proprietary medicines under a Latin name, charging for the written prescription three times the cost of the medicine, and do not hesitate to condemn that self-same medicine if it is advertised or mentioned by the public.

There are, however, many honest doctors who do not hesitate to openly recommend and prescribe such standard remedies as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.—Advt.

RUSSIA DEFEATED AT THREE POINTS, AUSTRIANS CLAIM

Petrograd Reports Czar's Offensive in Caucasus Makes Further Progress.

BERLIN, Aug. 29 (by wireless to Sayville).—The repulse of Russian attacks in the Carpathians and farther north, in the region of Mariampol, with large losses, is reported in the official Austrian announcement of yesterday, which follows:

"In the Carpathians, northwest of Kokul Mountain, we repulsed a Russian attack, inflicting heavy losses on the enemy.

"North of Mariampol a Russian advance yesterday evening ended in the complete defeat of the enemy. Everywhere the Russians were repulsed, partly by counter-attacks, and they left numerous prisoners in our hands.

"On the front of Field Marshal von Hindenburg the two von Tettenborn regiments frustrated Russian attempts to attack."

PETROGRAD, Aug. 29.—Repulse of Austro-German attacks in the regions of Toloty, Brzinin and Kozlitty was announced by the War Office to-day.

AUSTRIANS DRIVE ITALIANS FROM CAPTURED HEIGHTS

Take Back Position Near Cauriol Mountain After Terrific Counter Attack.

BERLIN, Aug. 29, (by wireless to Sayville).—Heavy fighting continues near Monte Cauriol, in the Cis Valley. The repulse of Italian troops which succeeded in penetrating temporarily the Austrian positions is reported in the official Austrian announcement of Aug. 28, which follows:

"Near Cauriol there was further violent fighting. A hostile attack failed under our artillery fire. In the evening a hostile detachment succeeded in entering our position on the summit, assisted by strong artillery fire. This morning the enemy was ejected by a counter attack.

"On the costal front, at Monte San Gabriele, and in the district of Novavas, Italian artillery kept up an active fire."

Woman Dead In Clump of Bushes.

Lying in a clump of bushes near Edgewater View Avenue between First and Second Streets, Bayside, L. I., early to-day, the body of Mrs. Annie Franfor, a housework, thirty-four years old, was found by Joseph Hemler, a newspaper man. Although there was an abrasion on the side of her head, Dr. Yerddy of Flushing Hospital said her death was due to her heart trouble. Mrs. Franfor lived in Bayside.

ROUMANIA'S INVADING ARMY OF 80,000 WINS ON AUSTRIAN FRONT

in France in meeting the new enemy in the Balkans. Despatches from Lausanne to-day said that the Teutons closed the Swiss frontier less than an hour after Italy declared war on Germany. The German General Staff knew this preceded a declaration from Roumania, and it is believed began shifting troops eastward to reinforce the Austrians several hours before news of the Roumanian declaration of war was generally known.

The first official statement reporting the capture of Roumanian prisoners came from the German War Office, indicating that German troops already are stiffening the Austrian lines along Roumania's frontier.

The whole Balkan war theatre has been set aflame by Roumania's entrance into the war. Several pro-ally demonstrations occurred in Athens when the news was received there early yesterday, and the Venizelist newspapers are renewing their demand that Greece enter the war.

Telegraphic advices from Berlin to-day indicated that Germany is watching the Greek situation with some anxiety.

VON MACKENSEN TO LEAD CAMPAIGN AGAINST ROUMANIA.

THE HAGUE, Aug. 29.—Field Marshal von Mackensen, who led the successful Austro-German campaign through Serbia a year ago, will be in command of the German-Bulgarian armies operating against Roumania, according to Berlin advices to-day.

The German Government is determined to push an aggressive campaign against Roumania, carrying the fighting to Roumanian soil early in the campaign, it was stated. Germany has known of Roumania's intentions for some time, the despatches added, and has has troops in position in the Balkans to strike swiftly.

The German General Staff plans to paralyze the Roumanians with a blow that will eliminate them as a factor in the war within a few months.

The Roumanian Minister to Berlin is leaving to-day on a special train. He sought a farewell interview last night with Chancellor von Bethmann-Hollweg, but the interview was refused.

Despite recent German assertions, Roumania has a tremendous store of munitions for a campaign against Austria or Bulgaria, according to Bucharest despatches to-day.

For the last three months the Roumanian munition plants have been operating day and night. All Teutonic employees were dismissed eight weeks ago when Roumanian leaders virtually decided upon war.

PARIS HEARS THAT BULGARS WILL NOT WAR ON ROUMANIA

PARIS, Aug. 29.—The Bucharest correspondent of the Petit Journal wires that he is informed that Bulgaria has decided not to declare war on Roumania, even though that country permits the passage through it of Russian troops.

President Poincare has sent congratulatory telegrams to the Kings of Roumania and Turkey upon the declarations of war issued by those two countries. Premier Briand sent similar telegrams to Premier Bratiano of Roumania, Premier Boselli and Foreign Minister Sonnino of Italy.

President Poincare's telegram to King Ferdinand reads as follows:

"At the time when the Roumanian people are answering the appeal of their oppressed brothers and entering resolutely upon a glorious war in which they find assurance of realizing their national aspirations, I beg Your Majesty to accept for himself for his noble country, France's most cordial wishes."

Premier Briand's message to Premier Bratiano reads:

"The entire French nation applauds the decision by which Roumania courageously takes its place among the defenders of the cause of right and of civilization. I am happy to send you, in the name of the nation and of the Government of the Republic, my heartiest congratulations."

"At the time when your noble country accomplishes this great act of liberation I do not doubt that our mutual efforts for the triumph of right and of civilization will assure the allies the victory which will permit Roumania to realize its national aspiration."

In his telegram to the King of Italy President Poincare said:

"The proclamation of war will make more close the alliance of the two countries and more intimate the fraternity of their armies. It will show clearly to the world that, having the same enemies the allied peoples have the same purpose—the reparation of right and the liberation of Europe."

FRENCH MAKE GAINS ON THE VERDUN FRONT

Progress Near Thiaumont Work—Germans Repulsed at Fleury and Vaux.

PARIS, Aug. 29.—On the Verdun front last night French troops made progress near Thiaumont work, the War Office announced to-day. German attacks in the vicinity of Fleury and Vaux Fort were repulsed.

"On the Somme, as at Verdun, we are leading in the offensive and dominating the adversary," says an official note reviewing last night's operations on the French front.

"There is not a point in the general theatre of operations where the enemy is not actually reduced to the defensive," continues the note. "Actions which we have undertaken continue despite the resistance or reaction of the enemy."

SAYS ALLIES RESERVE THEIR HARDEST BLOW

Gertrude Atherton, Returning, Declares That the Sombre Offensive Has Only Begun.

Gertrude Atherton, the writer, returned to New York to-day from a year of four months in France. She was a passenger on the Rochambeau from Bordeaux. Mrs. Atherton, during her stay in France, was furnished by the Government with an automobile and an escort and sent to the fighting front in the Vosges region.

"I passed over ground," she said, "both there and in northern France that has fled in the possession of the Germans. There is nothing left of the country but the ground. When the allies drive the Germans out of France I feel that the Germans will have nothing behind but desolation and ruin. They have been disappointed in their ambition to make the whole world German and they are destroying what they could not possess.

"The great offensive of the Allies," said Mrs. Atherton, "has not begun. The forward movement on the Somme is but a phase of the attack. When it is fully under war nothing can stand before it. The world has never witnessed anything so overpowering and terrible as this great blow at Germany which is soon to be launched."
