CZAR A PRISONER IN HIS PALACE AT PETERHOF

Fearing Death, He Never Leaves Grounds, and Guards Swarm Place.

ST. PETERSBURG, June 29.—An official denial is given of the report that the Emperor and court are leaving Peterhof and returning to Tsarskoe-Selo, owing to the discovery of a revolutionary plot among the palace servants. The report is officially accounted for by rumors following the retirement of Gen. Plesko, the Commandant at Peterhof, and the appointment of Col. Lermentoff, Commander of the Imperial Regiment of Uhlans, as his successor.

The former's retirement is stated to be due to purely private considerations, but several officers of his staff are indignant at the promotion of Col. Lermentoff over their heads and have asked to be relieved, giving rise to the report of the discovery of a revolutionary plot.

While the official explanations are regarded with suspicion, as it is beyond question that the Terrorists and Revolutionists are constantly attempting to gain a foothold in the palace, there is no cause to doubt the truth of the official statement that the Court has no intention of returning to Tsarskoe-Selo this summer.

Peterhof, in reality, is much safer for the Imperial family than Tsarskoe-Selo, being located on a gulf, enabling the Imperial yacht to be moored at a wharf two hundred yards from the palace, always available to convey the Emperor and his family to Finland, or some other place of security.

There is an elaborate system of wireless telegraphy connecting the palace at Peterhof with the fortresses of Cronstadt, Viborg and Helsingfors and with the warships in the gulf, thus insuring the Czar against being again cut off from the outside world, as he was during the telegraph operators' strike of last fall.

Since the revelations that disloyalty had invaded even "His Majesty's Own" Regiment (the Preobrajensky Regiment of the Guards) it is asserted here that nothing would be surprising.

Gen. Trepoff, Commander of the Palace, who is personally charged with protecting the safety of the Emperor's person, has redoubled his precautions. The garrison at Peterhof has been strengthened by a guard of Circassians, and the detachment of Cossacks about the Palace has been doubled.

The servants at the Palace, as heretofore, are the Emperor's faithful Mamelukes and Tartars, some of whom do not speak the Russian language. The Russian servants are confined for the time being to tried lackeys and valets, but among these the Terrorists have frequently boasted that they had spies.

Newsboys carrying sacks are forbidden to enter the grounds of the old Palace, to which the public is admitted, and no one is allowed within the walls surrounding the grounds of the small palace, where the Imperial family resides, without a permit.

Secret police by the hundreds, in civilian clothes, throng the parks and streets. The Emperor never drives out beyond the grounds of the small palace, and the members of the court are practically prisoners within its walls. The principal amusement is tennis, but all the customary gayety of court life has vanished.

WATCHMAN BEAT LODGE LEADER FOR NO OFFENSE

Wedding Guests Go to Court Against Special Officer.

The Herrenstadt, at No. 29 West One Hundred and Fifteenth street, is an old-fashioned residence which has been converted into lodge and assembly rooms. Last night was a big night. George Robinson, of No. 164 Melrose avenue, was getting married on the parlor floor, and Kaskel Lodge, No. 93, of the Independent Order of Free Sons of Judah, held a meeting on the second floor. When the meeting adjourned Frederick H. Ohlbaum, of No. 5 West One Hundred and Eighteenth street, President of Kaskel Lodge, came downstairs and stopped a minute to witness the wedding festivities. Naturally he wore no dress suit.

Morris Oestreicher, of No. 333 East Ninety-seventh street, is the special policeman employed at the Herrenstadt. He is a large, important man, doing his level best to live up to the dignity of a gray uniform and a neat German silver badge about the size of a beer sign. Presently this person bustled up to Ohlbaum and ordered him to get out. On the ground that he was simply waiting for other members of his lodge to come downstairs, Ohlbaum refused. Then the special policeman started in to throw him out. There was a mix-up, and the result was that Oestreicher dragged the resisting Ohlbaum to the East One Hundred and Fourth street station and had him booked up on the charge of disorderly conduct. Incidentally, he had pounded the struggling prisoner's face quite severely.

Today in the Harlem Court Oestreicher was a proud man when he appeared to testify against the battered Ohlbaum. He had just finished telling his story of how Ohlbaum had created a scene in the building and assaulted him to boot when there rose up several of the wedding guests, including Frederick Robinson, a brother of the bridegroom. These men had come to court voluntarily to testify that Ohlbaum had been insulted, attacked and arrested without cause.

Magistrate Wahle at once discharged Mr. Ohlbaum, telling him he was very sorry that he had been so mistreated and advised him to file charges against his assailant. Then the Magistrate turned to the surprised Oestreicher.

"A big brute like you has no business with police powers," he said. "I am glad that the Commissioner is about to take the badge away from a lot of special officers. You ought to be the first one to go. Now you get out of this court."

Shrinking visibly, Oestreicher departed. He may recover, but he'll never be the same man.

PRETZEL MAN DROPS DEAD.

Casper Weber, sixty-six years old, dropped dead today in the saloon of William Lawrence, at Gerry street and Harrison avenue, Brooklyn.

Weber for thirty years had been a pretzel salesman and was known to nearly every saloon-keeper in Williamsburg as "pretzely." He is said to have wealthy relatives in Manhattan.

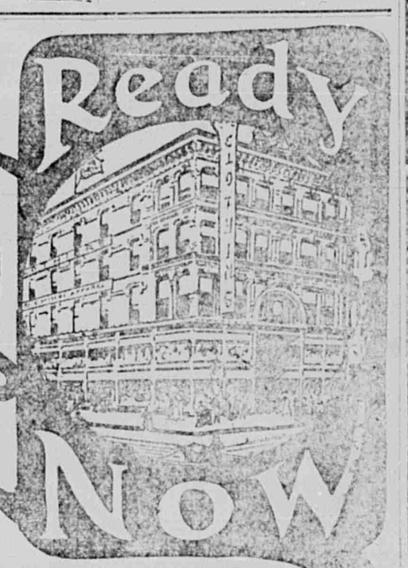
CAUGHT WITH THE GOODS

Ready NOW



Yes, just because the contractors miscalculated the time necessary to complete the new building in Brooklyn, thousands of dollars' worth of merchandise, made just for the Brooklyn store, has been left on our hands. Having figured on five months to sell this splendid lot of Apparel for Man, Woman, Boy and Girl, and with two of the biggest selling months already gone, we are forced to cut the prices on these already good values. You're lucky, because you not only buy these new, fresh and perfect goods at a tremendous reduction, but still have three of the best months left for wear.

In order to facilitate selling and give all our patrons the same chance of buying we have divided this merchandise between our three stores. As we are only equipped for selling Women's and Girls' wear at our Brooklyn Store, that will be the only place at which those goods can be bought.
