The World's Circulation Greater Than That of Any Other Newspaper Printed in the English Language.

New York, March 3d, 1894.

"After a thorough examination of the circulation books, press-room reports, mail-room reports, paper manufacturers' bills for amount of paper furnished, orders from news companies and newsdealers, we find that the average circulation of THE WORLD (morning and evening editions) for the months of January and February, 1894, averaged [illegible] copies per day, and so certify."
