DAILY LEADER.

ANDERSONVILLE.

BY ROBERT H. NEWELL.
(CONTRIBUTOR LEADER.)

Where ramparts frown upon the wave,
That leap and crouch like hounds below,
And Ocean's hoary plant slaves
In sullen murmurs surge their woe,
With face upon his hands he sits
With broken heart and wand ring wits,
And starts at every gleam that flits
From the sea at his wind-swept:
For the sound in his ear is still
Andersonville!

Andersonville is the word from the sea to him,
There in his cell, in the casemate lone and dim.

The country's step upon the walls,
He hears; but not as mortals hear;
And closer with it seems to stalk
A ghastly thing from off a bier—
Something ever near the door,
To enter once, and then no more
Be vis tor upon the floor
Of the man it is sent to kill!
And the thoughts come quick and chill—
Andersonville!

Andersonville is the shadow of death to him.
There in his cell, in the casemate lone and dim.

Hours follow hours! on morn till night,
As grave on grave in silence creeps;
And earth with Life's twin brother wakes;
And earth with Death's twin brother sleeps!
And all in one dead horror blends,
That ne'er commences, never ends;
Eat through his broken spirit sends
With an awful and vengeful thrill,
That scene of his murderous will—
Andersonville!

Andersonville is the vision of Time to him,
There in his cell, in the casemate lone and dim.

Twirl forth and sky the banner glows;
And as the darkness wraps it round,
Its vague and stifled flutter grows
The life blood bubbling from a wound!
There! there! again she creature cries
For food; and mad with suffering dies
With his own head before their eyes
Who share in his every ill,
And there they bent over him still—
Andersonville!

Andersonville is the vision that maddens him.
Th re in his cell, in the casement lone and dim.

The moon swims slowly o'er the walls;
A damp, dead mirror of the sun;
And where her light all pallid falls
The waters colder seem to run;
It pierces through the dungeon gate,
To make ten thousand forms of hate
Grin ghastlier from each gran te plate
That armors him safely from ill!
And the hips in his ear is shrill—
Andersonville!

Andersonville is the dream of the night to him,
There in his cell, in the casement lone and dim.

Along the billows sweeps the gull,
Not lonely while she hears her wings;
And lonelier in the vapor dull,
The lark aneolliary sings
With face upon his hands he sits,
With broken heart and wandering wits,
And starts at every gleam that flits
From the sea at his window sill;
And the word to his soul is still
An ensonvil!

Andersonville is alone in the world with him,
There in his cell, in the casement lone and dim!

PHASES OF RECONSTRUCTION.

How Re-organization Progresses Under the "President's Plan."

[Special Dispatch to the Philadelphia Telegraph.]

WASHINGTON, July 28.

GEN. BUTLER SENT FOR.

General B. F. Butler has been sent for by the President, and will have an important duty assigned to him at once. The conduct of the annexatied, and the determination of the late open rebels to seize the reins of power in all parts of the South, show that the spirit of the rebellion still lives, and is fast assuming a shape of great danger in the future.

GOV. WELLS, OF LOUISIANA.

An examination into the conduct o Governor Wells, of Louisiana, shows that out of two hundred and fifty appointments made by him, there is not a single Union man; and of the most important positions five are conferred upon men who inaugurated secession, and signed the ordinance.

THE REWARD OF BRUTALITY.

Field, who assailed Judge Kelley last winter with murderous intent, has been made Attorney General of Louisiana. To have served with "valor and credit" in the rebel army is the main requisite for position.

Governor Wells refuses to carry out the acts of the new Constitution, whenever it conflicts with the old regime.

GOVERNOR PIERPONT.

In Virginia matters are much worse Governor Pierpont has attempted to conciliate the secessionists by conferring positions upon them of honor and profit, and turns a cold shoulder to the old Union men because they are in the minority.

All the recently elected officers are secessionists of the vilest hunt; most of them have been in the rebel army. There is not a spark of loyalty manifest; no evidence of regret for the past; no hope of any support for the Administration in the future.

GOVERNOR HOLDEN.

In North Carolina matters are somewhat better, but still bad enough. Governor Holden seems desirous of favor from the amnestied, and being himself a pardoned rebel, selects men of that stamp for office.

CONSEQUENCES OF THE RECENT POLICY.

Should these men succeed in grasping political control over the South, in keeping out Northern men and capital, and make laws to re-establish the old status of affairs with reference to the colored race, then slavery is virtually re-established with a ten-fold stronger hold than ever before. A political party will be created in the South that will consolidate all classes of the whites, and who will act with Northern traitors in Congress to repudiate the national debt, or to use threats of so doing to compel a recognition and adoption of either a part or the whole of the rebel debt.

THE REBEL DEBT TO BE PAID OFF.

Parties are now at work buying up rebel bonds and certificates, and who openly express their confidence that they will one day be paid off. The apathy and listlessness of the North is surprising under threatened dangers which are more alarming than the warlike movements of the South, to combat which millions of brave men sprang to arms. Now that the rebels intend to adopt, with serpent-like cunning, less bloody but surer means to cement their power over the Government, and re-establish a system of bondage on a firmer basis, nothing is heard but gentle tones of mercy and forgiveness, which, we will do the Southerners the credit to say, fall upon deaf ears and defiant hearts.

Signs and Tokens.

The following is from Puck, a new funny paper in California:

A long article having the above heading is going the rounds of the press, and has been for some time. Puck, thinking the old ones are played out, has manufactured some new ones; he being a supernatural being, is, of course, fully competent to do so.

THE GRIDIRON.—To take down the gridiron from the nail where it is hanging, with the left hand, is a sign that there will be a broil in the kitchen.

THE MIRROR.—If a mirror is broken, it is a sign that a good-looking lass will be missed in that house.

A FUNERAL.—To meet a funeral procession, is a sign of a death.

POCKET-BOOK.—To lose a pocket-book containing greenbacks is unlucky.

NAILS.—If a woman cuts her nails every Monday, it is lucky—for her husband.

ROOSTERS.—If you hear a rooster crow when you are in bed, and the clock strikes a few times at the same instant, it is a sign of mo(u)rning.

AN ITCHING EAR.—If you have an itching ear, tickle your nose and you will have an itching there, and ill luck will be averted.

SALT.—To spill salt accidentally into a stew while it is on the fire, is a proof that the family will meet with its alterations (salter rations.)

A CAT.—When a cat prepares to wash its face, it is a sign that one in the house will shortly receive a licking.

WARTS.—To have sixteen warts on the left hand, is unlucky; to have the same number on the right hand, is a sign that you are unfortunate.

SPIRITS.—If a married man, while his wife is in the room, takes up a bottle of spirits with his right hand, it is a sign that she will shortly be out of spirits, and that her husband is going to liquor.

STOCK RAISING.—If a one-eyed bull-dog flies at a stock raiser's legs, it denotes that a misfortune will happen to his calves.

BRIDAL.—If you get on horseback on Monday before the sun is up, it is a sign that you will have a hand in a bridal.

LUCKY.—To stroke a green-eyed cat with a white spot on her nose is lucky, and heavy purrs will be the consequence.

MARRIAGE.—If you are in a house and hear a baby cry, it is a sign of marriage—or if it isn't it ought to be.

RED HAIR.—If a red-haired man falls in love with a girl who dislikes hair of that color, he will very likely dye before he is married.

The above signs and portents may be strictly relied upon; they have never been known to fail.

JEFF. DAVIS HAS BEEN CAUGHT.

The war is now about played out,
Great changes have been wrought,
Our rebel boys are coming home;
Jeff Davis has been caught,
Huzza! huzza! now hang your banners out,
Huzza! huzza! let all the people shout.

The war the rebel chief was caught
In petticoats indeed;
He tried to run in petticoats,
But he did not succeed.
Huzza! huzza! hang all your banners out,
Jeff Davis has been caught, let every one now shout.

Our boys did think it very strange,
A woman should retreat
With a great bowie-knife in hand,
Until they saw his feet.
Huzza! huzza! our boys have got good sense;
Twixt gaiter shoes and stocking boots they know the difference.

Oh, crinoline, we think you fine,
For you would not conceal
The fleeing rebel President,
When he did show his heel.
Huzza! huzza! there's nothing half so fine
To show a foot and ankle oil, like well raised crinoline.

Your days are numbered now, old Jeff,
You surely cannot hope,
Or have a better end in view,
Than the end of a stout rope.
Huzza! huzza! Jeff Davis has no shoe;
In settling up all his accounts, just keep M crinoline view.

The boys who saw the skirts,
And treat them to a fine new suit
At ISAACS' UNION HALL!
Huzza! huzza! fling the starry banner out,
Our gallant boys are coming home, let all the people shout.

DEBILITY OR NERVOUS PROSTRATION.

He has succeeded in curing cases in this city, some of whom had expended hundreds of dollars with self-styled physicians, who pretend to treat all private maladies with success, and without receiving the least particle of benefit.

Dr. Gibson does not boast that he is a member of a College in Boston or Paris, as a pretense to some others do for the purpose of ensnaring the unfortunate, and also build on imaginary expectations, fewer to be realized. But what Dr. Gibson does say is this, that he is able to give entire satisfaction to those who may place confidence in his ability and integrity, and that he has perfected an American system of treatment which challenges any Physician of London or Paris, or any patent medicine, to equal for the radical cure of such diseases, as are treated by the Doctor, ailments, both mental and physical, arising from sexual or secret sinning.

Dr. Gibson also claims for his new treatment the following advantages over all other systems discovered—and first, the agents used are in no respect dissreputable; he does no relics of the dark ages, such as Mercury, or any other deleterious drug; secondly, no restriction in diet or business is required; thirdly, his treatment is positive and certain in all cases. He stands prepared to go into any publicist private hospital in the United States, and demonstrate the immense superiority of his new treatment over any other now known to the world, in point of promptness, permanency, boldness, safety and convenience to the patient.

Dr. Gibson is permanently located in Cleveland, and during the past five years performed many cures of the diseases which had for years resisted all other modes of treatment. References can be given if desired to any of the first respectability in Cleveland, Boston, New York and other cities. With regard to skill and integrity in all professional transactions—Dyspepsia, Rheumatism, Scrofula, all Diseases of the Urinary Organs, and all Chronic diseases treated with superior success.

Farmers, Drovers, Merchants, Lumbermen, Mechanics, Miners, Bankers, the rich and the poor, should ask themselves if the slightest Symptoms, or so-called Private Diseases, taint by lingering in their System, if so, they should apply in person, if possible; if not possible in person, by letter, and receive by return mail a blank circular of questions, which will enable any one to know positively just how they stand.

To the intelligent reader it is not necessary to publish the names of the many complications and forms assumed by this terrible scourge, yet it may be advisable to mention as most prominent Syphilis Primary, Syphilis Secondary, and Syphilis Tertiary, the latter involving the bones in its deathly action.

Every one should know, also, that many of the most obstinate and worst Ulcerated Throats proceed from this cause, and will, if not properly handled, ultimately result in loss of nose. Look to your true interest, and consult by letter, or apply at
