AID FOR THE CRETANS.
TO OUR BENEVOLENT FELLOW CITIZENS.
At a meeting of citizens of New York held on Friday evening, January 8, 1869, after a most intelligent authentic and earnest exposition of the history of the revolt now in the island of Crete, and an eloquent appeal in behalf of the heroic defenders of liberty and country now struggling there with a barbarous foe, the undersigned were appointed a committee to obtain subscriptions to furnish these despoiled and starving Christians with food, clothing and other necessaries of life. Their sons are ravished, their homes desolate, their warriors destitute of ammunition, their wives and children in exile. These terrible privations have been endured for the preservation of the holiest and most essential of human rights. Aid and sympathy received at this crisis will enable them to triumph, and we owe it as Christian citizens of a prosperous republic to our brave, faithful and unfortunate brethren. W. C. BRYANT, President.
