And whenever a vacancy occurs in the Board of Supervisors, for any cause, the same shall be filled for the unexpired term in the same manner.

SEC. 11. Be it further enacted, etc., That the Board of Supervisors shall have power to engage a president and other professors, and all other officers necessary for conducting the literary, scientific, military and technical departments and all the financial and civil concerns and interest of the University, and to remove and displace the same at pleasure; to fix and regulate the salaries of the professors and all other officers, and to determine all other changes, excepting that there shall be no fee for tuition or for the use of the library, apparatus, laboratory, cabinets, museum, workshop, experimental farm, or other educational appliances charged to any student or cadet; to establish rules for the good government and discipline of the students or cadets; to prescribe the duties of all officers, employes, servants and others; to confer diplomas upon the recommendation of the president and faculty, on students for proficiency in any branch of literature or science, or department of learning, and in general to make all rules and regulations which may be deemed necessary for the proper government of the University and for promoting the objects for which it has been founded. But nothing in this act shall be construed as obligating the State to pay any debts contracted by the Board of Supervisors in case it should, at any time, exceed the appropriation made for the institution; nor shall any of the property of the University ever be seized and sold to pay any debt of the institution, by virtue of any decree of court. The title to all property owned and held by the Louisiana State University and Agricultural and Mechanical College is hereby declared to vest in the State of Louisiana.

4. Schools of medicine and law.

5. Such other schools as the Board of Supervisors may establish.

SEC. 13. Be it further enacted, etc., That the Board of Supervisors may affiliate with the Louisiana State University and Agricultural and Mechanical College, any incorporated university or college, or school of medicine, law or other special course of instruction, upon such terms as may be deemed expedient; and such university, college or school may retain the control of its own property, have its own board of trustees, faculties and president respectively; and the students of such universities, colleges or schools recommended by the respective faculties thereof, may receive from the Louisiana State University and Agricultural and Mechanical College, the degrees of those universities, colleges or schools, and the said students of said institutions of learning or special schools, thus graduated, shall rank as graduates of the Louisiana State University and Agricultural and Mechanical College.

SEC. 14. Be it further enacted, etc., That it shall be the duty of the Board of Supervisors, immediately after its organization, to prescribe, in detail, the course of studies, both theoretical and practical, to be pursued at the University and Agricultural and Mechanical College and to draw up a project of the system of instruction, so adopted.

SEC. 15. Be it further enacted, etc., That the Board of Supervisors shall be charged with the purchase of all necessary grounds and land for the purpose of the University and Agricultural and Mechanical College, and with the purchase or erection, or both, as may be necessary, of all requisite buildings, workshops, laboratories and other fixtures and contrivances, needed for the academic, military, industrial or other departments of the University and Agricultural and Mechanical College, and with the purchase of all necessary supplies or articles for the use of the University and Agricultural and Mechanical College; provided, that no member of the Board of Supervisors shall have any personal interest in any contract, or purchase or sales, or in any business transaction of any kind whatever, for or on account of said University and Agricultural and Mechanical College, and said Board of Supervisors shall be charged with the care and preservation of all the buildings, grounds and appurtenances of the University, after they shall have been provided.

SEC. 16. Be it further enacted, etc., That the Board of Supervisors be, and they are hereby, empowered to lease, as early as may be practicable, and invest the proceeds thereof in the stocks of the State of Louisiana, or in the stocks of the United States, all the buildings and grounds and lands belonging to and held by the Louisiana State University, as it was established and located in the parish of Rapides prior to the passage of this act; and to sell or lease all the buildings and grounds and land belonging to and held by the Louisiana Agricultural and Mechanical College, as it was established and located in the parish of St. Bernard, prior to the passage of this act, and said stocks, or bonds, shall be deposited for safe keeping with the Treasurer of the State.

SEC. 17. Be it further enacted, etc., That for the endowment, support and maintenance of the Louisiana State University, as heretofore created, constituted and established, there shall be and is hereby inviolably appropriated and placed at the disposal of the Board of supervisors thereof, to be drawn from the State Treasurer, upon the order of the president of the board, made upon the Auditor of the State, countersigned by the secretary of the board and payable to the order of the treasurer of the Board of Supervisors, all the interest and income derived and to be derived from the sales of lands granted, or that may hereafter be granted, to the State of Louisiana by the United States for the use of a seminary of learning, and all the interest and income of the fund derived, and to be derived from the sales of all lands and land scrip granted, or that may hereafter be granted, to the State of Louisiana, by virtue of an act of Congress, entitled "An act donating lands to the several States and Territories, which may provide colleges for the benefit of agriculture and the mechanic arts," approved July 2, 1862; and all the interest and income of the funds to be derived from the lease of the buildings, grounds and lands in the parish of Rapides and owned by or held for the use of the Louisiana State University, as it existed prior to the passage of this act; and from the sale or lease of the buildings, grounds and lands in the parish of St. Bernard, owned by and held for the use of the Louisianana Agricultural and Mechanical College, as it existed prior to the passage of this act, and all such gifts, grants, contributions and other donations to the endowment thereof, as may be derived from any and all sources.

SEC. 18. Be it further enacted, etc., That it is particularly enjoined upon the Board of Supervisors of this University and Agricultural and Mechanical College to make the training in those branches of study, relating to agriculture and the mechanic arts as practical as possible, and to that end to provide the necessary workshops and laboratories, and to secure suitable land in the vicinity of the University and Agricultural and Mechanical College, for an experimental farm. For the purchase of an experimental farm, the Board of Supervisors is hereby authorized to expend a sum not exceeding the amount specified in the act of Congress, hereinbefore mentioned, viz: ten per cent upon the amount received by the State, as the proceeds of the sale of the lands and the land scrip donated by the General Government of the United States.

SEC. 19. Be it further enacted, etc., That, immediately after the passage of this act, it shall be the duty of the Governor of the State to appoint the members of the Board of Supervisors, who shall convene, within ten days after the passage of this act, at Baton Rouge, in the parish of East Baton Rouge, for the purpose of electing the officers of the board and of organizing the University and Agricultural and Mechanical College, to the end, that it may be in full and successful operation as early as practicable.

SEC. 20. Be it further enacted, etc., That, at the regular stated meeting in December of each and every year, the Board of Supervisors shall, through the Governor of the State, make a report, in detail, to the Legislature, showing the true condition and wants of the University and Agricultural and Mechanical College, and recording any improvements and experiments made in agriculture and the mechanic arts, with their costs and results; the names of the professors and students; the amount of receipts and disbursements, together with the nature, cost and results of all important scientific investigations and experiments in the useful arts and such other matters, including State, industrial and commercial statistics and literary, historical, philological and philosophical discussions or essays as may be deemed important or useful; one copy of which shall be transmitted to all the other colleges, which shall be endowed under the provisions of the act of Congress of July second, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-two, as hereinbefore mentioned.

SEC. 21. Be it further enacted, etc., That the president of the Louisiana State University and Agricultural and Mechanical College shall be the president of the faculty of professors thereof, and executive head of the institution in all its departments. As such officer, he shall have authority, subject to the Board of Supervisors, to give general direction to the practical affairs and scientific investigations of the University and Agricultural and Mechanical College, and in the recess of the Board of Supervisors, to remove any employe or subordinate officer not a member of the faculty, and supply for the time any vacancies thus created; and so long as the interests of the institution require it, he shall be charged with the duties of one of the professorships; and it shall be the duty of the president of the University and Agricultural and Mechanical College to make to the State Superintendent of Public Education, on, or before, the first Monday in December in each year, and every year, a report, in detail, showing the progress and condition of the University, the names of the professors and students, the nature, costs and results of all important investigations and experiments, and such other matters, including industrial, economical, philosophical and educational statistics as he shall deem useful.

SEC. 22. Be it further enacted, etc., That the president of the University and Agricultural and Mechanical College shall be specifically charged with the discipline of the University and Agricultural and Mechanical College, and be held directly responsible for the good order of the establishment, and especially for the conduct and behavior of the students or cadets. And it is hereby declared not to be the intent of this act to devolve in any way upon the professors, as such, or upon the faculty of professors, the maintenance of good order and discipline among the students, or cadets, or to hold them responsible for the conduct or behavior of the cadets or students outside of their class or lecture rooms and during the time of recitation, or study, or lecture; and it is particularly enjoined upon the Board of Supervisors to delegate to the President of the University and Agricultural and Mechanical College, and through him, to such assistants disciplinarian as may be assigned him from among the professors and assistant professors, sufficient authority to enable him to maintain proper discipline and good order, and to meet promptly and efficiently the great responsibility hereby imposed on him. No student or cadet shall ever be tried by the faculty of professors, or by any committee of professors for any breach of discipline or other misconduct. But no provision of this section, or this act, shall be construed as militating against a proper subordination of professors or other officers to the president of the University and Agricultural and Mechanical College, and the necessity of obeying all the rules and orders which he may impose on them in virtue of the provisions of this act, and of the rightful authority delegated to him by the Board of Supervisors, as hereby enjoined upon the board; and the president of the University and Agricultural and Mechanical College shall have the power to assemble the faculty or any committee or number of the professors at any time he may see fit, for consultation or advice or other action, on any subject matter he may choose to lay before them; provided, only that in all matters of discipline and relating to the conduct and behavior of students or cadets, the president alone and not the faculty or any professor shall decide and act.

SEC. 23. Be it further enacted, etc., That the State of Louisiana, in its corporate capacity, may take by grant, gift, devise or bequest any property for the use of the Louisiana State University and Agricultural and Mechanical College, and hold the same and apply the funds arising therefrom, through the Board of Supervisors, for the support of the said institution of learning.

SEC. 24. Be it further enacted, etc., That the Board of Supervisors, in its corporate capacity, may take by grant, gift, devise or bequest, any property for the use of the Louisiana State University and Agricultural and Mechanical College, or of any school thereof, or of any professorship's chair, or scholarship therein, or for the library, museum, observatory, workshops, experimental farm, apparatus, cabinet, or for any purpose appropriate to the University and Agricultural and Mechanical College; and such property shall be taken, received, held, managed and invested, and the proceeds thereof used, bestowed and applied by the said Board of Supervisors for the purposes, provisions and conditions prescribed by the respective grant, gift, devise or bequest, and in accordance with the provisions of sections 5, 11 and 17 of this act.

SEC. 25. Be it further enacted, etc., That the Board of Supervisors may invest any of the permanent funds of the Louisiana State University and Agricultural and Mechanical College which are now, or may hereafter be in its custody unproductive, unincumbered real estate in this State, subject to the power of the Legislature to control or change such investments, excepting such as by the provisions of previous sections of this act, or by the terms of their acquisition, must be otherwise invested.

SEC. 26. Be it further enacted, etc., That if by the terms of any grant, gift, devise or bequest, such as are hereinbefore described in articles twenty-three and twenty-four of this act, conditions are imposed which are impracticable under the provisions of the Revised Statutes of this State, such grants, gifts, devise or bequests shall not thereby fail, but such conditions shall be rejected and the intent of the donor carried out as near as may be.

SEC. 27. Be it further enacted, etc., That all acts, or parts of acts, in any way in contravention of this act be and the same are hereby repealed, and this act shall take effect from and after its passage.

CITY COUNCIL—OFFICIAL PROCEEDINGS.

ADJOURNED MEETING.

CITY HALL, NEW ORLEANS,
Thursday, May 31, 1877.

The Council met this day at 12 o'clock m., pursuant to adjournment.

Present: Hon. Ed. Pilsbury, Mayor, presiding, and Administrators Brown, Cavanac, Denis, Diamond, Edwards, McCaffrey and Rengstorff.

Reports of Committees.

The following report was read and received, and ordered spread on the minutes:

OFFICE CITY ATTORNEY,
Rooms No. 21 and 22 City Hall,
New Orleans, May 30, 1877.

To the Mayor and Administrators:

Gentlemen—I have your communication referring to me the resolution offered by Mr. Brown for the abolition of the Workhouse and Souphouse; also the report of the special committee to investigate the Workhouse.

I think it is a matter of discretion with the City Council as to whether they will abolish or maintain these institutions. I find no statute which controls this discretion.

The Workhouse is a jail or house of correction, and the seventeenth paragraph of section 12 of the City Charter gives the Council power to establish jails and houses of correction, and to make such regulations for their government as they may deem necessary.

I think they can do away with such jails and workhouses when they think them no longer necessary.

I am of opinion, however, that so long as the city chooses to maintain a workhouse, that under the provisions of act No. 99 of 1871, and various city ordinances, it is the duty of the recorders to send the class of prisoners mentioned therein to the Workhouse for detention or punishment.

Very respectfully,
B. F. JONAS, City Attorney.

Mr. Diamond reported favorably on the petition of "Citizens in the rear of the Second and Third Districts, asking that the alarm bell in the belfry of No. 3's house on Bayou Road street be rung by hand," provided that it be done without any expense to the city.

Adopted.

Ordinances and Resolutions Offered.

By Mr. Brown:

Be it ordained, That the institutions known as the "Workhouse" and the "Souphouse" be and are hereby abolished; and that all ordinances relative to the establishment of the same be and are hereby repealed, and that the Administrator of Waterworks and Public Buildings take possession of the buildings used for said institutions; provided, that this ordinance shall not take effect until the 31st of May, 1877.

Mr. Cavanac moved to strike out that portion turning over the buildings to the Administrator of Waterworks and Public Buildings, as they were needed by the Police Department for the keeping of charity wagons, etc. Mr. Brown stated that only a small portion of the buildings was used for that purpose, and that the transfer would not interfere with the arrangements of the Police Department. Mr. Cavanac called for the yeas and nays on his motion, which, having been ordered, resulted as follows:

Yeas—Cavanac, Diamond and Edwards—3.

Nays—Brown, Denis, McCaffrey and Rengstorff—4.

The motion was lost.

Mr. Brown called for the yeas and nays on the adoption of the ordinance as read, which was ordered with the following result:

Yeas—Messrs. Brown, Denis, McCaffrey, Rengstorff—4.

Nays—Messrs. Cavanac, Diamond, Edwards—3.

The ordinance was adopted.

Upon voting in the negative Mr. Cavanac said:

I wish that the following, my reasons for voting against the abolishment of the Workhouse, be spread upon the minutes of the Council:

1. According to law the Workhouse is a prison for the commitment and confinement of prisoners in certain cases, and the Recorders or Police Judges of the city are bound by that law to commit to that institution for certain offenses.

2. By good management with faithful officers, it can be made a self-sustaining institution, and instead of the city paying 40 or 50 cents per day for the maintenance of prisoners in the Parish Prison, they can be kept at a much lower rate, thereby saving a large amount of money to the city.

3. When committed to the Parish Prison the prisoners render no service to the city, but when in the Workhouse they can be employed for the benefit of the city.

By Mr. Diamond, and adopted unanimously, the yeas and nays having been called—

"An ordinance reducing the pay of the police force, so as to increase its numbers, to take effect June 1, 1877."

Petitions.

From Decan, Zerega & Co., Agents for Roman & Pait, for cancellation of tax on capital.

Referred to the Administrator of Finance.

From George Brandt, for reduction of assessments.

Referred to the Administrator of Assessments.

The Council then adjourned.
