TO DEFEND THE SUIT.

Mrs. Drayton Will Contest the Divorce Proceedings.

She Is Now Abroad, but Lawyer Shipman Speaks for Her.

He Says Drayton's Action Is Only a Retaliating Step.

Mrs. Charlotte Augusta Drayton, the daughter of Mrs. William Astor, is going to defend the action for divorce which her husband, J. Coleman Drayton, has brought against her in the New Jersey courts.

If the case ever comes to trial, which seems to be doubtful, according to the statements of Lawyer A. Shipman, of Temple Court, Mr. Shipman says he will represent the interest of Mrs. Drayton, who is now living abroad.

The action brought by Mr. Drayton, he says, looks very much like retaliation against his wife, who commenced proceedings last May in the Surrogate's Court of this city to regain the custody of her children, who are now in her husband's charge.

By bringing this suit for divorce on the statutory grounds and naming Hallett Alsop Borrowe as co-respondent, he hopes to obtain the permanent custody of the children by a decree of the Court.

Mr. Shipman is positive, however, that the case will not amount to anything, and, in fact, declares it is only a bluff on Mr. Coleman Drayton's part to attempt to bring his wife's family to terms. Mrs. Drayton, he says, can disprove every one of her husband's allegations of infidelity.

The legal time within which the answer to Mr. Drayton's bill in equity should have been filed was said to have expired yesterday, but this Mr. Shipman says is a mistake. Mrs. Drayton has until Oct. 6 to reply, but as she is now living abroad Mr. Shipman has not been able to communicate with her recently. She could have the case reopened after a decree had been granted.

The divorce suit is today the absorbing topic of conversation in social circles and at the fashionable uptown clubs, and the course taken by Mr. Drayton in thus reviving the scandal of two years ago, despite the request of the Astor family that the difficulties be hushed up and further publicity avoided, is severely criticised in some quarters.

Those related to the families of both husband and wife, however, refuse to discuss the matter, and have nothing to say to-day.

Besides, Hattie Applebaum Desired to Live Alone.

The Court Said She Must Go with the Mother Who Spanked Her.

"I was kept a captive, like a bird in the cage, and my heart yearns to be free," said Hattie Applebaum, who summoned her mother to appear before Justice Simms in the Essex Market Police Court today.

"Your Honor," the girl continued, "I was twenty-four years old yesterday, and I believe that I am old enough to distinguish right from wrong. My parents take great delight in keeping me indoors, and my nature rebels against it. I want to live alone and earn my own living. I am living with a young married couple, and my parents will not let me alone."

"What do you complain about?" asked Justice Simms.

"My mother and brother came to where I was stopping and treated me outrageously. My mother spanked me, while my brother seized my clothing and ran from the house."

The mother stated that she objected to the company her daughter was keeping, and that she did all in her power to make her life happy.

"Happy!" echoed the girl; "happy! You mean unhappy. Once I was in love with a young man who was anxious to make me his wife. My parents objected to the marriage, and, like a dutiful daughter, I obeyed them. They then moved into the wilderness of New Jersey, where they expected me to pass the Summer. What! I, a young girl of twenty-four, go to a place where there is no more life than there is in a cemetery? Oh, no; not I.

"Before my parents went to the country they brought a man to the house who they said they would like to see my husband. I never could take a liking to the man, and the more I saw of him the deeper became my hatred of him."

"My girl," said Justice Simms, kindly, "I believe the proper place for you is at home with your parents. You perhaps believe that other people are your friends, but you'll find, when too late, that you made a great mistake.

"Now go home with your mother and try to settle your little differences outside of court."

"I won't go home," said the girl.

"Well, I must decide in favor of your mother. I refuse to order her to surrender your clothing."

"Do you call this justice?" said the girl. "I don't; I call this injustice," and she left the court-room in great anger.

MISS FULLER WON'T SAY.

Refers the Question of Her Engagement to State Senator Cantor.

Friends of Senator Cantor are now satisfied that he is really engaged to marry Miss Lois Fuller, the dancer, at the close of her foreign engagements, which will last for another year.

"Ask Miss Fuller about it. She will tell you," the Senator said when asked if the announcement of their matrimonial engagement was true.

The question was put to the pretty dancer by wire while she was dancing at Amsterdam yesterday.

"The Senator is in New York. He will attend to it," she replied.

During Senator Cantor's trip abroad he paid marked attention to Miss Fuller, and since his return has eulogized her to such an extent that mutual friends looked upon it as a confirmation of the report.

He declines to confirm the announcement, and refuses to deny it. He is a widower, his wife having died some three years ago.

PUT POISON IN HIS MELONS.

It Cost the Life of a Farmer, His Son and Two Others.

(By Associated Press.)

MAGNOLIA, Ark., Sept. 7.—A sensational tragedy occurred near Dykesville, La., a small town just across the Arkansas State line, yesterday. Clinton Thompson, a farmer, has a fine melon crop. The raids of the boys became so frequent that the old man decided to put a stop to the depredations. He put poison in some of the finest melons and awaited the results. This morning his son, Felix; George Briges, a neighbor's son, and a man named Jacob Muir were found dead in the patch.

Briges's father discovered the dead bodies, and called Thompson out to show him the corpses. When Briges saw that Thompson had poisoned the melons and caused the death of his son, he drew a revolver and shot him dead in his tracks. The murderer escaped.

SHOT AND KILLED HIS RIVAL.

Love Led to Murder in a Missouri Town.

(By Associated Press.)

PARKVILLE, Mo., Sept. 7.—A. G. Veach shot and killed Charles Morris near Waldron on the eve of his marriage to Miss Jane Jones. Both men had been paying attention to Miss Jones. When Veach heard that Morris and Miss Jones were to be married, he procured a shotgun and going to the house of F. M. Kearns, where Morris was stopping, called the latter to the door and deliberately shot him. Morris died almost instantly. He was thirty years old and a widower. Veach is thirty years old. The murderer escaped to the woods. He is being diligently searched for, and if captured will doubtless be summarily dealt with.

MADMAN ATTACKS HIS WIFE.

Mrs. Adams Fatally Hurt by Her Fever-Stricken Husband.

(By Associated Press.)

ANDERSON, Ind., Sept. 7.—Mrs. William Adams is dying from injuries inflicted by her husband last night. In a fit of delirium, superinduced by fever, he leaped from his bed and bit, choked, pounded and dragged his wife for a half hour. A neighbor and two policemen finally overpowered the maniac and landed him in jail.

Mrs. Adams was choked into insensibility, and big pieces of flesh were torn from her face and arms. Her husband also demolished the household furniture and broke all the windows, after which he ran into the street, where he was captured.

TOOK AWAY WIFE AND GOODS.

Stefano's Handsome Boarder Broke Up a Happy Home.

The Injured Husband Only Cares to Get His Goods Back.

Sabatulo Cucho, twenty-nine years old, an Italian, was summoned to the Harlem Police Court this morning by Joseph Stefano, a laborer, thirty-three years old, of 63 East One Hundred and Thirteenth street.

Stefano wanted Cucho to return one dozen pillow cases, fifteen sheets, several quilts, a bundle of new socks and sundry other articles which he is said to have carried off when he left Stefano's house Aug. 29.

Cucho was not content with the linen and wearing apparel, but took Stefano's wife with him also. Stefano did not seem to care so much about the loss of his wife, but he told the Court he would like to have his goods back.

Stefano and his wife, Angelo Maria Guarano, who is said to be a beauty, lived happily together for several years. Six months ago he took in Cucho as a boarder. The latter is younger and much handsomer than Stefano, and a friendship sprang up between him and Stefano's wife, which ripened into a deeper feeling.

Stefano was unsuspicious, but when he came home from work Aug. 29 he found his house stripped of most of the movable goods and his wife missing.

He searched through Harlem's Little Italy, and found Cucho and Angelo living contentedly at 311 East One Hundred and Twelfth street. Cucho was held for examination.

KILLED BY A FLY.

St. Louis Child Swallowed the Insect While Laughing.

(By Associated Press.)

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 7.—Eugene Dickson, a child, swallowed a fly last Tuesday afternoon and died yesterday. He was playing in the kitchen and was laughing heartily when he swallowed the fly.

About an hour afterwards he became so ill that it was necessary to call a physician. Notwithstanding the efforts of the medical attendant the child grew worse very rapidly and died in terrible agony.

ROBBED BY A CLERK.

"Crow" Murray's Son Admits Stealing from His Employers.

His Peculations Said to Cover Five Years and Reach $15,000.

Arrested by Central Office Detectives at Sheepshead Bay.

William Murray, son of "Crow" Murray, a well-known Brooklyn sport and politician, was arrested last evening at Sheepshead Bay by Detective-Sergts. Heidelberg and McGinniss, of Inspector McLaughlin's staff, and arraigned this morning at the Tombs Police Court, charged with embezzlement.

Murray, who is twenty-eight years old, lived with his parents at 287 Bridge street, Brooklyn. He has been employed for the past eleven years as a clerk by the North British and Mercantile Insurance Company, of 54 William street.

The specific charge against the prisoner is that of obtaining $112.20 from William Tate, an insurance broker, of 58 Pine street, although Murray's stealings, which are said to cover a space of five years, are estimated at $15,000. An examination of the books are now being made.

The arrest was made on complaint of William A. Francis, the Company's resident manager, who had great confidence in Murray's honesty until a short time ago, when he became lax in his duties and was frequently absent from his desk.

Murray was arrested at the Central Hotel, Sheepshead Bay, after the close of the races. He admitted his guilt and said that the money had been lost at the races. He was surprised, however, to know that his stealings amounted to as much as they do.

Manager Francis was not in court when Murray was arraigned. When asked to plead Murray said he had nothing to say, and was held in $10,000 bail for examination.

WERE FALSELY ACCUSED.

Two Men Charged with Theft Are Discharged in Court.

Warren Freeman of 42 East One Hundred and Fifty-fifth street, and Henry Stapleton, colored, of 823 Columbus avenue, employed by John Timmins, of One Hundred and Twenty-fourth street and Eighth avenue, did some moving yesterday for Martin Bailey, of 7 East Thirty-first street. Mr. Bailey missed a pocketbook containing $10, and accused the men of taking it. They indignantly denied it, and went to the West Thirtieth street station, where they gave themselves up. In Jefferson Market Court yesterday Mr. Timmins appeared in court and paid a high tribute to the honesty of the accused.

Mr. Bailey said that he had watched the men from the time the money was missed until their pockets were searched, and he was sure that they could not have dropped the money without his seeing it. None of the money had been found on the men, and Justice Voorhis discharged them.

Alleged Shortage in Accounts.

(By Associated Press.)

CANTON, O., Sept. 7.—Retiring County Treasurer Mandro has been found $13,000 short, it is said. He claims it is an error, and has asked the Auditor of State to make an examination of the books.

ROBBED HIM AND FLED.

Fillico Has Another Italian Arrested on This Charge.

Dorato Petinelli and Joseph Fillico, two Italian laborers, of Perth Amboy, N. J. were present in the Tombs Police Court this morning. Petinelli as a prisoner, Fellico as complainant. Both men boarded together, and Petinelli is accused of decamping with clothing, watch and two rings belonging to Fellico.

Petinelli was held in $300 bail for trial.

Lesser of Two Evils.

(From the Chicago Inter-Ocean.)

"Did you take gas when you had your tooth pulled?" "No; went to a dentist that extracts them without pain." "Was it a success?" "Yes, sir; the preparation he used hurt me so much worse than the tooth pulling that I didn't notice it."
