In France the action of the republican members [illegible] to the Legislature, with respect to taking the [illegible]th of office, had created much discussion.

Generals Wilson and Havelock had been raised to [illegible] dignity of baronets, the former as Sir Archdale [illegible]son, of Delhi, and the latter as Sir Harry Have[illegible]ck, of Lucknow.

The Leviathan steamship has moved still fur[illegible] down the launching ways, but the ship had still [illegible] feet to move before she would be afloat. Her [illegible]gress was tedious, but the engineers had per[illegible]ll in her, and hopes were entertained for a [illegible]ccessful result in a short time. A scaffolding from [illegible]hich to view the launch broke down and a number [illegible] persons were more or less injured. On Monday, [illegible] vessel had nearly five feet of water under her.

Financial affairs in London, Dec. 2—Money continued in active demand. The stock market was firm, caused by the arrival of the West India mail steamer with £300,000 in silver.

The crisis was still more severe at Hamburg, where the failures were too numerous to particular[illegible]

An order had been promulgated at Berlin enacting suspension of the usury laws.

The Queen of Spain has conferred upon Capt. José Bosch, of the Spanish brig Jacinto, the first class cross of the "Order of Beneficencia," for his humanity in picking up at sea, and restoring to their ship, the three whale boats containing the captain and most of the crew of the American bark Alto, of New Bedford, on the 22d and 23d of July last.

RUSSIA.—The Russian screw frigate Askold, of 360 horse power, carrying 16 guns and a crew of 470 men, has arrived at Kiel. Her destination is Japan. Commander, Captain Udanowski, commanded on [illegible] for five years. He will be at the orders [illegible] Russian political agent in the Japanese waters.

China.

[illegible] of Liverpool and New York, we have dates [illegible] Hongkong to the 10th October.

[illegible] Hongkong correspondent of the London News [illegible]

[illegible] arrangements of Lord Elgin are pretty well [illegible] The delay caused by his lordship's trip to [illegible] turned out somewhat fortunate, inasmuch [illegible] the Russian envoy to open any com[illegible] with the Emperor of Pekin has saved our [illegible] the chagrin of a similar, perhaps, worse [illegible] The Emperor has declared that he [illegible] no representative of any barbarian power. [illegible] of negotiation having been cut off, Lord [illegible] concerted measures with his Excellency [illegible] commander-in-chief for the assault and [illegible] of the city of Canton; this important post in [illegible], the Emperor may be induced to change [illegible] As far as I am able to learn, it would [illegible] that the Admiral has arranged with the whole [illegible] force to move up to Canton on the 31st of [illegible] month, and it is said that the French [illegible] will co-operate; indeed, it is thought that the [illegible] Admiral, Rigault de Genouilly, will also offer his aid, to [illegible] the court at Pekin that the "barbarians" [illegible] not only in earnest, but acting in unison. Lord [illegible] is living on board the Ava, which vessel will [illegible] accompany the fleet up to Canton; the naval and diplomatic powers being close at hand.

[illegible] late dispatches from China in the Paris journals say the English and French envoys, and the naval and military authorities have had several consulta[illegible] previous to commencing war-like operations. The Celestials are making defences, and following out the orders from Pekin, which are decidedly such as to produce hostilities. A Russian envoy has also arrived in the Chinese waters, and is reported to be on good terms with the agents of England and France.

A St. Petersburg letter informs us that the official journal confirms the account already given that the relations of Russia and China have become unfriendly in consequence of the government of Pekin having refused to receive the Russian ambassador. It declares that not only has China violated existing treaties, but she has carried her insolence so far as to place herself in opposition to the whole of Europe. The article states that serious events may be expected to take place in China, and its tenor indicates that Russia will not remain a passive spectator of what is going on.

India.

The mutineers were defeated at Agra, with a loss of 43 guns and a great amount of treasure. One thousand were killed.

Gen. Havelock was still safe at Lucknow.

There will be 7000 troops there by the end of October.

Arrears in the revenue were coming in rapidly.

A convoy of provisions had arrived safely at Lucknow, shortly after its relief, and reinforcements of 2000 men, it was supposed, would reach there from Cawnpore about 24th Oct. A column of 3000 men under General Greathead was also on its way to Lucknow, and was expected to arrive about the 30th Oct., when the British forces there would number 7000 men.

Greathead's column defeated a large body of Delhi fugitives with heavy loss to the latter, at Bolunshur, on the 4th of October. On the same day they also stormed and destroyed the fort of Maloghier, which the enemy had seized, and on the 5th inst. they had another successful engagement with the fugitives at Allyghur, in which 700 of the enemy were cut up.

The column then proceeded to Agra, and reached that place on the 14th of October, when it was suddenly attacked by a large body of mutineers, who were repulsed with immense slaughter. They lost all their guns, 43 in number, five lacs of treasure, and a large amount of spoils. The number of mutineers killed is stated to be 1000, while the British loss was small.

Col. Wilson had attacked and defeated the rebels at Bithoor, driving them out of a strong position.

The King of Delhi was to be tried by a military commission. Two more of his sons had been taken and shot.

Reports were rife of threatening disturbance at Hyderabad. Nana Sahib was said to be near Bithoor again.

Maun Singlo, heretofore a friend of the British, had turned against them, since the storming of Delhi was announced.

The fall of Delhi had a marked effect in Meerut and contiguous districts. Arrears of revenue were being brought in rapidly, and loyalty was the order of the day in the northwestern provinces.

Part of a Bombay regiment had mutinied at Deesa.

The Madras Presidency, Scinde, and the Nizam's dominions remained tranquil.

The Europeans at Saugor, above 1000 in number, were still in the fort, and calling urgently for relief. Fears were entertained for their safety.

Part of the 32d Bengal Infantry had mutinied at Deoghur, and two regiments of the Kotah Contingent had also mutinied, and murdered the political agent.

The overland mail had arrived at Trieste, with dates from Calcutta to Oct. 23 and Bombay Nov. 3.

Fifteen troop-ships from England had arrived at various Indian ports, with about 6000 troops on board.

Lucknow was safe. The divisions under Generals Outram and Havelock were both in the Presidency.

The enemy were said to be in great force in the vicinity, and very strong in artillery.

Eighteen men of the Bombay grenadiers were executed at Ahmedabad for plotting an insurrection.

At Calcutta sterling exchange was at 2d. and 2½d. for documents. There was no improvement in the import market. Operations in produce were moderate.

At Bombay the import market was expected to improve, and higher rates of interest were anticipated. Government securities continued depressed.

The India mails were expected in London on the evening of the day the Europa sailed.
