WALL STREET,
FRIDAY, June 23—6 P. M.

The market came to a full stop at noon to-day, like an engine on its centre or the end of a paragraph. For the two hours previous there had hardly been steam enough to keep the machine going—nothing wonderful, in view of the fact that the great speculating engine drivers and stokers were away holidaying for the summer. Although at the commencement there was the faintest suspicion of a better feeling (suggested perhaps by the recovery of New Jersey Central to 75½), the state of affairs, like the pre-Adamite world, was entirely "without form, and void" of any notable characteristics. There were the usual "Judge and Jury" on Lake Shore, but the former had no opinions to give that were worth an eighth and the latter no money to back them up with had they believed in them.

There were half per cent fluctuations in Western Union, Lake Shore and the Western stocks, while Pacific Mail was simply an embodied yawn, with no transactions to speak of. Towards one o'clock there arose an inclination to stiffen up prices, and they improved a fraction, particularly Lake Shore, which sold up to 55; and Western Union, which touched 67¾. A sale of 1,500 shares of Lake Shore at 55, however, proved too much for the equanimity of the market, and the whole rise was lost in the next ten minutes. Later on the Broad street party put in an appearance in the Northwestern shares and bid the common up to 43¼ and the preferred to 66¾, which had the effect of bettering the tone of the whole market, as well as of adding to the list of transactions, which at one time threatened a beggarly exhibit of sales.

The feeling in the Western shares has been strongly to the bull side, and apparently with some reason, though the free distribution of "points" is not always the most reliable mode of conveying information.

New Jersey Central also put on a more cheerful look, Mark Tapley like, under its difficulties, and closed at 75¾, having touched 75¼, though disbelievers in the concern, who are at the same time believers in Mr. Barrett, the accountant's, circular, were willing to put out options at sixty days' time at 2 per cent under the cash price.

To sum up, closing prices were a little stiffer and dealings a little larger, but the whole matter is confined to the small fry of the Board, while the big fish are swimming in more pleasant waters.

THE SALES TO-DAY.

Transactions in stocks were smaller than usual, aggregating only 70,200 shares. The principal dealings were in Lake Shore, Western Union and Northwestern.

MINING INTELLIGENCE.

The upward turn in the Bonanza shares seems to confirm the information repeatedly given in this column within a few days that the late depression in prices was due to extraneous causes rather than to any change in the actual condition or prospects of either the Consolidated Virginia or the California Company. The lesser stocks have moved somewhat in sympathy with these and have been affected by similar causes. The following are the closing prices in San Francisco to-day:—

ERIE IN LONDON.

Telegrams from London state that there was a largely attended meeting of Erie bond and stock holders there to-day. Mr. Watkin said the line was suffering from increased expenses and diminution of traffic. The receiver had got rid of many bad bargains, and the result was a substantial increase in net receipts. He believed Mr. Jewett was desirous of making the best of the line, and if shareholders and bondholders united a good property could be made of the company. He advised concessions. There were delays in law, but the committee was determined to pursue delinquents as New York courts ordered.

The meeting agreed to a resolution that the amended scheme be approved, and a committee empowered to take steps for carrying the same into effect. A vote of confidence in Mr. Jewett was adopted unanimously.

MEMORANDUM.

Mr. James Stuart having resigned the Presidency of the Hanover National Bank, of this city, Mr. James T. Woodward was, at a meeting of the Board of Directors held yesterday, the 22d, elected to fill this office.

Mr. Woodward was a member of the late firm of Ross, Campbell & Co., and is well known in business circles in this city.

COMMERCIAL REPORT.

COTTON, SPOT QUIET AND UNCHANGED, FUTURES LOWER—FLOUR DULL—WHEAT QUIET BUT FIRMER—CORN STRONGER—OATS DULL—PORK DULL AND NOMINAL—LARD FIRMER—WHISKEY DULL BUT FIRMER—PETROLEUM FIRM—NAVAL STORES QUIET—GROCERIES FIRM—FREIGHTS FIRM.

FRIDAY, June 23—6 P. M.

Trade matters, while constantly varying from day to day during the past week, are not radically different at the present writing from what they were a week ago. The markets have been irregular and prices have fluctuated continually all through the week, generally showing a shrinkage, although occasionally an advance has been established. The tendency has been unmistakably toward a lower basis, however, so that the conclusion is irresistible that henceforth the business of the country will gravitate toward a specie basis, which needs only a little encouragement on the part of Congress in the way of a wise enactment in order to result practically in that much desired consummation. The substitution of silver for paper money, though decried as of no importance, has nevertheless worked a powerful influence on the financial and commercial interests of the country and has greatly encouraged the hope that the return to a sound system of finance is not so remote as has appeared along back. The people are fully prepared for resumption and if only the politicians can be brought to a realizing sense of their duty in the premises business may ere long be transacted on a more substantial basis than it has been since the country was first flooded with irredeemable paper money. Meantime business continues dull and there is little beyond the general decline in commercial values on which to base a hope of more prosperous times in the future. Yet there is an unmistakable belief in the minds of the mercantile community that the coming fall season will witness a substantial revival of business, despite the drawback of a Presidential election and the inevitable strife thereby engendered, in which all classes become more or less involved, to the neglect of almost everything else. During the past week there has been no special activity anywhere. In some few commodities a fair business has been done which in these dull times assumes nominal importance, but which, when compared with more prosperous seasons, becomes absolutely insignificant. Dry goods have ruled dull, the low prices realized by public and private sale exerting no influence whatever in inducing purchases. Breadstuffs have been neglected, and prices have declined materially without inducing any increased outflow. Shippers' limits have been reduced from day to day or orders countermanded, so that the decline in prices has been inevitable. These remarks apply especially to wheat, although flour has likewise ruled dull and in buyers' favor all through the week. Corn has been in moderate request, and prices have declined somewhat, although strictly prime samples have been scarce and better sustained than other kinds. Oats have been dull and heavy. Whiskey has ruled exceedingly quiet, but firmer, and the lighter the demand the firmer the market. Provisions have fluctuated materially, the "ups" and "downs" being about equivalent. On' Change to-day (Friday) business was moderate. Flour was dull, lower and irregular. Wheat was quiet, but firmer. Corn was stronger. Oats dull. Whiskey dull, but firmer. Pork dull and nominal. Lard was firmer. Freights were firm. Cotton on the spot was quiet and unchanged; futures were easier. Naval stores were quiet. Oils were also quiet. Petroleum was firm. Groceries were firm.

ASHES were quiet and steady at 5½c. a 5½c. for pots. Pearls were quoted nominally at 7c. Antimony was scarce and firmer; quoted at 15¾c., gold, for foreign.

BREWSTAR was quiet and unchanged; quoted at 34c. a 35c. for Western and Southern.

BROOM CORN was quiet and wholly nominal. We quote:—Red, 4½c. a 6c.; red tipped, 5c. a 6c.; medium green, 7½c. a 8c.

CANDLES were steady and fairly active. We quote:—Sperm, 28c.; sperm, patent, 38c.; stearic, acid (16 oz.), 21c. a 23c.; adamantine (12, 14, 16 oz.), 12c. a 16c; paraffine (4's, 6's and 12's), 19c. a 22c.

COFFEE.—The market for Brazils was firm. Sales were 633 bags Rio, ex Nellie Martin, at 17½c. for good. Mild coffee was quiet.
