diploma, over the choicest hair dyes on exhibition from all parts of the Union. Its unparalleled superiority consists in, 1st, The ingredients are nourishing to the hair, not destructive, as others are. 2d, Does not stain nor hurt the skin. 3d, Is easily applied, and gives the hair any color required, from a delicate brown to a deep black, so natural as to appear marvellous. Manufactured, sold and applied by WM. BOGLE, 202 Washington street, Boston, and may be had of Druggists everywhere. 50 y

HAWAIIAN LEGISLATURE, 1860.

HOUSE OF NOBLES

THIRD DAY, May 28.—Mr. Hopkins announced the death of the Hon. J. W. E. Maikai, a member of this House, and in offering the following Resolutions, spoke of the good qualities of head and heart of the deceased Noble, and of the great loss which his death has caused to the House and to the nation:

Resolved, That this House has heard with unfeigned regret of the death of the Hon. J. W. E. Maikai, a member of the House of Nobles, a gentleman from whose wisdom and whose courtesy in debate, the King who created him a Noble, the House to which he belonged, and, it may be said, in one word, the country at large, had every reason to expect the happiest influence.

Resolved, That this House do now adjourn for the day in order to mark its sense of the loss it has sustained and its respect for the memory of the deceased.

Resolved, That the members of this House do wear crape upon the left arm for the space of thirty days from this date, and that the seats of this House be draped in mourning for the same space of time.

Resolved, That a copy of these Resolutions be forwarded to the widow and family of our deceased fellow-member, and that the President be directed to transmit the same with an expression of the sincere condolence of this House.

Resolved, That a copy of these Resolutions be forwarded to the Hon. the House of Representatives.

Mr. Wyllie had been long acquainted with Mr. Maikai, and while he deeply regretted his death, he fully concurred in the sentiments of the Resolutions and moved their passage.

After some further remarks from Mr. Gregg eulogistic of the deceased, the Resolutions were adopted, and the House adjourned.

FOURTH DAY, May 30.—A communication was received from the Representatives transmitting sundry Resolutions adopted by them on receipt of the announcement of the decease of the Hon. J. W. E. Maikai.

The Minister of Foreign Relations and the President of the Board of Education presented their biennial Reports, which were accepted and laid on the table for the present.

Mr. Gregg on leave presented a Bill to amend the provisions of the Civil Code in regard to the Pilots, also a Bill to regulate the settlement of the estates of deceased persons. Adjourned to to-morrow.

FIFTH DAY, May 31.—A message was received from the House of Representatives transmitting a Joint Resolution appropriating $8,000 for the expenses of the Legislative Session of 1860. Rules suspended and the Resolution read a first and second time and referred to a select committee.

The bill to regulate the manner of collecting pilots' fees was read a first time, and on a suspension of the rules read a second time and debated.

Mr. Gregg said that he had introduced this bill in order to promote harmony. Some misunderstanding had arisen among the pilots in regard to the fees, which this bill was calculated to prevent in future. At present it was made the duty of the Collector General and of the Deputies, to collect the pilotage from all vessels on behalf of the pilots. This was not the plan followed in other commercial ports throughout the world; there the pilots were themselves the collectors of their own fees, and Mr. Gregg knew of no reason why it should not be so here. He took this occasion to pay a compliment to the pilots of Honolulu, who, in point of skillfulness, he said, were second to none.

The bill passed on its second reading.

Mr. Armstrong read first time a bill to regulate family names. The object of the bill, said Mr Armstrong, is to supply a want which has long been seen and felt among the Hawaiians—the utter lack of family names, without which one essential feature of the family cannot be had. He introduced the bill with some degree of diffidence, as it was a difficult subject on which to legislate. He thought, however, that something of the kind ought to be done to prevent the confusion of names now existing among the people. People now have each two or more names, which they use as the whim may take them.

Mr. Wyllie approved the principle and objects of the bill, but he thought some objection might be made to the section which declared that illegitimate children should bear the name of the mother This might be proper in some instances but not in all.

Mr. Hopkins also approved the general features of the bill, but thought that the power to change a family name ought to be in the Legislature, and not in the Supreme and Circuit Courts as provided in the bill.

Mr. Ii said that as nations improve in civilization the necessity of family names becomes apparent, and he fully concurred in the absolute necessity and propriety of the bill. Made the order for to-morrow. Adjourned.

SIXTH DAY, June 1.—The House took up the order of the day, which was Mr. Armstrong's bill to regulate names.

Mr. Armstrong said he had perceived a striking defect in the bill, and he would suggest that a new section be added providing that married women should take the surname of their husband. He also thought the bill should be referred to a select committee for revision.

Prince Kamehameha liked the object of the bill, but he thought it somewhat defective in its details and it would be well to refer it for revision to a select committee. It was an ancient custom among the Hawaiians for children to take the name of the father—as "Kama a Keawe," etc., Kama the son of Keawe—and he would like to see the bill amended so as in a measure to restore the old custom, without introducing at once so radical a change as the bill contemplated.

Some discussion ensued between Messrs. Ii, Nahaolelua and Armstrong in regard to the penalty fixed for assuming a false name; the bill fixed the penalty for omitting to assume a christian name, and also omitting to give a child a christian name, at not to exceed $5; and for assuming a false surname, not to exceed $100, in the discretion of the judge.

Mr. Wyllie renewed his objection to making it imperative that bastard children should be called after the name of the mother only. There might be cases in which the real father of such child wished to own it and give it his own name.

Prince Kamehameha thought there might perhaps be a question raised on the constitutionality of the bill. He stated at length his views on the subject of changing names. It was often the case that people in England changed their names in order to inherit property.

Mr. Wyllie, in speaking of the penalties imposed by the bill, took the occasion to remark that he thought the whole penal code ought to be revised. The penalties imposed were all, in his opinion, too severe.

Mr. Hopkins said that no one could change his name in England without permission obtained from Parliament.

The bill was referred to a select committee consisting of Messrs. Gregg, Ii, Prince Kamehameha, Armstrong and Nahaolelua. Adjourned till Monday next at 12 M.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

THIRD DAY, May 25.—The Speaker read a message from the Nobles informing the House that they had organized by electing His Ex. M. Kekuanaoa President, and H. L. Sheldon Secretary.

Petitions, Against the election of the member from N. Kona; against the appointment of District Justices as assessors; against high assessments; against the property tax; against special tax on horses, dogs &c.; to issue peddling licenses; to compel married people to live together; that missionaries be allowed to practice medicine; for and against licensing distillation of spirits; against the proposed property qualification amendment; against all the amendments to the Constitution; that the salaries of foreign Police Justices be not more than $1,000 per annum; that fees be allowed to witnesses in all criminal cases; to reduce the costs of Courts; to take into consideration the pay of School Treasurers and School Trustees; for appropriation for roads in Puna; for do. in Hamakua, and for sundry bridges and harbor of Kaholalele. Referred. On motion of the Chairman of the Committee on Elections, leave was granted to subpoena witnesses in the Waialua election case.

Notice was given of bills, to remove the kapu on shooting Kolea; to amend Sec. 9, Chap. 7, of Penal Code; to allow divorced persons to re-marry immediately; revising the adultery laws.

The Report of the President of the Board of Education was received and ordered to be printed.

Notice was given that the amendments to the Constitution proposed at the last Legislature would be introduced.

FOURTH DAY, May 26.—The Speaker informed the House that he had received a copy of His Majesty's speech, also the Report of the Chief Justice and of the Minister of the Interior. The reference of the reports was postponed until translations and printed copies should be received. Mr. Kamakau was substituted for Mr. Pilipo on the Com. on elections, the latter gentleman's election being contested. Petitions were received, and referred, upon most of the subjects mentioned in our last reports, also that the prisoners on the island of Hawaii be put to work on the road between Kawaihae and Kona, lately destroyed by the lava; that there be a regular system of weights and measures for Hawaiian produce e.g. regulating weight of bundles of poi, charcoal, etc.; to repeal the stallion law; against the amendments to the Constitution; against the monopoly of Pulu and Fungus; against the appointment of two assessors in each district.

The Chairman of the Judiciary Committee, Mr. Chamberlayne, reported against reducing costs of Courts; do. allowing witnesses fees in criminal cases. Report accepted and Petitions laid on the table. Also a majority report against amending the law respecting unlicensed practitioners of medicine. Mr. Naiapaakai of the Committee presented a minority report in favor of allowing missionaries to practice. The reports were referred to Committee of the whole House and ordered for Monday.

Mr. Chamberlayne further reported adversely to a law compelling married people to live together, under penalty of fines or imprisonment—that it was not the province of the law to enforce the duty. Made the order of the day for Monday. Also reported adversely to petition that costs of Courts be reduced. Report accepted.

Mr. Widdeman of the Committee to select a suitable person for translator of the House reports, recommending H. L. Sheldon. The report was accepted. The House proceeded to ballot, when Lorrin Andrews was elected.

Mr. Chamberlayne moved his bill concerning adultery to a first reading; it was in the English language only. It was debated whether a bill could have a first reading unless it was presented in both languages, and was made a rule of practice that a bill may go to its first reading in either language and in substance be orally interpreted at the time, that then the House may determine on motion whether the same shall be translated by the House translator. The above bill ordered translated. Mr. Chamberlayne's bill to permit divorced parties to re-marry at once, was on motion of Mr. Green rejected at its first reading. Mr. Chamberlayne's bill authorizing certain persons to administer oaths ordered to be translated. Adjourned to Monday at 10 A. M.

FIFTH DAY, May 28.—The chair added Mr. Knudsen to the Committee on printing. Petitions were received and referred, to reduce salaries of Ministers to $3,000 per annum.; against distillation; to issue peddling licenses; to allow missionaries to practice medicine; for an appropriation to erect a Post Office in Puna; to make the office of Representative a permanent appointment, (laid on the table;) to reduce horse tax; to appropriate $500 for a road from Manuka to Kona Hema; $1,200 for a bridge in Koolauloa; $300 do. in Wailua; $500 for government offices in Kailua, Hawaii.

The House went into Committee of the whole to discuss the orders of the day, first, the reports of the judiciary Committee on proposed amendments to sec. 279 of Civil Code, which provides that "it shall not be lawful for any foreigner whether naturalized or otherwise, to practice in the Kingdom as a Physician or Surgeon, for compensation or reward, unless he shall" have received license, &c.

It was moved to defer discussion of the subject until bills could be properly prepared. Mr. Chamberlayne wished the subject to be disposed of at once; should his majority report be accepted it would cut off the matter for the session. Mr Green was in favor of the motion to postpone. Mr. McCully supported the motion to postpone. If the majority report should be adopted it might prevent needed amendments to the section, while as it now stood the law was unequal. It imposed restrictions with heavy penalties upon foreigners which did not apply to natives; native quacks might practice without restraint. Again, it might be deemed advisable to adopt a judicious provision, allowing missionaries in remote districts to practice, but he would condemn hasty action in the premises and urge postponement until proper amendments could be submitted. Carried.

The second subject in Committee of the whole, was an act to remedy the evil of married people deserting each other, by imposing fine or imprisonment. Mr. Chamberlayne said it was not within the province or power of laws to compel families to live together affectionately. It was the part of common friends to reconcile domestic differences and reunite husband and wife. It was not for the constable to reclaim and reinstate the truant husband or wife. Messrs. Kipi, Green and Mahoe were in favor of the bill or of some bill of this kind. The want of it filled the Courts with applicants for divorces. The subject was postponed.

Mr. Knudsen introduced a resolution requesting the Chamber of Commerce of the City of Honolulu to furnish the House with their estimates of the probable amount of revenue from duties during the next two years.

Mr. McCully gave the chair to Mr. Webster and said for the resolution, that it was an inquiry for information. The most important business of the session would be the construction of an appropriation bill. The first requisite was to know how much we were to receive before we decided how much we should spend, and in the receipts, that from customs was the most important item. The House had received the estimate of the Minister of Finance, and would consider it with the greatest respect, yet it should not debar them from seeking information elsewhere as well. Various estimates should be taken and compared. The resolution calls for information which lies peculiarly within the cognizance of the Chamber of Commerce. That association includes perhaps every importer in the Kingdom. We ask the importers to look at their memoranda of orders for the coming year or two, and to tell us what amount of duties they will pay into the Custom House according to the rates prescribed by the new tariff. The peculiar circumstances of the country, just about to try a new tariff scheme, so different from the present, and entering upon a term of anticipated commercial depression, perhaps disaster, made returns of former years an unsafe guide for the future. The resolution was brought forward thus early in the session that the House might be prepared to act on full information. Mr. Green supported the resolution. Messrs. Webster and Widdeman opposed it, rather on account of its form than its substance; they thought the estimates should be obtained through a Committee The resolution was by consent amended in its form and discussed till an hour beyond the usual time of adjournment, when it was laid on the table for future consideration.

SIXTH DAY, May 28.—The Speaker read a communication from the House of Nobles, informing this House of the decease of their associate, the Hon. J. W. E. Maikai, with copy of the Resolutions adopted thereupon.

Mr. Widdeman offered the following:

Resolved, That this House has learned with unfeigned sorrow, of the decease of the Hon. J. W. E. Maikai, a member of the House of Nobles, whereby the Nobles and the nation at large, have sustained a severe loss.

Resolved, That this House respectfully tenders its condolence to His Majesty, and the Nobles, upon this afflictive dispensation of Divine Providence.

Resolved, That as a mark of respect, the House do now adjourn to 10 o'clock to-morrow morning. The Resolutions were adopted.

SEVENTH DAY, May 30.—(We condense to-day's report.) After petitions on the usual subjects, &c., Mr. Kamakau had leave to read a second time, his bill amending the tax law, with the translation, and moved to refer the same to the Committee of Finance. Mr. Kalama thought the reference should be to the Committee of the whole, and was understood to make a new motion to that effect. The Speaker ruled that when a motion was before the House, it was a rule to dispose of it before hearing any other motion than an amendment or a privileged question—whereupon occurred a long
