THE NORTHERN RAIDS—THE LAW AND OUR DUTY IN RELATION TO THEM.

From the Herald.

The continuation of hostile raids from Canada into the United States is becoming a subject of grave importance. No sooner is the St. Albans difficulty in a train of judicial inquiry than we are informed by the Canadian authorities that an attack on the city of Buffalo is in contemplation by parties from the Rebel States who have been given an asylum within the provinces, while from Sandusky, Ohio, we have information of a projected raid on that city. In fact, not a foot of our northern boundary is now safe from these piratical incursions. It would seem as if the Canadian Government was totally unable to repress them either by their civil authorities or military forces.

This state of things puts us to the unpleasant task of considering what it will shortly become our duty to do in self-defence. If it shall be necessary to station not only a military force along our northern boundaries, but even to cross them to punish the violators of our soil and the destroyers of the lives and property of our citizens, the British Government and the Canadian Government must not complain. The authorities for our procedure for such a step are ample, and are found in the practice and declarations of the British Government itself.

Lord Castlereagh, in his circular to the allied Powers, January 19, 1821, declared that no government was more prepared than his own "to uphold the right of any State or States to interfere where their own security or essential interests were seriously endangered by the internal transactions of another State." It was also judicially laid down in England in the case of the Twee Gebroeders that no proximate acts of war were in any manner to be allowed to originate on neutral ground. A vessel within a neutral line cannot send out her boats on hostile enterprises, and no act of hostility is to be commenced on neutral ground. But, whatever were the old rules of international law, the British Government has set an example, already referred to by us on previous occasions, which we can justifiably follow—that of the Chesapeake.

Neither during the administration of Mr. Van Buren, of General Harrison, or his successor, John Tyler, did it abandon the principle as laid down by Mr. Fox, in his letter to Mr. Forsyth, that the destruction of that steamer within our territory was "one in the strictest sense of self-defense rendered absolutely necessary by the circumstances of the occasion for the safety and protection of her Majesty's subjects," and where "the friendly Power had been deprived through overbearing piratical violence of its proper authority over that portion of its territory."

These assertions were further backed up by the distinct avowal of Lord Palmerston to our minister in London, when he declared that the act complained of was with the sanction of the British Government. These were acquiesced in as legal by Mr. Tyler, and indirectly defended both by Mr. Webster and Mr. Cushing, who were then the great supports of his Administration. We are therefore left in no doubt that the rights assumed and maintained in the case of the Caroline have equal force and substantiality for us.

The Canadian Government is then necessarily in this predicament. If it does not do us justice against those robbers now in custody in Montreal, we shall be fully warranted in following them with an armed force and taking possession of them ourselves. And in case any attack, originating in the Canadas, is made on Detroit or Buffalo, it will be our right, as our duty, to follow the raiders into Canadian territory and "shoot them down."

If the Rebel leaders can transfer the war from their own territory to our Northern frontier, making the Canadas their base of operations, not only will the neutrality of our Northern neighbors be abandoned, but they will become a dangerous enemy, and must be treated as such.

THE GERMAN VOTE FOR THE UNION.

From the Times.

The Staats Zeitung, in a labored editorial replying to our recent call upon the Germans for greater activity in this election, admits the truth of our assertion that the intelligent Germans are on the side of the Union party. It seeks to explain this interesting fact by the charge of "self-conceit" against this class, and by the allegation that they are beguiled through the humanitarian cry of "Anti-slavery." As they are often gentlemen of much culture, who know from long reading the fearful effects of the system of human slavery in all lands where it has been tried, and as personally they have sacrificed fortune and country for liberty, we think the last point of the accusation is probably true.

They undoubtedly can appreciate what liberty means better than many of our native Americans, and they do unquestionably hate slavery, as men should who have suffered under oppression all their lives. They were too intelligent to be deceived by the word "Democrat," as some of their ignorant countrymen, and they naturally joined the progressive and truly Republican party of this country. Their support of the Union party is all the more acceptable, because, as the Zeitung truly observes, many of them personally preferred General Fremont for President; but, uninfluenced by their personal prejudices, they feel now that their first duty to their country is to defeat McClellan and the Peace faction. They are acting a truly patriotic part.

We are convinced also that large numbers of their less educated countrymen, intelligent German mechanics and shopkeepers, are now seeing the true nature of this outrage, and will vote for the Union party. They understand now that it is precisely the same struggle which they left behind in Europe—the contest between the privileged few and the masses.

The Southern slaveholders are fighting the battles of the aristocracy the world over. They have over and over again expressed their supreme contempt for the white laboring class; they have declared that poor whites ought to be slaves; they have limited votes by property in many States, and have always opposed common schools for the people; they have protected the large land and slaveholders by legislation, and have lorded it over the mechanic and laboring classes. Their influence has been to have the poor whites in a state of ignorance and degradation, hardly above that of the slaves; and now with these ignorant and degraded dependants they have fought the battle for slavery, their followers not knowing that they were bleeding and dying for their own enslavement. This war is the world-battle between Aristocracy and Democracy.

The ignorant Copperheads of the North and the poor whites of the South are fighting with those who would most enslave them. This, the intelligent German citizens of the East already see, as their compatriots of the West have long understood. The Staats Zeitung represents an ignorant constituency, for even these misguided persons begin to appreciate its sophistries and to see the falseness of much of its cry of "Democracy."

The great German vote of the country has always been on the side of liberty and Union. It will continue to be so. And as the Germans have nobly represented themselves in the ranks of our armies, so will they now in the peaceful battle at the polls.

THE HOUR OF DEATH.—At the recent meeting of the British Association, a paper on this subject was read by Mr. Haviland, of the Bridgewater Infirmary. It stated that the author had collected over 5000 cases of death, with the hour of death and other circumstances recorded, which he had tabulated and exhibited on a large chart. By this chart he showed that, in 1000 cases of death in children under five years of age, the periods of the greatest mortality took place during the hours of 1 and 3 in the morning, at an extraordinary depression took place in the succeeding hours, and that, between 9 and 12 P. M., the rate of mortality was at its minimum. He then compared these statistics with 2000 deaths from all causes, and the chart shows how remarkably the wave lines of death compared with those above. In the cases of death from consumption, although they showed a general resemblance in the wave line, yet, between the hours of 4 to 8 A. M., when there was a depression, when compared with the first four hours' period, the mortality was the greatest. The extraordinary mortality was in the early hours of the morning, when the powers of life were at their lowest ebb; and, strange to say, when the patient was most cared for. He urged the necessity of feeding and stimulating the patients at their weakest hour, so as to tide them over a critical period, and, even if death be inevitable, to support the patient, so that he might at least have a few hours more of life snatched from eternity to admit of his being able to carry out some neglected duty, pardon some enemy, or see some beloved friend.

EXTRACTS FROM REBEL PAPERS.

VALUE OF GOLD.—The following advertisement shows the value of gold in Dixie:—

"$50 REWARD.—Gold Chain Bracelet.—Lost, yesterday, Thursday, on Main street, between Rees' Daguerrean saloon and Bidgood's bookstore, a gold chain bracelet.

"The finder will receive the above reward by leaving the same at the box office of the new Richmond theatre.

"N. B.—All persons are warned against trading for or purchasing the same."

A CHANCE FOR NORTHERN COPPERHEADS.—By the following official order, published in one of the Richmond papers, it will be seen that the Rebel General Cooper offers "protection to all such rebels as are now held to service against their will" in the United States, and who come within the Confederate lines. Here is an opportunity which should at once be embraced by Northern Copperheads. The order reads as follows:—

ADJUTANT AND INSPECTOR GENERAL'S OFFICE, Richmond, Va., August 15, 1864.—General Orders No. 65:—1. It having been represented to the War Department that there are numbers of foreigners, entrapped by artifice and fraud into the military and naval service of the United States, who would gladly withdraw from further participation in the inhuman warfare waged against a people who have never given them a pretext for hostility, and that there are many inhabitants of the United States, now retained in that service against their will, who are averse to aiding in the unjust war now being prosecuted against the Confederate States: And it being also known that these men are prevented from abandoning such compulsory service, by the difficulty they experience in escaping therefrom: It is ordered that all such persons, coming within the lines of the Confederate armies, shall be received, protected, and supplied with means of subsistence, until such of them as desire it can be forwarded to the most convenient points on the border, when all facilities will be afforded them to return to their homes.

By order, S. COOPER, A. and I. General.
