From New York.

President's Message Communicating General Grant's Report—Reduction in Naval Appropriation—Murder in New York—Man Horribly Burned—Rumors About the French Ministry—The Basis of Representation in Congress—Martial Law at Thomasville, Georgia.

NEW YORK, December 19.—The Post's Washington special dispatch says: The President's message, embracing the reports of General Grant, favors strongly an early restoration of all state Governments. It appears to have deeply offended some of the members when it was read in the Senate. Mr. Sumner rose and pronounced it only paralelled by Pierce's white-washing message on Kansas.

The Commercial's Washington special dispatch says: The President has sent General Grant's report on the condition of the South to Congress. It presents the result of the General's observations during his tour in the South, and is a highly favorable expression of great confidence in the good faith of the Southern people and their readiness to accept the issues of the war. The tenor of the report is favorable to the restoration to the Southern people of their full privileges of citizenship. The report has produced a marked effect here as great confidence is reposed in the General's judgment.

The Post's special says: The Committee on Appropriations have made a reduction of several millions from naval appropriations.

The Committee on the Bankrupt law have unanimously agreed to report Jenckes' bankrupt bill.

Dr. H. Otto Class stabbed a man named Carson, this morning, instantly killing him. The murderer was arrested.

Joseph Crawford was horribly burned by benzine, on Ann street, this morning, which took fire while being drawn from a cask. He ran into the street, all flames, presenting a horrible sight to the public, and was finally saved from being burned to death, by being rolled in the mud. The store was saved from burning, by the use of extinguishers.

The Washington special to the Post states that while the President was preparing his message the French Minister emphatically stated that the Emperor would much regret any expression in the message which would make it impossible to recede from his Mexican scheme without humiliation. The Minister also assured Mr. Seward the French troops would be withdrawn from Mexico in a little while, and asked for patience on the part of our Government.

It is reported that General Logan is satisfied there will be no difficulty, and that the Republic of Mexico will soon be peacefully reinstated.

The Judiciary Committee of the House have agreed to report, at an early day, an amendment to the Constitution, providing that the number of voters in the States shall form the basis of representation in Congress.

The steamship San Jacinto, from Savannah on the 14th, has arrived.

The Savannah Herald contains an order from colonel Bogart, putting the town of Thomasville, Georgia, under martial law, as the municipal government is unable to protect the slaves and the interests of its inhabitants, or to prevent the attempts at assassination of unarmed Union soldiers.

One J. A. Seward, and City Marshal Atkinson, of Thomasville, are to be tried by a court martial for violating an unarmed colored soldier.

Thirty-Ninth Congress--1st Session.

WASHINGTON, December 19—SENATE.—Mr. Wilson offered a resolution calling upon the Secretary of War for a detailed statement of the numerical strength of the regular army, the number of officers and men, where stationed and how employed.

The resolution was adopted.

Mr. Lane, from the Committee on Pensions, reported a bill to amend a bill of the last session, to include those who have served in the navy among those entitled to twenty dollars per month pension for the loss of both feet.

The bill passed.

Mr. Wilson introduced a resolution calling upon the Secretary of War for information as to the number of Major Generals and Brigadier Generals of volunteers now in the service, where stationed, how employed, etc. The resolution was passed.

Mr. Anthony called up the House bill for the adjournment of Congress from Wednesday next to the 9th of January, and moved Wednesday and the 3d of January, instead of the 9th.

Mr. Hendricks moved to amend Mr. Anthony's amendment by striking out 3d and inserting the 5th of January; on which motion Mr. Fessenden called for the yeas and nays; yeas 13, nays 28.

The question then recurred on Mr. Anthony's amendment, which was adopted, and the resolution as rendered was passed.

Mr. Trumbull gave notice of a bill to enlarge the powers of the Freedmen's Bureau, so as to secure freedom to all persons within the United States, and protect every individual in the full enjoyments of the rights of person and property.

A message from the President, in reply to a resolution of the Senate calling for information as to the condition of the late rebellious states, was read; also a report from General Grant on the subject of his late trip to the South.

Mr. Wilson introduced a bill the more effectually to provide for the national defense by establishing a uniform militia throughout the United States. It is his bill of February last, organizing the general militia system, and providing a military bureau of the government. The bill was referred to the Committee on Military Affairs.

Mr. Doolittle introduced a bill in relation to the Freedmen's Bureau, which authorized the President to extend and maintain a branch of that bureau in any State in which slaves have been emancipated by the operations of the war, or the amendment of the constitution, and also authorizes him to suspend its operations in or withdrawal of the military forces from the States in which he is satisfied that hostilities have ceased, the insurrection has been suppressed, peace and order restored, the civil authority established, and the laws so modified as to procure equal protection to all persons in all their rights, without distinction of race or color, including the right to make contracts, sue, and be sued, appear as witnesses, buy and sell real estate, and all the rights of property and personal liberty. It was referred to the Committee on Military Affairs.

Mr. Conness introduced a bill to amend an act for the disposal of coal lands and town property, which allows the right to enter one hundred and sixty acres of coal lands to any person actually engaged in coal mining, upon the premises, at the passage of that act, and fixes the price at twenty dollars per acre. A declaratory and descriptive statement of such lands and improvements is required to be filed within one year from the passage of this act, and proof and payment within one year thereafter. The bill was referred to the Committee on Public Lands.

Mr. Wilson offered the following, which was adopted:

Resolved, That the Secretary of War be directed to report, for the information of Senators, the number of men now in the service in the regular army, the whole number of officers holding commissions, where such officers are stationed, and what duty they are performing; said report to include cavalry, artillery and infantry regiments, and state the number of men and officers in each company, battery and regiment, and what number of enlisted men are actually fit for performing active service with their commands or elsewhere.

Mr. Trumbull gave notice of a bill to enlarge the powers of the Freedmen's Bureau, so as to secure freedom to all people within the United States and protect every individual in the full enjoyment of the rights of person and property and furnish means for their vindication.

Mr. Trumbull, in giving this notice, said: I desire to say it is given in view of the adoption of the Constitutional Amendment abolishing slavery. Whatever may be the diversity of opinion as to the actual adoption of the amendment at this time, in consequence of the abnormal condition of some of the Legislatures which have ratified it, there can be no doubt that it will soon, probably before the action could be had in Congress, have the sanction of a sufficient number of States to put aside its adoption beyond cavil.

I have never doubted that under the second section of the amendment, it would be competent for Congress to protect every person within the United States in all rights of person and property belonging to a free citizen, and to undertake the right objects of the bill I propose to introduce, I think it important that action should be taken on this subject at an early day, both for the purpose of quieting apprehensions in the minds of many friends of freedom, least by local legislation or a public sentiment in some of the States persons of the African race should continue to be oppressed, and in fact deprived of their freedom, and for the purpose of showing to those among whom Slavery has heretofore existed, that unless they, by local legislation, provide for the freedom of their former slaves, the Federal Government will, by virtue of its own authority, see that they are fully noticed.

Mr. Anthony offered a resolution, that until otherwise ordered, all papers relating to the question of representation of the States lately in rebellion, be referred to a special committee of fifteen.

Mr. Cowan objected to the consideration of the above, and it laid over under the rules.

Mr. Cowan said a message had just been received from the President in response to a resolution calling for information as to the condition of the States lately in rebellion. He called for the reading of the message.

[The President's Message, communicated to the Senate, with accompanying report from General Grant, are crowded out this morning. They will appear in our next issue.—ED.]

HOUSE.—Mr. Farnsworth, of Illinois, offered a resolution reciting the allegation that Mr. Harris, member from Maryland, had been convicted by a court martial of disloyalty, expressing sympathy with Jeff Davis, and saying that the assassination of Mr. Lincoln came too late, etc., therefore that the Committee on Elections be instructed to inquire into the facts, and report such action as may be proper, and, to aid such investigations, have power to send for persons and papers. The resolution was passed—127, against 21.

Mr. Washburn, of Illinois, from the Committee on Commerce, reported a bill to facilitate the postal of the States. Every railroad company is authorized to carry passengers and freight, and Government supplies and mails from one State to another, and receive compensation therefor.

Messrs. Washburne and Garfield advocated its passage.

Mr. Orth, of Pennsylvania, John Thomas, of Maryland, and Mr. Rogers, of New Jersey, opposed its passage; the last two arguing that this bill was a blow at their States.

Mr. Washburne said the bill was general, and applicable to all the States. The bill was passed.

Mr. Howe concurred in the Senate's amendment to the holiday amendment, and asked a Committee of Conference.

Mr. Wilson, of Iowa, from the Committee on the Judiciary, reported a joint resolution proposing an amendment to the Constitution forbidding the payment of the rebel debt. After debate, the proposition passed—149 against 11.

From St. Louis.

Steamboat Sunk—Apprehension Felt for Boats—Weather.

ST. LOUIS, December 19.—The steamer Roanoke sunk near Commerce. Total loss. She was valued at $25,000. Owned and insured in Pittsburg.

About a dozen boats are hard aground or caught in the ice between here and Cairo, and much apprehension is felt for their safety.

The weather is cold. No new movement of ice has taken place. Foot passengers crossed the river all day, and the mails are carried over by hand.

The steamer Commodore Tarranda, laden with cotton, sunk at the Alabama river the 14th. Boat and cargo total loss.

THE VERY LATEST.

THREE O'CLOCK A. M.

THE FENIAN SENATE.

NEW YORK, December 19.—The Fenian Senate in session, to-day, reported twelve resolutions in favor of Roberts as President, and three for O'Mahony.

The Fenians in New Jersey will hold a State Convention, to take action in regard to the quarrel.

PURCHASE OF FORD'S THEATER.

A dispatch from Washington says: Secretary Stanton has applied to Congress for an appropriation to purchase Ford's Theater; to be fitted up and used for custody of all papers relating to sick or wounded soldiers, and to hospitals and operations in the Medical and Surgical Departments of the army.

EPISCOPAL CHURCHES IN ALABAMA.

It is positively stated that the President, some time ago, restored all the Episcopal churches in Alabama to their proper occupants.

STANTON'S RESIGNATION.

The same dispatch says: Secretary Stanton has again tendered his resignation to the President, and this time, it is said, insists upon its acceptance.

BUTLER AGAIN BEFORE THE PUBLIC.

General Butler has prepared amendments to the act incorporating the army and navy asylum, desired by himself and other corporations. It is thought Congress will accept them.

THE INVALID CORPS.

General Grant is understood to oppose the retention of the remaining Invalid Corps officers in service. If any men are to be retained, he claims that the country should have service only of such as are able bodied.

FREEDMEN'S AFFAIRS.

General Saxton, Assistant Commissioner of Freedmen, for Georgia and South Carolina, gives a highly encouraging report relative to the condition of freedmen on the Sea Islands, along the coast. All kinds of crops produced are superior to those raised on the same ground by slave labor. The relations existing between whites and freedmen are still unsatisfactory, owing to the lack of confidence in each other, on both sides. In South Carolina over 8,000 negro children are attending school. The residence of Memminger, late rebel Secretary of the Treasury, is now occupied as a colored orphan asylum, in charge of the Freedmen's Bureau.

AFFAIRS IN NASHVILLE.

NASHVILLE, December 19.—It has been raining all day, and still continues. There is a prospect of a big rise in the river. The hight of the water on the shoals is eight inches, and still rising.

Chaplain John Lawrence has been appointed Judge Advocate to try cases of misdemeanor, in which the freedmen are implicated. Notice was served on Mayor Brown of his assuming that duty. This order is approved by the citizens generally, as the municipal regulations of this city make it a perquisite for officers to arrest people on suspicion of drunkenness, and negroes on all real and imaginary offences.

A Conscientious Demagogue.

The Philadelphia Ledger, (Rep.) speaking of Thaddeus Stevens' attempt to dictate to Congress, and domineer over the President, says:

In 1858, at the capital of Pennsylvania, he whipped his party followers into the wicked measure of attempting to set aside the election by the people, and foist upon the Commonwealth a minority candidate for Governor and a minority Legislature. There were three honest members of the same party with Mr. Stevens who refused to carry out these treasonable practices, viz.:

Messrs. Butler and Sturdevant, of Luzerne county, and Montelius, of Union county. The latter testified before the committee of investigation that he told Mr. Stevens that his "conscience would not permit him to sanction these corrupt proceedings." "Conscience, indeed," said Mr. Stevens, "throw conscience to the devil, and stand by your party." If the Congressional authorities at Washington follow such a leader, then we may well exclaim, "God save the Commonwealth!"
