ORIGINAL POETRY.

Life is not all ease and pleasure,
  Though we oft may wish it so;
Nor a calm and gentle river,
  With whose current we may go.

Life, for each one, is a battle
  With a stern relentless foe;
Be it poverty or sorrow,
  Wrongs untold or deeper woe.

Up then, warrior! seize thy weapons!
  Ever battle for the right;
Grasp thy sword and strike the foe-man,
  Trusting in a Higher Might!

Struggle on though sorely wounded;
  Thy Commander struggle too;
He was wounded, and for thee too
  Be the victor's crown in view.

Fear not lest thy strength should fail thee,
  Or the battle be too long;
His the arm that waits to help thee;
  Thou art weak, but He is strong.

Do not let thy courage falter,
  Or the spirit ever fail;
Thou art near the Great Commander;
  He will make the right prevail.

Fought the battle must be—none but
  Cowards wish to run away;
Striving for the right, thou knowest
  Victory soon must end the day!

ISLAND NOTES.

KOHALA, April 30, 1884.

Saturday, the 19th of April, three of Kohala's bright lights, including the proprietor of the Makapala Beer Saloon, were arrested for drunkenness, and disturbing the peace at said saloon.

Heavy thunder storm on Wednesday night, with slight repetition Thursday and Friday, with plenty of rain, which latter element will do something towards an offset for the low price of sugar, as it will give more of it.

On Friday last, we noticed a white man lying drunk by the road side in Halawa; the week before two men were seen in the same blissful state near the same place. Isn't this thing getting a little too common?

We are told that the estimate of sugar from this district next year will be about as follows: Judge Hart's Mill, 2,000 tons; Halawa, 700; Kohala, 1,800; Star, 1,000, and Hind's, 1,200. Of this amount the several planters will furnish as follows: Akina & Aseu, 600 tons; R. H. Atkins, 200; Thompson Bros., 1,300; Kynnersley Bros., 1,000; the rest being made up by the Mill's plant and that of the smaller planters. Of course some allowance must be made for unforeseen events, but from the present outlook it seems to be a fair estimate.

We notice that Mr. Kekipi is arranging one of his fields for irrigation. It seems strange to see such an experiment tried here where our great boast has been that we did not need anything of the kind. We shall watch for the results with considerable curiosity, and hope Mr. Kekipi will reap a suitable reward for his trouble and expense.

A small party of the friends of Messrs. Brodie and Holmes met by invitation at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ewart on Saturday, the 19th April, as a farewell to the gentlemen who are about to sail for Europe. As usual, a merry time was enjoyed, and a late hour found the participants reluctantly departing, after wishing the tourists a hearty God speed, and those of the district not at the entertainment say amen.

Chapin looks lonely now-a-days, and well he may, with the largest part of his family across the blue water.

Halawa Sugar Co. is said to be making the best grade of sugar in San Francisco market, not excepting Hutchinson, so dealers on the Coast say. It all goes to the refinery, where it is not refined but put on the market at a big advance.

Mr. Eassie, Engineer at Halawa Mill, fell from his horse and injured his arm, but the doctor says he will suffer no serious results as the injury is slight.

Our new sheriff is quite busy, and seems to be looking after things sharp. On Monday last he succeeded in having two men accused of arson (burning Mr. Sanderman's building) bound over for trial. Within the past few weeks we have had a murder, a suicide, two attempts at suicide, a case of burglary, a case of arson, several thousand street fights, and over a million of drunks, and our judge gets but a very small salary for the work his brain undergoes in finding them all innocent.

Lynch law is not a common thing in England; yet Justice does not suffer there. Public sentiment is strong enough for the right to give executive force to the laws of the land, and after a fair trial the guilty criminal speedily receives his deserts at the hand of the law he has outraged. The certainty of punishment is one of the best preventives of crime, and a safeguard that is needed in every community.

Bacon said that "reading maketh a full man," but Bacon appears to be oblivious of the fact that many other things are more often used than reading for that purpose.
